BIG GAME IN WINDY CITY

Wild, Wild Elks are Browsing Around.

Chicago's Pork Barrels Are Searched for Possible Signs of Spigots.

Hoofs Are Glad Next Meet is to be in Los Angeles, Says "Times" Writer.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, July 8.—Big game, heretofore almost extinct in Chicago, has grown very plentiful the past week.

According to the estimates of the municipal game warden, more than 250,000 wild, wild Elks are now browsing among the pork barrels of Chicago.

Here and there they have found a pork barrel with a spigot in it, which aroused a natural and wholesome curiosity on the part of the animals locating the same.

For a day and a half now I have been sitting here watching the Elks as they walk up and down the elevators and along the boulevards, that are gaily decked with bunting selected especially for the occasion.

UNDER FULL SAIL.

Chicago is now carrying more canvas than the Resolute and Shamrock combined. A stiff wind is blowing off the lake, and as the bunting flaps you can hear the old town creaking at her rigging.

This is a good rough-weather town, but it never before has shown so much speed in a gale.

Every hour a weary herd of Elks comes on the hoof along Michigan avenue. Each herd is preceded by a brass band, arrayed in purple and gold, and with excellent command of tone.

But for the artificial respiration applied by the bands it is believed many of the incoming Elks would drop dead in their tracks.

THE THIRSTY QUEST.

Finding the pork barrel to its hidden lair in basements and other underground places with low ceilings some of the Elks to grow humps on their backs, and it is beginning to look like a convention of camels, with here and there a dromedary.

The drinking pork barrel is now exceedingly hard to locate, even in spite of the birthplace of preserved pork by all its changing moods.

Parties of Elks have holes in the ground trying to find it underground. Others have stretched their necks from 6 to 8 feet in search of it among the camels and dromedaries, and one sees an occasional giraffe.

Much excitement prevailed for a time last night. It was caused by the sound of that drip, drip, which is supposed to wear holes in the hardest stone if given time.

The dripping was located on the roof of a well-known hotel. Fortunately, nobody was hurt in the crash downstairs. Keen disappointment followed.

LAKE MICHIGAN LEAKING.

The drip was found to be due to Lake Michigan leaking into the basement through a new crack. It didn't come from a pork barrel, as supposed. The crack in the bottom of the lake will be immediately calked so as to prevent false hopes being raised in the breasts of the visiting lushingtons.

Local inhabitants didn't join in the search on the cellar. They knew from experience that nothing of real value could be unearthed to drop through at two drips in one spot. Everybody here is glad that the convention will be held in Los Angeles, where there is no lake within 1000 miles.

HARVEST ARMY REAPS GRAIN.

Nation's Wheat Crop Speedily Being Reaped by 100,000 Farm Hands.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, July 8.—An army of 100,000 farm hands recruited and organized by the Department of Agriculture is moving northward across the western wheat belt harvesting the nation's grain crop in better time than in many years, according to reports today to the department.

Attracted by a wage of $7 for a ten-hour day, thousands of workers from Atlantic and Alleghany regions have gone west of the Mississippi River to join the harvest drive, according to department officials.

PLAN AIR MAIL LINE TO PACIFIC.

Government Has Proved Feasibility and Calls for Contracts.

BY ROBERT B. ARMSTRONG.
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, July 8.—Back of an innocent announcement of the Postoffice Department made public tonight is the moving of the west coast much closer to the Atlantic and annihilating of time in the delivery of the mails to California.

This announcement says:

"The Postoffice Department has issued a call for proposals for the operation of airplane mail routes under contract to supplement the transcontinental air mail service between New York and San Francisco, which will be operated by the department.

"In making the specifications to be complied with by the bidders of these contract routes, the department has been guided by its experience in the operation of the service during the past two years, and requirements are such as will admit of the employment of any modern type of airplane. Any modern airplane can easily perform the service."

It means much more than it says, for it spells the end of experimental stages in air transportation of mail. The details are contained in a printed circular much the same as the invitation for horse-drawn equipment to haul mails in the days before the horseless age changed things entirely.

Proposals will be opened September 10. The various sections of the transcontinental aerial route include the following: From Cleveland to Detroit, from Pittsburg to St. Louis, by way of Columbus, Cincinnati and Indianapolis, from New York to Chicago, by way of Pittsburg and Ft. Wayne. New York to Atlanta, by way of Washington.

MADE FIVE MILLION IN MAKING MATCHES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

AKRON (O.) July 8.—The estate left by Ohio C. Barber, the late match manufacturer, was appraised at $5,081,115 in an inventory filed in Common Pleas court here today. Mr. Barber held real estate in Ohio, Virginia, California, Florida, Georgia and North Carolina.

EXPORTS CONTRACTED.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

BUENOS AIRES, July 7.—Contraction of Argentine exports to the United States is evidenced by the continued release of gold to North American banks by the Argentine Embassy at Washington. The total amount thus released is now $43,820,000, representing equal deposits by North American interests with the government of Argentina.

Hobson Writes Insistently to Democratic Candidate for a Statement.

Bryan is Still Silent and Chagrined; Won't Declare Loyalty as Yet.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

DAYTON (O.) July 8.—Gov. James M. Cox, the Democratic Presidential candidate, today received a telegram from Richmond P. Hobson, Anti-Saloon League leader in Alabama, asking him for a strong statement opposing any effort of Congress to modify the Volstead Act to permit a greater alcoholic content in liquors. The Governor stated that he would answer the Hobson telegram in "due time."

The Hobson telegram follows:

"Dry forces are restive. Republicans amongst them are applying to Harding for strong statement. Do not let these forces have cause to crystallize the highest Republican candidates. Democratic convention declared nearly two to one against plank favoring even home manufacture of mildest alcoholic beverages.

NORMALLY DRY.

Ninety-five per cent of population of America live in States that have ratified Eighteenth Amendment without reservation. They are jealous of its integrity. Supreme Court has unanimous decision warned Congress against authorizing increase in alcoholic content. National officers of Anti-Saloon League here have asked me to get statement from you. They state Harding voted for Volstead. Could you give me clear statement of your being opposed to Federal authorization of increasing alcoholic content. This would save to democracy millions of voters who hold this question above party success."

Many other telegrams of congratulation also were received by the Governor overnight. He was especially pleased with the one from Senator Reed of Missouri, which came today.

Others were from Senators Owen and Gore of Oklahoma, Ambassador Wallace at Paris, William F. McCombs and many other prominent Democrats.

The Governor said that he expected during the day to receive word from Franklin D. Roosevelt and members of the national subcommittee will be here to confer with him concerning notification plans.

Gov. Cox left at noon for Jacksonburg, O., his boyhood home, to take a little rest. He expects to return to his home this evening. Newspaper men accompanied him.

BRYAN SILENT.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

PORTLAND (Or.) July 8.—William J. Bryan, in Portland for a few hours today, declined to make a statement as to whether or not he would actively support the Democratic ticket this fall. Mr. Bryan refused to discuss the candidates nominated in San Francisco.

Mr. Bryan said he intended taking his time deliberating about any statement he might make regarding supporting the ticket. Mr. Bryan was to begin a Chautauqua engagement today.

Carried Money in Her Stocking; Will Lose Leg.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PLYMOUTH (Ct.) July 8.—It did not avail Miss Ella McWoodson anything that she saved her money from pickpockets by carrying it in the "Isle thread bank" for now she will have to give it to surgeons for amputating her leg.

Blood poison has set in, and physicians have told her that the only way to save her life is to part company with the badly infected leg.

She admits that for a long time she had been carrying her paper money in her stocking, next to the skin. Physicians say these bills, frequently handled by persons with filthy hands, undoubtedly were alive with deadly germs and these were transmitted to the wearer.

"MILLIONAIRE CREW" TO TAKE STEAMER HOME.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, July 8.—The "millionaire crew" which brought the Scandinavian-American liner Frederick VIII here two weeks ago, rolled up to her Hoboken pier in taxicabs and limousines today, went back to stokehole and forecastle and started back home with the vessel—the first to sail for Copenhagen in five months.

The crew, members of some of the oldest and wealthiest families in Denmark, enlisted for service during the Copenhagen harbor strike, and although the walkout ended shortly before the vessel sailed for America, they stuck to their jobs. They asserted they enjoyed their two weeks' vacation ashore, two going as far as San Francisco.

FETE TO HONOR OBREGON.

Border Citizens at Nogales to Unite in Giving Barbecue to Mexican Chief.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NOGALES (Ariz.) July 8.—The Chamber of Commerce of Nogales, Sonora and Nogales, Ariz., are preparing for a barbecue to be given Sunday in honor of Gen. Obregon, candidate for the Presidency of Mexico, and president of the Nogales Sonora Chamber of Commerce, who is here visiting his family.

The affair will be held at Casita, located on the line of the Southern Pacific of Mexico Railroad, thirty miles south of Nogales.

More than 5000 invitations have been issued to the barbecue and a number of special trains will be run from the border to the barbecue grounds. Gov. Campbell of Arizona, who will attend the barbecue, will deliver an address on behalf of the Chamber of Commerce of Nogales, Ariz. A number of other prominent citizens will deliver speeches pertaining to the commercial relations between the United States and Mexico. Regarding conditions in Mexico, Gen. Obregon said this morning:

NOT SURPRISED.

"Dispatches to the effect that there is disquiet in several States do not surprise me. I have information to the effect that the military commanders, responsible for the so-called revolutions, are men who have been performing dishonest acts. Troops under command of officers of the provisional government have taken to the field against these so-called rebels who in all instances have taken to mountain retreats.

"Nearly all of the generals leading small bands of troops revolting against the present Mexican government, were close adherents of the late Venustiano Carranza."

TO RESUME CAMPAIGN.

Gen. Obregon, who is visiting here with his wife and family stated that he would remain about ten days and would then go to Mexico City and resume his political campaign, through the southern States of Mexico, as far south as Yucatan.

Many business men and committees from various civic organizations throughout the United States are daily arriving at Nogales, Son., to confer with Gen. Obregon in regard to investments for the development of Mexico's resources.

Obregon, who is stumping his country, having as a slogan "Better commercial relations with the United States and other foreign countries," makes a profound impression on his business interviewers, the majority of whom leave for financial centers to perfect whatever deals they have in mind.

Although several thousand Yaqui Indians, who have been in the ranks of the Obregon army during the past few months, have returned to their homes in Sonora, the West Coast States are enjoying more peace than has existed in several years. The pacification of the Yaquis is one of the most notable achievements ever accomplished by Obregon.

For years past many parleys have been held between the Mexican government officials and the Yaquis, but at no time has the tribe in its entirety accepted the tribue in its government as is now being done at the request of Obregon. There is a practical understanding between the Yaqui chieftains and the provisional government against rebellion, which is responsible for the activity in mining and agriculture in Sonora and Sinaloa.

The United States Treasury Department figures that an export and import business amounting to more than five million dollars monthly, has been done through the port of Nogales since May 1.

NO PEACE IN MEXICO —BONILLAS.

Former Mexican Ambassador to United States Thinks New Outbreak Certain.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, July 8.—A conflict of irreconcilable elements that makes up the present regime in Mexico is certain to break out in the near future, Ignacio Bonillas, former Mexican Ambassador to the United States, declared here today in discussing Mexican affairs and the recent revolution.

"The great mass of people of Mexico are tired of revolution and military rule," the former Ambassador said. "They greatly desire peace and a government of civilians, as other modern nations do. The Obregon coup was purely military.

"Obregon himself knew that the people were overwhelmingly in favor of a civilian as President and he tried to win this support by putting aside his military rank.

"The present regime in Mexico is made up of heterogeneous elements that cannot be reconciled for long. The prompt elimination of Gen. Pablo Gonzales by the Obregonistas after they had used him to precipitate the coup that ended in the killing the President, is an indication of what will come."

SEARCH MADE FOR ELWELL'S "PAY ROLL."

EVIDENCE DISCLOSED THAT MURDERED TURFMAN PAID TWO WOMEN MONTHLY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, July 8.—Search for a "pay roll said to have been kept by Joseph B. Elwell today marked a new turn in the District Attorney's investigation into the mysterious murder of the wealthy turfman and whist expert here last month.

Evidence that the turfman had been paying one woman $50 and another $100 a month, is being investigated.

Asst. Dist.-Atty. Talley related today some of Elwell's tips on how to handle women as told him, he said, by the horseman's trainer.

One of Elwell's tactics, according to the story related to Talley, was to hold aloof from a woman he particularly admired. Then he would tell other women how much he liked her and continue apparently to avoid her.

"This invariably brought the woman he wanted to the point of seeking him," Talley added.

SHOWDOWN TO TEUTONS

"Yes or No" is Demand of Allies.

Spa Conference Says Definite Answer Must Come by Noon Today.

Discovery of Hidden Aircraft Brings Suspicion Into Play.

SPA (Belgium) July 8.—The joint Allied-German conference on the terms of the peace treaty reached another critical point today.

The Germans have until noon tomorrow to say whether they will accept the Franco-British plan of disarmament. The alternative is the specific threat that the Allies will occupy the Ruhr or other territory if Germany cannot or does not accept.

The German Cabinet, of which seven of the nine members are here, held a long meeting at which no decision was reached and the council adjourned until tomorrow.

OVERSTEP TERMS.

The prevailing view among the Germans was that the Allies had carried their demands, particularly the menace of occupying further German territory, much beyond any provision of the Versailles treaty and also that the Allies are taking an aggressive position not contemplated by the treaty.

The Allied disarmament note was communicated to Berlin at Chancellor Fehrenbach's request, with the direction that it be submitted to the Reichstag and to the leaders of all the parties.

Herr Fehrenbach asked for the view of the Reichstag and the party leaders, but said that the decision would rest with the Cabinet at Spa.

Private negotiations are reported going on between Premiers Lloyd George and Millerand, on the one hand, and Dr. Simons of the Germans, but this could not be established.

FINAL DEMANDS.

The final decision of the Allies set forth that Germany must:

First, immediately disarm certain of its forces, including the security police.

Second, publish a proclamation asking for the immediate surrender of all weapons and firearms in the hands of the civilian population.

Third, abolish immediately compulsory service.

Fourth, surrender to the Allies of all arms, guns and cannon above the limit fixed by the Treaty of Versailles.

The Allied decision reads: "If, on October 1, the German army is not reduced to 150,000, the Allies will proceed to occupy German territory in the Ruhr or any other part of German territory, and will not evacuate it until all the conditions of the present agreement have been fulfilled."

CALL BUSINESS MEN.

Chancellor Fehrenbach, Dr. Simons, Foreign Minister, and Herr Gessler, Minister of Defense, left the conference in an agitated state. They looked grim when they arrived at German headquarters in a little hotel in the pine woods. The Chancellor immediately called a meeting of the German Cabinet.

Telephonic communication was opened with Berlin and the substance of the Allied decision communicated to the Foreign Office with instructions to have Ministers Koch and Raumer call together some of the leading German men in public life, consider the Allies' demands and later inform the German Cabinet here of their point of view.

A German official coming from the Cabinet room said that this council probably would not reach a decision upon the reply to the Allies, but would be followed by another tomorrow.

HIDDEN AIRPLANES.

Premier Lloyd George said that after the three days of discussion on the question it must be closed immediately. The treaty had not been executed, he asserted, and instead of 100,000 rifles there were 2,000,000 in Germany, and six times as many machine guns as the treaty allowed.

The Allies had not insisted on strict execution of this clause of the treaty, Mr. Lloyd George continued, because they recognized the difficulties Germany was encountering. The discovery of hidden airplanes and aircraft material, however, had caused suspicion.

ADVANCE CONTINUES.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

WARSAW, July 8.—Bolshevik troops have crossed the Beresina in strong force near Navosielki, southeast of Borisov, about fifty miles northeast of Minsk, it was announced today in a Polish official communique.

POLES FALL BACK.

The Bolsheviki in their advance in Volhynia have reached the Klewan Railroad Junction northwest of Rovno. The Poles are withdrawing before the northwesterly drive of Gen. Budenny's cavalry, in some places reaching the old Russo-German fighting line. The banks of rivers along this line are cobwebbed with barbed wire and the hillsides are zig-zagged with the trenches, while various elevations are dotted with German-built steel and concrete pill boxes. It is expected that the Poles may make a stand along this line.

BRITISH SHELLED.

Northwest of Rovno, a train to which was attached the private car of Gen. Wiart, chief of the British military mission, was shelled by Budenny's artillery. Five Polish refugees on the train were killed and the British general's car was

GEN. WOOD WILL AID IN CAMPAIGN FOR HARDING.

Confers With Republican Candidate at Marion; Bull Moose Adherents to Support Senator.

BY D. W. SULLIVAN.
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, July 8.—Maj.-Gen. Leonard Wood, defeated by Senator Warren G. Harding for the Republican Presidential nomination "will go the distance" to bring about the election of his successful rival.

Assurance of this was given today following a series of conferences between Gen. Wood, several of his former lieutenants and Will H. Hays, chairman of the Republican National Committee.

Following these conferences Gen. Wood left for Marion, O., where he will confer today with Senator Harding.

The exact nature of Gen. Wood's activities during the campaign will be determined at this conference between the former rivals and a statement from Gen. Wood will be issued telling his plans for the campaign.

Among the Wood leaders who participated in the conferences were R. B. Howell, national committeeman from Nebraska, and Harry Hagan, who managed the Wood campaign in Indiana. The Wood lieutenants were as hearty in their assurances of support for Senator Harding as the general himself.

During the day Gen. Wood paid two visits to the headquarters and in addition spent two hours with Chairman Hays at luncheon at the Chicago Club. The general said he had no statement to make at the present time, explaining:

"I will confer with Senator Harding," he said. "After that conference I will have a statement."

ISSUE IS CREATED.

National Committeeman Howell, who was one of the supporters of the general, issued a statement assailing the Democrats.

"A big, overwhelming, predominant issue was created and emphasized by the Democratic National Convention at San Francisco when it gave unqualified indorsement to the acts and policies of the Wilson administration. The record thus approved covers a period of governmental incapacity, waste and extravagance unparalleled in the history of the republic.

"Refusing to accept as a standard-bearer any Democrat directly concerned or identified with the administration—refusing McAdoo, or Palmer, or Colby, declining Marshall and spurning Nabraska's candidate, Hitchcock, Carter Glass and all other leading exponents of the present regime—the San Francisco convention in an obvious effort to divert attention from shortcomings of the administration, presents as a candidate a State leader supposedly freed from administration taint and absolved of its sins of commission and omission.

"Such glory as attached to this undertaking is ascribed and freely given to the men who controlled the San Francisco convention and contrived the nomination—Murphy, Brennan and Taggart. Let the glory be theirs!

"But the country is not deceived. Undoubtedly, these leaders intended that their candidate should typify anti-administration Democratic feeling and sentiment, but he cannot escape commitment to a pro-administration platform and the unqualified indorsement of all the administration's acts. He must rise or fall by the record made at Washington, and fall he will."

MICHIGAN FOR HARDING.

Former Gov. Fred D. Warner of Michigan, newly-elected national committeeman from that State, also conferred with Chairman Hays.

"There is no question about how Michigan will stand," he said. "I have sent out letters throughout the State and got from 700 to 800 replies. All are favorable to the Harding-Coolidge ticket. I will not be surprised at a 250,000 Republican plurality."

Mr. Warner said he did not believe that the Newberry case or the wet and dry issue would cut any figure in Michigan.

"As for the third party talk, that died with the Johnson statement," he said. "The Johnson men in the State are all in line. They are satisfied with the conduct of the Michigan delegation, which stuck to its instructions in the national convention."

Chairman Hays took up the Missouri troubles during the day. The revelations concerning the expenditure of the Lowden campaign fund in Missouri have produced demands from some of the Republicans of the State for the ousting of Jacob L. Babler as the Missouri national committeeman. These demands have been presented to the National Committee by a body known as the Sedalia committee. The conference today on the Missouri tangle was informal. Those who were present were Senator Spencer, Mr. Babler, Judge Matt G. Reynolds and David Procter.

The Missouri situation was discussed in detail, and it was finally decided to postpone a settlement until another conference with the Sedalia committee in St. Louis.

Reports that the National Committee was trying to force the resignation of Babler were denied.

NORTH DAKOTA IN TANGLE.

The North Dakota tangle where it appears that the Nonpartisan League candidates have won at the Republican primaries will be taken up today. Gunder Olson, Republican national committeeman from the State, will confer with Chairman Hays.

T. Coleman Dupont, chairman of the committee which is to notify Senator Harding of his nomination, Harry B. Daugherty, the Harding campaign manager, and L. W. Henley of Indiana left for Marion tonight to make the arrangements for the notification ceremonies on July 22. They conferred with Chairman Hays today, but it was

FORESTS ARE AFIRE IN NORTH.

Sweeping Through Lassen Reservation; Thirty-two Conflagrations.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 8.—A line of blazing timber nine miles long is sweeping toward Cassel, a settlement in the Hat Creek district of the Lassen National Forest in Northern California, today, but the United States Forest Service expected that the fire would be under control before it reached the settlement, according to a report received by the service headquarters here.

The fire is in the yellow pine, near the Lassen lava beds, and is being fought by seventy-five picked fighters. It started July 4 from unknown causes.

The weather was reported to be hot and dry. At last reports the fire was within three miles of the town, but was said to be fairly under control.

THIRTY-TWO FIRES.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

RED BLUFF (Cal.) July 8.—Thirty-two separate fires are sweeping through national forests in Northern California, but only two are threatening any widespread destruction, E. F. Hammatt, assistant United States District Forester, announced here today.

One is at the head of Dillon Creek, near the summit of Siskiyou Mountains, which is an inaccessible portion of the Klamath forest. There are no trails to the fire zones and it has been found impossible so far to send fire-fighting crews to combat the flames. Another is three miles east of Cassel, in the Fall River Valley timber and brush district. It was expected that this fire would be controlled before night.

Forest Supervisor C. E. Dunston flew from Red Bluff to Cassel in a forest service patrol airplane today to direct the fire fighters there.

The Red Bluff forest service air patrol announced today that it had detected 182 fires since May 1.

NOGALES (Ariz.) July 8.—Forest fires, which broke out in five different sections near here today, caused the thermometer to climb to 130 deg. in the shade, the highest mark ever recorded at Nogales.

SANTA CRUZ (Cal.) July 8.—Forest fires have been burning for two days between Bean and Zyante Creeks, the main blaze being on the Box Ranch. A man arrested today is held as a suspect in connection with the setting of the fires.

Local forest officials were advised last night that a fire had broken out in Mint Canyon, in the Santa Barbara Reserve.

Wireless reports to March Field, at Riverside, from the airplane observer, indicated that the blaze was not yet great in extent, and that no property was in danger. Forest Supervisor Sloan, of the Santa Barbara Reserve, was also informed by telephone of a fire in Castaic Canyon.

"Rent Angel" is Sentenced for Embezzlement.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, July 8.—Characterizing Mrs. Alice J. Cavanaugh as a "scheming, cold-blooded, calculating thief" Judge Grubb today imposed a sentence upon the woman for not more than ten years and not less than five years in Auburn State prison.

Mrs. Cavanaugh was charged specifically with defrauding tenants of 970 Prospect avenue, the Bronx, of $2197.50 entrusted to her by Morton Behr.

There were three indictments against Mrs. Cavanaugh at the time. Asst. Dist.-Atty. Israel J. P. Adler-man conducted the prosecution.

Mrs. Cavanaugh, who bore the cognomen of "rent angel" of the Bronx, obtained the money from tenants oppressed by profiteering landlords on the plea that she would prevent their eviction and secure them at the old rate of rental.

PROGRESSIVES FOR HARDING.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

MARION (O.) July 8.—Walter F. Brown of Toledo, Bull Moose chairman in Ohio, in 1912, and now a candidate for United States Senator in the August primaries on the Republican ticket, assured Senator Warren G. Harding today that the former Roosevelt men all over the country would support the Republican national ticket next fall. Mr. Brown and Senator Harding held an hour's conference over the national situation and the Senator seemed greatly pleased at the outlook.

In proof of his claim that the Roosevelt strength would go to Harding and Coolidge, Mr. Brown told of a private dinner which was given at the Harvard Club in New York a week ago tonight. This dinner, he said, was arranged by Thomas Chadbourne of New York and himself. About twenty-five men were present and pledged support to the Republican nominee.

Mr. Brown gave names as among "those present:" Will H. Hays, William Hamlin Childs of New York, E. A. Van Valkenburg of Philadelphia, Laurence F. Abbott of New York, Maj. S. R. Hooker, David C. Goodrich of New York, Alexander Moore of Pittsburg, Porter Emerson Browne of New York, James R. Garfield of Cleveland, Theodore Roosevelt.

Messages pledging support, he said, were received from Elon H. Hooker of New York, former Senator Albert J. Beveridge, Gov. Henry Allen of Kansas, William Allen White, John C. Schafer and Irwin R. Kirkland of Kansas City.

"Mr. Hays and I spoke," said Mr. Brown. "I personally took responsibility of the action in indorsing Harding and Coolidge. I had been in close touch with Senator Harding and told him all I knew."

Mr. Brown said that the third party movement would not change a single electoral vote.

"I know something of the difficulties of getting an electoral ticket nominated in all the States," he said, "and I see no chance except possibly in Wisconsin, if La Follette should be nominated. And I would be amazed if he should accept that nomination.

"In Ohio such a movement, I think, would draw more votes from the men who might vote for Cox than those who would support Harding. I have talked with a good many of the leaders of the old Bull Moose party and have come in touch with the rank and file, and I believe they will support Harding. I told the Senator that today."

Mr. Brown said that Charles S. Hatfield of Bowling Green would manage his campaign for the Senatorial nomination.

BELIEVES COX WEAK.

Newton B. Miller of Columbus, manager of the Senatorial campaign of former Gov. Frank B. Willis, was another Harding caller. He said he considered Cox a weak candidate in Ohio for the Presidency. The nomination of Cox was a disappointment to Willis, Mr. Miller said, as Willis had expected to cross swords with Cox this fall for the Senatorship.

"It was an open secret," said Mr. Miller, "that Mr. Pomerene, State Democratic nominee for the Senate, would withdraw in the event of Cox failing at San Francisco. That Cox did not expect to win the Democratic nomination was evidenced by the plan to nominate a stalking horse for Senator, with the understanding he would withdraw after the primary and the vacancy be filled by the Democratic State Central Committee, the plan being to select Gov. Cox.

"All familiar with the circumstances and events of 1916 and 1918 know that Willis was the victim of unfair, vicious methods and that Cox's success in each instance was due, not to his merits or popularity, but to high-handed tactics of special interests, the same sort of interests which, according to William Jennings Bryan, championed his cause at San Francisco. On a straight-cut issue of fundamental principles, safe and sane legislation and America first, the friends of Willis are satisfied he could defeat Cox overwhelmingly and now, with Cox heading the Democratic ticket, there is already evidence that the rural vote will be especially arrayed against him."

FOR INTENSE CAMPAIGN.

E. Mont Reilly of Kansas City told Senator Harding that he would carry Missouri and Nebraska. He said that Republicans everywhere who had heard Senator Harding speak were anxious for him to leave his front porch and come out before the people. Chairman Hays is expected here tomorrow or Saturday and may spend Sunday with the Senator.

Senator Albert B. Cummins wired from Des Moines today that he would arrive here Saturday evening for conference.

Senator Harding wired Senator Johnson today a message of appreciation of his act in coming out in support of the Republican ticket. He did not make the message public.

This is the twenty-ninth anniversary of the wedding of Senator and Mrs. Harding. He spent it in work. Word came today that another baby had been named after the Senator. The baby is the son of F. A. Leberman, circulation manager of the Harrisburg (Ill.) Register. The printers' chapel of the Register took the liberty of naming the boy.

ASSERTS ESSENTIALS MUST HAVE PRIORITY.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, July 8.—Priority of service for the more essential commodities is necessary to relieve the present transportation congestion on the railroads, Daniel Willard, chairman of the advisory committee of the Association of Railway Executives, declared today before the Interstate Commerce Commission.

"I do not think it will be necessary to wholly curtail the movement of any particular kind of business," said Mr. Willard. "I do think it will be necessary for a time, however, to give preference to certain particular kinds of business more important than others from the public standpoint."

Mr. Willard pointed out that the commission had the emergency authority under the transportation act to order such priority of service.

Another means of relieving the situation suggested by Mr. Willard was greater co-operation on the part of shippers in releasing cars quickly.

TEXAS PLAGUE FIGHT GROWS IN INTENSITY.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

AUSTIN, July 8.—Eight cases of bubonic plague have developed and three of the victims have died to date at Beaumont, the State Health Officer announced here today. At Galveston there have been three cases of plague, with two deaths resulting so far, he added.

The health director declared 20 per cent of all rats killed at Beaumont are infected with bubonic plague, which he considers a "decidedly heavy rate." Considerable progress is being made in the extermination campaign at the Texas ports, the health director said, but added that 15,000 more traps are needed at Beaumont, where State and Federal health forces are being increased daily.

VOTERS MAY DECIDE SITE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ATLANTA (Ga.) July 8.—The Georgia Senate today adopted a resolution providing for submission to the voters of a proposal to move the capitol from Atlanta to Macon. It goes to the House.

DETROIT, July 8.—[By Associated Press.] Senator W. G. Harding, Republican Presidential candidate, will be unable to address the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Tidewater Congress, which opens here July 12, owing to the pressure of his campaign plans, he telegraphed tonight. An invitation was also extended Gov. Cox, Democratic Presidential nominee.

Polish Veterans in Buffalo Plan to Answer Call.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

BUFFALO, July 8.—More than 1000 Polish veterans of Buffalo, it is estimated, will answer the call of President Pilsudski of the Polish republic for volunteers for immediate service against the advancing armies of Bolshevik Russia.

Officers of the Polish army who belong to the Buffalo Polish Veterans' Association planned to meet tomorrow night to consider a possible call of all Polish reservists in America for service in Europe.

GIRL SIGNS WEDDING CONTRACT BY FRAUD.

LOS ANGELES MINOR HAS HER MOTHER ASK ANNULMENT; HUSBAND IS GONE.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BOSTON, July 8.—Miss Julia Burton Thorne of Los Angeles, formerly of Dallas, Tex., a minor, by her mother, Mary C. Thorne, has brought a bill in equity in the Supreme Court against Edward Regal of Boston in which she seeks to have declared null and void a marriage contract between herself and Regal on the grounds that her signature thereto was obtained by fraud and misrepresentation.

Miss Thorne first met Regal when he was stationed at a military camp in Texas, not far from her home. She says he repeatedly asked her to marry him, but at no time did she promise to do so.

On June 1, 1919, while Miss Thorne was stopping at a hotel in New York City, Regal joined her at lunch. He renewed the subject of marriage and told her that it was possible to be married in New York without having to obtain a license. He persuaded her to go with him to an apartment house at 240 West One Hundred Forty-fifth street, where a man who she afterwards learned, she said, was Joseph D. Braman, had a conference with Regal. This was conducted in so low a tone, she added, that she was unable to hear but little of what was said between them, which was read from a book. Relying upon what Regal told her, Miss Thorne says she signed a paper which Regal had prepared. Immediately after appending her signature to the document Miss Thorne says that she rejoined her relatives and friends at the hotel and has never seen Regal since.

JUSTICE MOVES ON WINGED FEET.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SANTA ANA, July 8.—William G. Cole, who last Monday committed a statutory offense against pretty Lillian Gates, 12 years old, was arrested, tried, sentenced to serve not more than fifty years in prison and was on his way to San Quentin all within forty-eight hours, establishing a new record for speed in the local Superior Court.

Cole attacked the little girl Monday morning. He was arrested Tuesday and confessed the assault. He was given his preliminary hearing Wednesday and arraigned in the Superior Court this morning. His trial lasted only a few hours.

Red Flag is Banned from North Dakota.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

MINNEAPOLIS, July 8.—After being killed twice by the non-partisan league legislature, the law prohibiting the displaying of possession of a red flag was passed by the referendum vote of the people in the North Dakota primary, the returns of which are just completed.

The bill carried by a vote of more than 2 to 1. It was placed on the ballot by the Independent Voters' Association, which is fighting the leagues.

The law goes into effect in thirty days. Three other Non-Partisan League laws passed by the Legislature were defeated at the primary; one establishing the office of State Sheriff, which would give the State administration control over the public during strikes.

It was charged that the league leaders wanted the law to prevent arrest of strikers during riots.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

FARGO (N. D.) July 8.—Two independent Republican candidates for Congress and one Non-Partisan League candidate were nominated in the State primaries, while the Non-Partisan League candidate for United States Senator was nominated on the face of almost complete returns.

In the first district, John M. Baer, non-partisan incumbent, was defeated by O. B. Burtness, independent Republican, by approximately 2800 votes; in the second district, George Young, independent incumbent, was nominated by a margin of about 3000 over Thomas Pendray, non-partisan, and in the third district James Sinclair, non-partisan incumbent, was nominated by a margin of approximately 3000 over F. D. Norton, independent Republican.

Dr. E. F. Ladd of Fargo, non-partisan, has a margin of about 3500 over A. J. Grouna, incumbent for the United States Senatorial nomination.

Thomas Hall, independent Republican, defeated the Non-Partisan League candidate, J. I. Cahill, for the Republican nomination for Secretary of State.

With only eleven small precincts missing Hall has 54,494 and Cahill 47,978 votes in the unofficial tabulation.

Three proposed laws referred to the voters and indorsed the Non-Partisan League were decisively defeated, according to returns. Another measure prohibiting the display of the red flag in the State, which was opposed by the league leaders, was approved by the voters.

INJUNCTION AGAINST I.W.W. IS REFUSED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BELLINGHAM (Wash.) July 8.—Holding that the Industrial Workers of the World is a political organization and that its activities cannot be restrained by court order, Superior Judge Ed S. Hardin today denied application of the county prosecuting attorney for an injunction against four alleged I.W.W. to restrain them from engaging in I.W.W. propaganda.

If members of the organization violate the law, Judge Hardin ruled, that fact must be determined by a jury in a criminal court.

POWER COMPANY IS SEEKING NEW RATES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 8.—The California-Oregon Power Company, operating in Siskiyou, Shasta and Trinity counties, California, and in southern Oregon, applied to the Railroad Commission today for readjustment of its rates for electrical energy in California and for a modification of contracts for power with three irrigation projects in Siskiyou county.

COX PLAYS AT BEING A BOY.

Nominee Spends Day on His Farm Near Dayton, O.

Discovered by Reporters, He Invites Them to Lunch.

Intimates He Will Make an Early Reply to Hobson.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

DAYTON (O.) July 8.—Putting aside cares of being a Presidential candidate, Gov. James M. Cox, Democratic nominee for President, spent this afternoon on a farm, his boyhood home, thirty-six miles from Dayton.

Newspaper men who trailed the Governor, found him with his coat off roasting potatoes and broiling lamb chops over a camp fire in a small ravine some distance from the old homestead. His farm manager was with him.

Taking the intrusion of the newspaper men good naturedly, he invited them to share the luncheon he was preparing, but finding it would take more potatoes, chops and sandwiches than he had, he dispatched one of his men to Middletown for more. Luncheon finally was served late in the afternoon.

ANSWERS QUESTIONS.

While the potatoes were roasting and the chops burning, the Governor answered many questions concerning his early boyhood, which he spent on the farm. He also discussed many phases of farming.

While sitting in the shade of a large willow tree, one of his thoroughbred cows came wandering up to have a look at the Democratic candidate. The Governor said she is milked three times a day and gives two gallons at each milking.

At the Governor's suggestion, the "pasture club" was formed, joining for its membership the Democratic candidate and the score of news writers and camera men. Miss Marjorie Wilson of Cleveland, the only woman reporter in the company, was unanimously elected president after being placed in nomination by the Governor.

Since he acquired the old Cox homestead two years ago, Gov. Cox is fast transforming it into a model farm.

EARLY REPLY TO DRY.

Gov. Cox intimated this evening that he may make an early reply to the telegram of Richmond P. Hobson, Anti-Saloon League leader of Alabama, requesting that he make a definite statement soon of his position on enforcement of the Federal dry amendment and Congressional action to modify the Volstead Act as to alcoholic content of liquors.

It was also intimated by the Governor that he may go to Washington soon for a conference with President Wilson. Telephone conversations between Secretary Tumulty and the Governor have been held during the past few days, it was said.

CIVIC DEMONSTRATION.

The civic demonstration in honor of the Democratic nominee will be held July 16. Interest is turning to the approaching conference of the Democratic candidate with the subcommittee of the National Committee and Franklin D. Roosevelt, Vice-Presidential candidate, which probably will be held Saturday, or as soon thereafter as the party arrives from San Francisco. The Governor will make no speaking engagements until he has conferred with the committee. Hundreds of invitations to make addresses have been received.

Messages of congratulations and felicitations continue to arrive by the hundreds.

It is now expected that when Franklin D. Roosevelt, Gov. Cox's running mate, arrives from San Francisco, ensuing conferences will result in more than the mere exchange of felicitations. Homer S. Cummings, chairman of the Democratic National Committee; E. H. Moore of Youngstown, the Governor's preconvention campaign manager, and a number of other party leaders are expected to participate in the conferences. Other phases of the campaign may be discussed, especially plans for the official notification.

DAYTON IS WORRIED.

Dayton citizens are apprehensive that effort may be made to have the notification ceremonies take place in Columbus and they are prepared to go the limit, if necessary, to nullify such an announcement in case it should be pressed. From present indications the notification ceremonies probably will take place at Trail's End, the Governor's suburban home, where several people gathered two weeks before his nomination to celebrate with him the occasion of the departure of the Ohio delegation for San Francisco.

The Governor last night made his second public address since his nomination at the Dayton Country Club at a dinner for the Ohio Golf Association. Gov. Cox is an enthusiastic golfer. His address was chiefly an intimate talk with the members on the merits of this outdoor sport.

LAUDS HIS OPPONENT.

He also spoke in cordial terms of his Republican opponent, Senator Harding, who also is a devotee of the game. He declared that, regardless of the result of the election, he and Senator Harding will remain the same splendid friends as in the past.

The Governor's interest in golf was declared by Lee Warren James, president of the Dayton Chamber of Commerce, to be best exemplified by an incident that occurred on Saturday before the nomination was made at San Francisco. He said he and the Governor were just leaving the lockers on the course for an afternoon round when an attendant called out that San Francisco wanted Gov. Cox on the telephone.

"Tell them I'll talk tonight," was the Governor's reply, according to James.

ALBUQUERQUE (N. M.) July 8.—"In the present political contest there is no issue of moment between Democrats and Republicans and the contest narrows down to a battle fo the right to conduct the Federal government during the next four years," said U. S. Senator Charles S. Thomas, Democrat of Colorado, in an address here today.

JUDGE LANDIS SCORES WILSON.

Commuting of Cattle King's Sentenced Criticised.

Middle West Man Sold Tubercular Holsteins.

President's Action Taken Before Illinois Bar.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, July 8.—Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis, in a statement addressed from the bench to members of the bar, today criticised the action of President Wilson in commuting the sentence of James Dorsey, reputed millionaire cattleman of Gilbert, Ill., from eight years to four.

"I wonder what frame of mind he must have been in to cut such a sentence," the judge said.

Dorsey was convicted of selling 12,000 head of cattle, which he used the mails to advertise were full blooded Holsteins. When the animals were delivered it developed they were common stock.

It was also charged by the Federal government that the cattle were diseased.

CATTLE TUBERCULAR.

"This millionaire cattle king was sentenced some time ago to serve eight years in the Federal prison for using the mails to sell tubercular cattle throughout the West," Judge Landis said. "I want to make a statement of this case to the bar . . . This man Dorsey sold about 12,000 head of cattle a year and made about $120,000 a year.

"The indictments . . . charged him with misuse of the mails for this purpose. He advertised through the mails that the cattle were full bred Holsteins, and that the purchaser . . . would be given certificates showing that all the Federal and State laws in regard to the sale of full breed cattle had been complied with.

"Dorsey hired an old horse doctor who would sign blank test certificates and other clerks would fill them out. An avalanche of complaints were received about the cattle from Mexico to Alaska.

"Finally he was brought to trial and he was sentenced to eight years in the penitentiary. . . . The sentence was affirmed by the Court of Appeals, but sentence was stayed a number of times. Finally, through the oversight of some one, Dorsey was placed in the penitentiary."

Nonpartisan Defeat Grows in North Dakota.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

FARGO (N. D.) July 8.—Thomas Hall, Independent Republican, defeated the Nonpartisan League candidate, J. I. Cahill, for the Republican nomination for Secretary of State, returns available today from the primary show.

With only eleven small precincts missing, Hall has 54,494 and Cahill 47,978 votes in the unofficial tabulation.

Three proposed laws referred to the voters and indorsed by the Nonpartisan League were decisively defeated, according to returns. Another measure prohibiting the display of the red flag in the State, which was opposed by the league leaders, was approved by the voters.

CHILEAN PORT STRIKE IS PARTLY SETTLED.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

SANTIAGO (Chile) July 8.—The strike of port workers at Iquique, has been partly settled, according to government advices, but the walkout of stevedores at Antofagasta and Taltal continues.

Newspapers say that recent labor troubles in Northern Chilean ports reduced nitrate exportations for June to one-half of those for May.

WOMAN CONVICT BEARS TWINS.

Canadian Under Sentence of Death for Murder is Mother of Two.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

QUEBEC, July 8.—Marie Anne Houde Gagnon, under sentence of death here for the murder by cruelty and neglect of her stepdaughter, Aurora, today gave birth to twins, a boy and girl, in the jail infirmary. The father, Telesphore Gagnon, is serving a life sentence in St. Vincent de Paul penitentiary for complicity in the murder of his daughter.

Voluntary Taxation

Right now in this country a work is progressing that is so far reaching, so important and so large in public interest that it may be properly regarded as remarkable.

Our canned meat products are protected in the packing by Government Inspectors and the approved result bears the Government mark of standard.

But our vegetable food products are not under Governmental scrutiny and care.

Of the thousands of canners, there are some whose output is not always fit to eat.

And so, voluntarily, a great associatice of canners have formed a national organizatic to protect the public and themselves against impure canned goods.

Have agreed to a tax per case for the maintenance of a daily inspection in the canneries of the association's members, and have agreed to permit, only on those products whose manufacture comes up to rigid sanitary requirements, the imposition on the package of a seal or certificate of safety.

When you see this seal next year, it will identify for you canned goods which you may eat with the knowledge that it has behind it the pledge of a great industry as to sanitation and wholesomeness.

The National Canners' Association has displayed a breadth of vision and an intelligence in self-interest that must react favorably on the work of other associations. It will merit the commendation of the public it serves.

So far-sighted and powerful a movement will be advertised nationally to hasten the success that seems inevitable.

ZIONISTS URGE TAX ON JEWS.

Believe Ten Per Cent of Incomes Should be Given.

Measure Hotly Opposed, With Majority Favoring.

London Conference Disposes of Much Business.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, July 8.—A report presented to the Zionist conference today by J. A. Naiditch of the National Executive Committee, suggesting that all Jews be taxed 10 per cent of their annual incomes for the foundation fund for public works in Palestine, resulted in animated discussion.

Some of the delegates violently opposed the measure, but the general opinion appeared favorable.

The money collected would be applied to institutions, shelters, immigrant dwellings, medical help and the relief and maintenance of existing schools and the building of new schools, including agricultural, industrial, research and experimental stations.

It was urged that the entire organization of the Zionists for collecting money be devoted solely to these collections, except the Jewish national fund, and that special tithe committees be appointed immediately with wide authority for making collections.

FOR POLITICAL POLICY.

The conference appointed a policy committee consisting of twenty-one members to frame a political program for observance in Palestine, in accordance with a suggestion of Dr. Weiseman, member of the Palestine committee appointed by King George, who urged the necessity of a common method of procedure by all races there to avoid conflicts of faiths and peoples. The committee is expected to report next Monday. The colonization, education and finance committees, which also were appointed today, will report then.

The Educational Committee reported the preparations were progressing for the establishment of a Jewish university in Jerusalem which "must be built up gradually, although a small beginning must be made in the near future." It is expected that a building to house the research institutes for physics, chemistry, micro-biology and the Hebrew languages, which will be the first efforts of the Educational Committee, probably will be opened in 1922.

MEET INTERRUPTED.

The committee reported that it was undertaking to acquire a faculty for the University of Jerusalem and for the Haifa Technical College.

An attempt by a number of delegates to force their way in after an attendant had denied them admission interrupted the session for a short time and precipitated a struggle which continued for several minutes. The clamor for admission arose outside the hall, and the chairman, Louis D. Brandeis, associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, suspended business of the conference until order was restored.

It is reported that the debate arose out of a "confusion of tongues." The delegates speak various languages. When quiet was restrained, Mr. Brandeis announced unanimity, saying it was essential that the delegates to consider their work seriously. The appointment of committees began amid great excitement among the delegates, who protested in many languages against some of the proposals.

RIFT NEAR IN THIRD PARTY.

Single Taxers Refuse to Consider La Follette.

Senator Not Wanted as Presidential Nominee.

Prohibitionists May Put Ticket in Field This Fall.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, July 8.—Plans of a group of liberal and radical organizations for one united third party, with candidates for President and Vice-President, received a setback today when single tax party members announced they would not support Senator Robert M. La Follette, expected to be the choice of the other groups.

The single taxers, who arrived today to prepare for their convention, which opens Saturday, declared they would bolt the combine and nominate a separate ticket if the majority chose La Follette.

While the single taxers were threatening to present their own ticket, Amos Pinchot and George L. Record, of the committee of forty-eight, were in Madison, Wis., today conferring with La Follette, who has received a majority of a mail straw vote of the party.

The committee of forty-eight and single tax conventions open Saturday. Sunday the Labor party of the United States, another prospective member of the proposed combination, meets. The National Nonpartisan League, Triple Alliance of the Northwest, National Peoples' League of Minnesota, World War Veterans and National Public Ownership League have been invited to send delegates to the conventions and later indorse the platform and candidates.

AGAINST LA FOLLETTE.

J. C. Reis, single tax committeeman from Pennsylvania, announced today that the single taxers would accept the committee of forty-eight invitation to attend the third party convention, but would leave if they were unable to prevent La Follette's selection as standard-bearer.

"The committee of forty-eight has a most wonderful opportunity to create the long-looked-for new political party in America," he said, "but La Follettism will certainly be the wrong one to follow.

"La Follette's entire political history is replete with the paternalistic or even Socialistic legislation, which the single tax party unalterably opposes."

Announcement was made today that Mayor William Hale Thompson's Republican faction had abandoned the idea of joining a third party movement in Illinois.

Sympathizers of the Irish republic among third-party men let it be known that a plank favorable to the Irish cause would be submitted for incorporation in the platform of the committee of forty-eight.

A questionaire sent to 2100 members showed, according to an announcement, sentiment against reference to the Irish question.

SUGGEST WHITLOCK.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, July 8.—Sixty-four delegates from eastern States to the convention of the single tax party, to be held at Chicago, July 10, 12 and 13, left here tonight. Brand Whitlock, Amos Pinchot and Dr. Frank Crane were suggested by delegates as suitable candidates for the party's Presidential nomination.

DRY PARTY ALSO

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, July 8.—A prohibition ticket may be put in the field again this fall, according to an announcement made today by V. G. Hinshaw, chairman of the Prohibition National Committee. He declared that both the Democratic and Republican parties "by omitting a plank indorsing the Eighteenth Amendment have dismally failed to live up to the standards demanded by American people in forty-five States."

Decision as to a ticket will be made, he said, at the national convention to be opened in Lincoln, Neb., on July 21.

CONFER WITH LA FOLLETTE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

MADISON (Wis.) July 8.—No intimation as to the plans of Senator La Follette regarding his candidacy for President on a third-party platform was forthcoming tonight following a conference with Amos Pinchot of New York, and George L. Record of New Jersey, who visited him at his farm here today to discuss third-party affairs and politics generally.

Little belief was expressed by friends that he would consent to head a third party, although he is known to favor certain of the platform planks that the new organization is expected to adopt.

"Mr. Record and I spent a couple of hours with Senator La Follette this afternoon and went over the whole political situation," said Mr. Pinchot tonight. "We asked that a campaign be waged on a brief, clear platform calling for government ownership of the railroads and of the principal national resources and that no land should be held out of use for speculation or to aid monopoly."

"The conference is to be resumed tomorrow. No definite conclusions were reached."

GIVES TO HOSPITAL.

Angelene Donates Large Sum to Institution in Oregon.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PORTLAND (Or.) July 8.—Mrs. J. K. Clark of Los Angeles has donated $45,00 0to the Godo Samaritan Hospital, an Episcopal institution of this city. Her donation is highest in a list totaling $161,521, made public today by Rev. Walter Taylor Sumner, bishop of Oregon. This amount is in addition to $125,000 given by the Theodore Wilcox estate of Portland for the specific purpose of building a maternity home.

Contributions are to be used in building a new wing to the hospital. It will cost $200,000 and will not be started until the amount is all subscribed.

The Good Samaritan is one of the two largest hospitals in Portland. All of the existing hospitals are taxed to capacity at times and increased facilities are much needed. During the flu epidemic, Portland had to open the municipal auditorium for use as an emergency hospital.

OLYMPIC SAILS WITH BIG PASSENGER LIST.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, July 8.—With 1245 cabin passengers aboard, the steamship Olympic, sailing from here today for Southampton, broke this year's record for outgoing ships. The booking was the Olympic's largest since the beginning of the World War.

Among the passengers were I. Kumagae, the Japanese tennis champion, and seventeen other Japanese athletes bound for the Olympic games at Antwerp.

Thomas Fortune Ryan sailed on the Olympic, refusing to be interviewed on reports that he was bound abroad in the interests of "Ryan-Duke-Whelan Snydicate" attempt to buy control of the French government $409,000,000 tobacco monopoly.

OIL CASE DECISION REVERSED IN COURT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 8.—The District Court of Appeals today reversed judgment aggregating about $26,500 given creditors of the El Dora Oil Company of Kern county against Emily E. Brady and other stockholders on alleged unpaid balances of stock subscriptions.

George E. Mills was the plaintiff in the suit appealed from the Superior Court of Kern county.

John D. Rockefeller.

TARRYTOWN (N. Y.) July 8.—[By Associated Press.] John D. Rockefeller celebrated his eighty-first birthday anniversary quietly at his Pocantico Hills estate today. Many friends called in person or sent messages congratulating him.

Despite his advanced years the Standard Oil king seems as hale and hearty as a man twenty years younger. Mr. Rockefeller is a golf enthusiast and devotes practically all of his spare time chasing the elusive white ball. In an interview recently, when asked to what he attributed his good health as his age, he gave the credit to golf, exercise and lack of worry over business troubles.

FETE TO HONOR GEN. OBREGON.

State Department was advised officially today that Francisco Villa and the Mexican Federal forces opposing him had signed an armistice, effective until July 15.

The dispatch from the American Consul at Chihuahua City said Villa had submitted a new proposition which, however, was not described.

Other reports today said Gen. Morales and Col. Laycotte, in command of the Federal garrison in the State of Coshuila descisively defeated a rebelling detachment of seventy men under Ricardo Gonzales, nephew of Gen. Pablo Gonzales, last Tuesday.

MODIFIES TERMS.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

MEXICO CITY, July 7.—Elias L. Torres of El Paso, who conferred on behalf of the provisional government with Francisco Villa, the rebel leader, with regard to an armistice, has announced that Villa has modified his peace terms, and that conciliation is likely, says the Excelsior.

Gen. Larga has started an uprising in the State of San Luis Potosi, the War Office announced today. It is added that as the leader has only 100 men, the movement is not considered important.

Gen. Pablo Gonzales will leave Mexico shortly for the United States, according to reports received by his friends in this city.

Mexico will export during 1920 between 130,000,000 and 135,000,000 barrels of oil, more than all the rest of the world, including the United States, according to estimates made by George Biardone, Tampico oil statistician. He bases his figures upon the record-breaking production of oil in this country for the first five months of 1920, when, he says exports were 48,617,167 barrels, compared with 28,235,039 barrels during the same period of 1919. Exports for May alone are given as 12,520,568 barrels, which is nearly double the shipments for May, 1919, and sets the world's record for one month's production.

Regarding his estimates relative to shipments in 1920, which he asserts will be 80 per cent greater than in 1919, Biardone says, about 100,000,000 barrels will go to the United States.

Petroleum men will be given further hearings in an effort to adjust the differences between them and the government, Provisional President De la Huerta told newspaper correspondents today.

The provisional President said there would be more uprisings and that the revolts thus far had been promoted by men fearing they would be held responsible for their past acts.

CAMPAIGN FUND QUERY DOESN'T SCARE PALMER

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

PORTLAND (Or.) July 8.—"They're welcome to investigate me until the cows come home," declared Atty.-Gen. Palmer here today on his way home from the Democratic National Convention, when informed that the Senate committee investigating preconvention campaign expenditures proposed taking up his campaign next.

"None of my money was spent," the Attorney-General said. "What is the use of investigating now?" he said.

Mr. Palmer said he could not take the proposed investigation seriously.

Spain Has Serious Blaze.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

TOLEDO (Spain) July 8.—Fire destroyed a big mill in the village of Villaseca with enormous quantities of wheat and flour. It is estimated that the damage will amount to 4,000,000 pesetas.

The electric power-house adjoining also was destroyed, leaving fifteen villages in the Province of Toledo without light. The irrigation works were damaged, leaving a quarter of a million acres without water.

Ten Thousand Hampers of Garlic in New York.

Odor From Ship's Cargo Makes Natives Dizzy.

Workers Desert Piers When They Get Whiff.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, July 8.—Women all but fainted and strong men wept when the Royal Italian mail liner Fernando Palascianto came up the bay into the North River yesterday with 10,000 hampers of Italian garlic aboard.

When the ship reached Gravesend Bay and went through the narrows skippers of yachts and freighters, alarmed by the undeniably strong scent which was wafted to them by the southern wind, hung up distress signals.

Italian sailors on some of the ships anchored down the bay went on a strike and declared a fiesta as long as the delightful aroma permeated the atmosphere.

When the ship passed the Statue of Liberty that popular and internationally known lady is declared by old salts to have rocked on her pedestal. It is also said that the well-known Liberty hand which holds the torch aloft was seen to wave wildly in an apparent effort to create a smoke-screen smudge to counteract the effect of the garlic fumes.

JOSH DON'T UNDERSTAND.

Josh Hoskins of Maine, a citizen making his first visit to the metropolis, was in the tower of the Woolworth Building getting an impressionalistic view of New York as the ship passed up the river.

"Well, what do you think of New York, Mr. Hoskins?" asked a bred and born New Yorker, who had decided to climb the tower after reading that the Prince of Wales and other notables had enjoyed the view there.

"Wa'al," answer the visitor, "I mebbe all right, but it smells gosh ding peculiar."

At the West Fifty-fifth-street pier the longshoremen deserted their posts and demanded triple pay before they agreed to remove the cargo. The fumes discomfited cab men and taxicab chauffeurs to such an extent that passengers who wanted to ride to hotels or to their homes found they could get no transportation. The whole gang had fled.

Health department authorities said that the garlic odor constituted no menace to health. They pointed out that the winds would speedily drive the fumes away, and that when the garlic was transferred to warehouse vaults the odor would no longer be noticeable on the streets.

LOCAL HEIRS BENEFIT.

Will of Oregon Woman Devides Cash to Los Angeles Daughters.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PORTLAND (Or.) July 8.—Real and personal property in Multnomah county to the value of $150,000 composes the estate of the late Phebe Dekum, who died in Los Angeles on June 26, according to the petition for probate of the will filed in the County Clerk's office by B. H. Moore. Mr. Moore asks that letters testamentary be issued to himself as executor and to Mrs. Clara H. Waldo of Portland, a daughter, as executrix.

Four children, the eldest of whom is 60 years old, were the sole heirs at law, and the only beneficiaries under the terms of the will which was executed in 1913. They are: Mrs. Clara H. Waldo, Portland; Lavilla Humason, Los Angeles; Elva Humason, Los Angeles, and Ivan Humason, Portland.

To the daughters of Lavilla and Elva Humason, $10,000 each is bequeathed in one paragraph of the will and $250 more each in another. The three daughters share jointly in the household goods, jewelry, etc., of their mother. The four children share alike in the residue of the estate.

THE HARROWER LABORATORY at Your Service GLENDALE CALIFORNIA
The Harrower Laboratory

Out in Glendale there is a "science service" institution, projected and developed by Dr. Henry R. Harrower—a former practicing physician—internationally known as a foremost student and exponent of "the internal secretions."

The Harrower Laboratory is "a laboratory of applied endocrinology," or in the simpler language of the layman, it is a place where certain glands from sheep and other animals are used in the preparation of remedies, with their utilization in medical practice scientifically worked out for the benefit of the medical profession.

It is the only institution of its kind in the United States and its products are favorably known and accepted in medical centers.

Branches are operated at New York City, Chicago, Baltimore and Denver, while a fifth office will soon be opened at Portland, Ore.

The administrative departments of this "science service" institution are rendered more efficient by Weber Office Equipment, which has been installed almost entirely—a deserving recognition of the far-reaching possibilities in the use of Weber Office Equipment for all service promotion activities.

"FRONT-PORCH" CAMPAIGN SURE.

Senator Harding Will Not Make Mistake of Hughes.

National Committee Backs Up Nominee's Stand.

Will Give Few Addresses in Larger Cities.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, July 8.—Pressure being brought to bear upon the members of the Republican National Committee and Senator Harding, Republican nominee for the presidency, to bring about the abandonment of his "front porch" campaign, is meeting with little success it was learned here today from political leaders.

Men who have been in touch both with the committee and the nominee do not believe that Gov. Cox, the Democratic nominee, can bring about a situation that will necessitate any change in the Republican program.

Senator Harding, it is said, will not engage in any swing around the circle. He will leave Marion for not more than ten speeches, if possible, and these will be only in the larger cities. Senator Harding will go direct from Marion to the place of meeting and return as soon as he has filled his engagement.

DECISION ABSOLUTE.

This absolute decision has been reached, it was learned, due to the lesson which was learned in the 1916 campaign when Charles E. Hughes was the candidate. Republican leaders, as the result of that experience, do not believe that a presidential condidate can benefit by visiting all of the States. In the case of Mr. Hughes his efforts to bring an end to the factional differences, well intended as they may have been, succeeded only in widening the breach between elements of the Republican Party.

This is a contingency which the Republicans wish to avoid this year. They realize that in every State in the Union, practically, there are discordant elements in the party which it would be best to allow to remain dormant.

It was for this reason that Senator Harding adopted the policy of meeting representatives of all branches of the party either in Washington or Marion, rather than in their home States. His political advisers feel that any visits the candidate might make personally would result only in bitterness if he did not at the same time seek out the men of the opposite group.

The decision therefore has been made that addresses away from Marion shall be made only in the larger cities, where the arrangements can be taken care of entirely by local men and Senator Harding can go direct from Marion, make his address and return to his Ohio home.

MEXICO WANTS TROUBLE ENDED.

New Government Anxious to Close External Disputes.

Peaceful Relations Sought With United States.

Nationals' Commission May Stop Controversies.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

MEXICO CITY, July 8.—Settlement of the questions in dispute between the United States and Mexico, and especially a solution of the oil problem, is one of the chief purposes of the De La Huerta provisional government, according to Roberto Pesquiero, newly appointed financial agent of Mexico, at a luncheon given by the American Chamber of Commerce of Mexico City today.

He declared that the "old Chinese wall which previous Mexican administrations tried to erect around Mexico" would be torn down.

"The government of President De La Huerta desires above all to see settled the questions at issue between the two countries, especially that relating to the oil industry," he said. "It is now contemplating the formation of a commission of Mexicans and Americans to study this question so that a satisfactory solution may be reached."

AMERICANS ARE FAIR.

Senor Pesquiero read a message from Gen. Alvaro Obregon, the only Presidential candidate in the forthcoming elections, in which Gen. Obregon said that he changed his "former opinions regarding the attitude of the United States toward intervention in Mexico" and was "now convinced that the American people are fair-minded and will do the right thing." If elected he pledged himself to work to effect the closest co-operation between the two countries.

Senor Pesquiero has written several articles for vernacular newspapers of Mexico City recently on conditions in Mexican border towns since prohibition became effective in the United States. As a result of his articles, the De La Huerta administration has taken steps to abolish gambling and drinking in Mexico, which have grown to immense proportions since the United States went dry. Senor Pesquiero said that prohibitionists have erected sign posts along roads to the border, which read "To Mexico—the road to hell." He declared that at Tia Juana, Son., as many as 2000 automobiles may be seen on any Saturday, in which thousands of thirsty Americans travel across the border into Mexico.

AMERICANS WILL GO TO MEET IN BRUSSELS.

UNITED STATES TO BE REPRESENTED UNOFFICIALLY AT FINANCIAL CONGRESS.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, July 8.—The United States will be represented unofficially at the Brussels financial congress under the League of Nations on July 23, Secretary Houston announced today. The representatives of this country, whom Mr. Houston said would not be government officials, will be chosen within a few days. It is planned, he said, to send three representatives to observe the proceedings and consider the discussion and official report.

The conference will discuss economic conditions of the various nations, the Secretary said, and many helpful suggestions for working out the reconstruction programs of the different countries are expected to result.

The program of the conference, as received here, calls for the presentation of written statements on external debts, taxation, currency, internal loans, import restrictions and exchange control and similar topics. Reparation and cancellation of war debts will not come up for consideration, it has been stated.

The United States, Secretary Houston said, will not offer suggestions on matters such as the external debt, which is held by officials here not to be an American problem, but probably will offer such recommendations as may be helpful in regard to the taxation and coal supplies for various countries.

The United States cannot be bound by any of the conference deliberations, Mr. Houston declared, adding that it was assumed that none of the various foreign representatives would have authority to make any agreements in behalf of their governments.

England is sending three unofficial representatives, all economic experts, and it is likely that the majority of nations will send experts on economic and reconstruction problems.

Premier of Quebec Resigns.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

QUEBEC, July 8.—Sir Lomer Gouin, at a meeting of the provincial Cabinet today, resigned as Premier of Quebec.

While no official announcement has been made, it is announced the Lieutenant Governor, Sir Charles Fitzpatrick, will call on L. A. Taschereau, Minister of Public Works to succeed Sir Lomer.

EX-SUFFRAGIST IS RIDICULED.

Angeleno Called Disappointed Politician by Women.

Letter to Tennessee Legislature Causes Comment.

Asks Amendment's Defeat; Cites California.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

MINNEAPOLIS, July 8.—Miss Anna Bock of Los Angeles, former suffrage leader, was characterized as mentally unbalanced, or a disappointed politician, by suffrage leaders here today, following her letter to the Tennessee Legislature, asking the defeat of the suffrage amendment.

Miss Bock, formerly an equal suffrage leader, in a letter to W. K. Anderson, Representative in the lower house of the Tennessee Legislature, urged him not to support ratification of the suffrage amendment. Suffrage, she said, coarsens and cheapens women. She expressed her regret at her former activity in its behalf, saying that since suffrage has been granted there has been an alarming increase in immorality, divorce and murder, in California. The letter follows:

"I was one of the prominent workers who helped to bring suffrage to California, and I regret it.

"A year in politics has taught me that women are intolerant, radical, revolutionary and more corrupt in politics than men; also, all this so-called reform leads to the Socialist co-operative commonwealth.

"Since suffrage there has been an alarming increase in immorality, divorce and murder in California.

"Woman suffrage has made cowards and puppets of men. It has coarsened and cheapened women. Were the men to vote on woman suffrage in California today it would not carry.

"Suffragists asked suffrage that they might put only good men in office; now they clamor for a fifty-fifty show for all offices.

"I shall do penance forever for the part I have played in bringing suffrage in California.

"Please urge your colleagues not to do what will bring regret and disaster, but to stand for that 90 per cent of women who do not want suffrage, but are glad to trust all politics and governmental affairs to their loved husbands, fathers, sons and brothers.

"To the South woman suffrage would bring more than calamity."

NEVER HEARD OF HER.

"To begin with," said Mrs. Walter H. Thorpe, Minnesota chairman of publicity for the League of Women Voters, "no suffragist ever heard of Miss Bock, and it is strange if she were identified with the movement that the National American Woman Suffrage Association never took cognizance of her. The contribution of one woman on the subject is insufficient evidence, and her remarks are so extreme and overdrawn as to render them valueless. The experience of California after the adoption of suffrage, if it is what Miss Bock says, is so unique that it hardly seems worth while considering."

Mrs. Alfred H. Bright, member of the executive board of the Minnesota branch of the National Women's party, labeled Miss Bock as either unbalanced or a disappointed politician.

VICIOUS ATTACK.

The sweeping statement that in California the increase in immorality, divorce and murder is directly or indirectly traceable to suffrage must appeal to all intelligent women as being a most vicious attack on the womanhood of America, and should be resented by every honest man, as well as woman, said Mrs. W. W. Remington, president of the Minneapolis Republican Women's Club.

It's nothing but propaganda, said Mrs. Bertha Moler, executive secretary of the Minnesota Woman's party.

"Pitiful," was the comment of Miss Marguerite Wells, president of the Minnesota League of Women Voters. "Just one more sign that the interests opposed to the enfranchisement of women are making a last desperate, reckless effort to postpone it."

INVITES CALIFORNIA TO JOIN LOUISIANA.

GOVERNOR WOULD HAVE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS SUBMITTED TO PEOPLE.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SACRAMENTO, July 8.—Secretary of State Frank C. Jordan today received a communication from Gov. Parker of Louisiana, inviting the California Legislature to follow the example of the Louisiana Legislature in memorializing Congress to call a session for the purpose of amending the Constitution of the United States so as to provide that all amendments to the Constitution shall be submitted to the electors of the several States for ratification or rejection.

A copy of the concurrent resolution passed by the Louisiana Legislature was inclosed in the letter from Gov. Parker.

CHURCH WORLD MOVE GOES ON.

"Greatly Modified Scale" is New Plan Adopted.

Committee to Form Scheme of Reorganization.

Churches Called Upon to Meet Obligations.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, July 8.—The general committee of the Inter-Church World Movement, meeting today to consider the future of the organization, voted to continue the movement "on a greatly modified scale."

Appointment of a committee of fifteen to confer with representatives of the denominations co-operating in the movement and to recommend a plan of reorganization was authorized.

The decision of the general committee, which includes representatives of the thirty Protestant denominations in the movement, was reached by adoption of a report of a subcommittee of eleven.

Bishop Z. Nicholson of Chicago, in urging continuance of the movement, declared reactionary tendencies, which, he said, were shown in the two national political conventions, "will be manifest in the churches if we permit the movement to end."

The report declared the "committee is unanimous in the conviction that the main purposes and objects for which the Inter-Church World Movement, was created, should be conserved, and therefore the movement should be continued, though in a greatly modified scale."

A budget of not more than $75,000, to become a part of obligations already incurred, was authorized to carry on the work pending reorganization.

No other budget is to be authorized, "until it has been properly approved and the expenses provided by the proper authorities of the co-operating denominations."

The Committee of Eleven was appointed after a report by James M. Speers, chairman of the Executive Committee, that the movement is solvent and that its obligations do not exceed its assets and pledges. Its report approved the action of the Executive Committee in closing the accounts of the movement on June 30, "in calling upon the churches to meet their obligations and in making a clear distinction between the past and future operations of the movement."

PROHIBITIONISTS TALK OF NATIONAL TICKET.

FAILURE TO ENFORCE LIQUOR LAWS IS GIVEN AS CAUSE BY LEADERS.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, July 8.—Prohibitionists are not satisfied with the attitude of either of the two great parties and they are disgusted with the lack of enforcement of the prohibition laws. They are seriously considering putting a Presidential ticket of their own in the field this year. Final decision on this point will be reached at the party's regular Presidential convention, to be held at Lincoln, Neb., July 21.

"Both the old parties, by omitting a plank indorsing the Eighteenth Amendment, have dismally failed in living up to the standards demanded by the American people," said Virgil C. Hinshaw, chairman of the Prohibition National Convention, today.

"We of the Prohibition party consider it incumbent upon us to maintain a party organization to give expression to the millions of dry voters in this country."

Indications now are that the convention at Lincoln will be given over to a law enforcement meeting. The matter of world prohibition will come in for unusual attention. Women are expected to take a prominent part in the deliberations.

Had the prohibition laws been enforced the Prohibition party would undoubtedly be fading out by this time, but it is a matter of notorious record that in all the large cities the Eighteenth Amendment is being treated as a joke by the liquor dealers and many of the Federal, State and municipal officers.

WET-AND-DRY FIGHT IN BRAZIL GETS HOT.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

BUENOS AIRES, July 8.—Recent introduction of a prohibition bill in the Chamber of Deputies and the announcement that the administration would not support it, have forced prohibition to the forefront as a subject of discussion. The newspapers are filled with editorials and articles in this connection. The Mendoza wine growers are issuing protests and organizing a junket of deputies to the wine-growing district to show the importance of the industry.

The "secos," meaning drys, and "malodas," meaning wets, are engaged in stern controversy, putting the example of prohibition of the United States for and against and comparing conditions in the two countries.

More Vessels for Shipping Board.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, July 8.—Two vessels, aggregating 11,550 deadweight tons, were delivered to the Shipping Board during the month ending July 3, according to the board's construction report issued tonight. Both are of steel. A total of 2071 vessels aggregating 11,628,836 deadweight tons have been constructed for the government, the fleet comprising of 1476 steel, eighteen composite, 571 wood and six concrete ships. The board's program calls for the construction of 2315 vessels of various types.

SEATTLE (Wash.) July 8.—Two new 12,500-ton passenger steamers, first of a fleet of twelve allocated to the Pacific Coast by the Shipping Board, will be delivered to the Pacific Steamship Company in September and November, A. F. Haines, vice-president of the company, wired H. F. Alexander, president, from Washington today. The two vessels will be placed on the Puget Sound-Yokahoma-Shanghai - Manila run.

Nebraska Murderers Reprieved.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

LINCOLN, (Neb.) July 8.—Alson B. Cole and Alten Vincent Grammer, to have been electrocuted here Friday for the murder of Mrs. Lulu Vogt in Howard county July 4, 1917, were today granted a reprieve until August 6 by Gov. S. R. McKelvie. This is the twelfth reprieve for Cole and the eleventh for Grammer since they were sentenced to death two years ago.

HUNTER PICKED A SURE WINNER.

Oakland Man Selected to Head Educators' Body.

Many Improvements for the Teachers Being Urged.

Des Moines Seeks the Next Annual Convention.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SALT LAKE CITY, July 8.—Fred M. Hunter, superintendent of schools of Oakland, Cal., this morning was named by the nominating committee at the Hotel Utah to be the next president of the National Educational Association.

As only one nomination was made for each office, the choice of Mr. Hunter is practically equivalent to his election unless the selection is contested at the business meeting of the association, of which Mrs. Josephine Corliss Preston, president this year, was named as one of the eleven vice-presidents.

Cornelius Adair, president of the National League of Teachers' Associations, Richmond, Va., was selected for treasurer.

Mr. Hunter is a graduate of the University of Nebraska, where he was a star on the champion "Cornhusker" football team. He formerly was superintendent of schools at Lincoln, Neb. He has lectured throughout the country and has been identified with a number of educational movements of the day. He has advocated a nation-wide organization of teachers and has led in fights for better conditions among teachers.

DES MOINES ACTIVE.

Early in the fall, after visiting the cities that extended invitations, the Executive Committee will decide the location of next year's convention. To date Des Moines appears to have waged the most vigorous advertising campaign for the convention. Officials at national headquarters, however, would not venture to say which city would win.

But little difficulty in defeating the proposed affiliation of the National Association with the American Federation of Labor, by adopting the constitution of the American Federation of Teachers, is foreseen by convention leaders.

Discussion of this problem and that of the amendment to the constitution to place the annual meetings on a delegate basis will be heard tomorrow morning.

IMPROVEMENTS URGED.

The report of the committee on resolutions of the National Executive Association will be submitted at the annual business meeting of the organization Friday morning. Some of the matters which are advocated in the report have been announced as follows:

Immediate improvement in the preparation of teachers, a minimum of four years professional training following high school graduation.

The selection of teachers on a basis of merit.

The wealth of the nation as a whole should be drawn upon to equalize opportunities for education, and the immediate passage of the Smith Towner bill is urged.

Better provisions for increased financial support of education.

General or cultural education should not be overshadowed by vocational training.

Favor changes in administration of Smith Hughes law to reserve State autonomy.

State superintendent or commissioner should be officially recognized as chief executive of entire State educational system.

Favor definite plans for physical training and health crusade courses.

Favor the teaching of social hygiene in all teacher training institutions.

Advise a system of regular reports to parents on physical standing of children.

Favor an international bureau of education.

PLAN IS ACCEPTED.

Several hundred Utah teachers tonight voted indorsement of the "delegate plan" of reorganization for the association and agreed to work for its adoption in the meeting tomorrow. The scheme is the chief issue before the present convention. A clash was expected but failed to develop.

Margaret Haley of Chicago, leader of reorganization opponents, attended the meeting but did not speak. Only Utahans were permitted the floor. Speakers not recognized by the chairman were required to give their names and residences before addressing the meeting.

J. Fred Anderson, president of the Utah Education Association, who presided, announced he had expelled two stenographers who had begun taking a record of the meeting for some persons whom he did not name.

Howard R. Driggs of Chicago, formerly of the University of Utah, made a strong appeal to the Utahans to use their control to adopt the new plan and make it impossible for any locality "ever to pack a convention again." Mr. Driggs referred to the meeting last year at Milwaukee, which, he said, was controlled through the votes of teachers of that locality.

RESOLUTIONS REPORTED.

The report of the Resolutions Committee, made public tonight, declares for early adoption of the Smith-Towner bill, which would create a department of education whose head would be an officer of the President's Cabinet, and scores some of those opposing it. The report will be presented formally tomorrow.

"The bill . . . languishes in Congress primarily because of the opposition of a minority of the people, whose leaders are traditionally opposed to public education," the resolutions say. "This association pledges itself as unreservedly to do its utmost to thwart any movement that would centralize control of the public schools, as it does to support of the (Smith-Towner) measure."

One resolution, of which no previous inkling had been given, provides for a committee of five on international relations to co-operate with like committees from other countries, "looking to universal education as the surest means of establishing democracy throughout the world, and of advancing the interests of free peoples." Financial support for this move is authorized.

SHIPPING BOARD PLUMS SOUGHT.

President Holds Up Appointments for Present.

Possibilities of Positions Considered Great.

But Two of Seven Members Now on the Jobs.

BY ROBERT B. ARMSTRONG.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, July 8.—During the remaining months of the Wilson administration greater care than ever will be taken with whatever patronage remains. No one who knifed the administration can hope for place or indorsement from President Wilson or his friends.

One of the most important, if not the most important piece of patronage at the disposal of the President, is the appointment of the members of the new Shipping Board—seven in number—two from the Pacific Coast, two from the Atlantic, one from the gulf, one from the Great Lakes and one from the interior.

These places pay $12,000 a year. After the initial terms which are staggered as to duration, the terms will be six years each. They are as good plums as the Interstate Commerce Commission and full of political and administrative possibilities. These appointments have been held up by the President until he can get some information from Secretary Colby, Daniels, Meredith, Burleson and Carter Glass.

APPOINTMENTS DELAYED.

The appointments may not be made until all or some of these gentlemen return from the Coast and tell the President who killed Cock Robin and who helped to do it. So it will be with all appointments yet to be made in the dying moments of the Wilson dynasty. There is no hope that any of the appointments of any consequence will be confirmed by the present Senate.

Take for instance the Comptroller of the Currency, John Skelton Williams. He is living on from day to day under an ad interim appointment of the Secretary of the Treasury, the legality of which has been questioned, but no Republican Senator is making a fuss about the matter. When a Republican President enters the White House one of the first things he will do will be to appoint a new Comptroller, who will be speedily confirmed.

The term is for six years and the office pays $5000 a year. This officer holds in his sole custody the life and death of the national banks of the country and is an ex-officio of the Federal Reserve Board.

JOB A HUGE ONE.

But to get back to the Shipping Board. These seven men when they are appointed will have control of the United States Merchant Marine—worth $3,000,000,000 and operating, when complete, 12,000,000 tons of cargo ships. It is as big a job as the Interstate Commerce Commission, which controls all the railroads, and in some ways is much bigger, as it deals with the international trade relations of the United States.

Of the present members of the board—there are only two—only Chairman Benson will be reappointed. He comes from Georgia and naturally would represent the South Atlantic States. Mr. Donnell of New York will not be reappointed. Secretary Alexander, now the head of the Department of Commerce, will accept the position as member of the board from the interior. The new board as nearly as may be forecasted now will be as follows:

FORECAST IS MADE.

Chairman, Admiral Benson, Georgia, South Atlantic States.

Robert Deane, Boston, North Atlantic States.

William Allen, New Orleans, Gulf States.

Secretary of Commerce Alexander, St. Louis, Interior States.

Martin Gillen, Racine, Wis., Great Lakes.

John K. Bulger, steamboat inspection service, San Francisco, Pacific Coast States.

Joseph Teale, Portland, Pacific Coast States.

District Manager Eby of the Shipping Board at San Francisco, is here. He is reputed to be a candidate, as also is J. G. Frey, also with the Shipping Board on the Coast. Still another candidate from Portland is W. D. B. Dodson, although he would be satisfied with Teale's appointment. Another avowed candidate is Judge Shackleford of Tacoma, and some high in authority still insist he will be named, together with someone from San Francisco.

SILK COMPANY PLACED IN HANDS OF TRUSTEES

NEW ENGLAND CONCERN, SAID TO HAVE ASSETS OF ELEVEN MILLIONS.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

NEW YORK, July 8.—The Klotz Throwing Company, a silk importing and manufacturing concern with fifteen plants in New England and the Middle Atlantic States, and offices in Japan and China, today was placed in the hands of trustees to continue the business.

The house was said to have assets of $11,000,000, exclusive of plants, as against liabilities of only $8,000,000, but lack of sufficient assets in liquid form to meet immediate demands was given as the cause of appointing trustees for it.

The collapse of silk values in Japan, cancellation of orders and subsequent difficulty in getting liquid capital after most of its profits had been put into plants brought about the present acute situation in the company's financial affairs, it was said. The three trustees appointed are Charles Cheney, William Skinner and A. P. Williams, all of New York.

DEATH PLOT IS TOLD BY WOMAN

Washington Attorney is Accused by Divorced Wife.

Mrs. Snow Tells of Alleged Conspiracy to Kill Her.

Assets Plans Were Foiled by Accomplice's Confession.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, July 8.—Presenting testimony to support her charge that her divorced husband, Chester A. Snow, wealthy patent attorney of this city, instituted a plot to end her life, Mrs. Addis Hubard Snow at a preliminary hearing today outlined three methods she alleged he had employed.

Mrs. Snow testified that Mrs. Edna Acker, private detective, who, she says, and Hugh Milton Langdon, a chauffeur, was arrested in connection with the alleged conspiracy, had confessed that one plan was to bring about her fall from the top of a high building or cliff. Poisoning also was discussed, she testified.

ANOTHER PLAN.

Both schemes, she charged, were abandoned in favor of a plan to drug her during an automobile ride. The morning Mrs. Snow declared Mrs. Acker had admitted, was then to be worked, making it appear that she had been accidentally killed. This was to have happened last Monday, according to Mrs. Snow. Langdon, it was charged, was to have driven the automobile.

Mrs. Snow testified that Mrs. Acker came to her home Monday and confessed that she had been hired by Snow to help cause her death. For months Mrs. Acker had served as her friend, she said, and had been with her on numerous occasions with government officials and members of the diplomatic set here.

Henry E. Davis, attorney for Mrs. Snow, testified that he had been called to Mrs. Snow's home Monday while Mrs. Acker was there. Mrs. Acker, he said, called Snow by telephone and told him that "everything had been arranged." Davis testified that he had "listened in" and heard Snow say, "Good."

Mrs. Snow testified that Mrs. Acker told her that Snow had hired her "to kill me at any price."

The hearing will be resumed tomorrow. Snow is being held on $10,000 bail.

President Wilson to Call League Assembly Soon.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, July 8.—President Wilson has accepted the invitation of the League of Nations to call a meeting of the Assembly of the League early in November, it was announced in the House of Commons today by Cecil B. Harmsworth, Undersecretary for Foreign Affairs.

WASHINGTON, July 8.—White House officials today declined to say when a call for a meeting of the League of Nations Assembly would be issued by President Wilson. At the State Department, however, it was learned that the President had been informed that it was the wish of the League members that a meeting be called for November.

HEIR IS MODEST ONE; ASKS $300 PER YEAR.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, July 8. — Moses Aaronsen, who will inherit $15,000 from the estate of his father Julius Aaronsen, who died on April 29, 1919, applied today to Surrogate John H. Cohalan for an order requiring the executors to allow him $200 a year during the three remaining years of his course in the University of California at Berkeley.

He says that unless he can get at least $200 a year from the income to carry him through college he will have to continue to earn his way by washing dishes, waiting on table and doing gardening, as he did last year. Surrogate Cohalan reserved decision on the application.

PLAN BIG DRIVE.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, July 8.—When Exalted Ruler William Martin Abbott, San Francisco's most popular Elk, calls the Grand Lodge of the B.P.O.E. to order in Los Angeles a year from now, one million men in America will be members of the fraternity. A membership drive for that number of "Bills" was planned today at the final session of 1920 Grand Lodge meeting.

The convention will be held the first week of July, 1921, in Los Angeles. Representatives of 2000 lodges will be present.

Members of the Los Angeles lodge who are visiting in Chicago started their welcome today. A corps of them visited every State headquarters and spread oranges and advance welcomes about with an abandon that made their brothers long for the day when they will enter the Pacific city. It had been reported that San Francisco had been chosen and Los Angeles Elks did not want even one Elk to get the wrong address.

DRIVE ANNOUNCED.

The announcement of the drive for a million members was met with a burst of applause that rocked the Auditorium Theater this afternoon.

"We need 354,322 new members," said the newly installed Grand Exalted Ruler. "We are going to get them. We will have a total membership of one million men by this time next year. Are you with us?"

The roar that followed proved the enthusiasm was there. The Grand Lodge adjourned shortly afterward.

Tonight a vaudeville entertainment in the Auditorium entertained 2000 spectators until after 10:30 o'clock. The dance at the Municipal Pier, which started at 9:30 o'clock, drew the biggest crowd in the history of that recreation center.

ENTERTAINMENT PROGRAM.

During the day the Elks' most important business of having a good time went on along with the official entertainments. The executive board of the Grand Lodge witnessed the butchering of an elk in the stockyards at noon and afterward was treated to real elk steak at luncheon in the Morris plant.

A few Elks started home tonight; not many, but a few hundred who live farthest from Chicago. The convention will close officially at midnight tomorrow.

Milwaukee won the baseball championship of the order from Chicago today by a 16-to-15 score.

In a band contest, with nearly one hundred organizations competing, the band of the Detroit lodge took first money. Milwaukee was second and Atlanta third.

Recommendation that 20,000 acres of virgin land be acquired in the Cascade Mountains near Bend, Or., to provide a hunting and vacation preserve for Elks, was voted today. Final action will be taken at the convention in Los Angeles next year. A report will be made by Irvin S. Cobb, who will inspect the site.

Squadrons of the Polish Second Army, including the Kosciusko Aerial Squadron, commanded by Americans, are taking a prominent part in fighting Budenny's cavalry from the air on the Ukraine front, where the Poles withdrew in the face of repeated raids by cavalry.

The American flyers repeatedly attacked the horsemen in the effort to stem the westward sweep of the Bolsheviki.

VOLUNTEERS ASKED.

Volunteers for immediate service against the advancing Russian Bolshevik forces are called for by the Polish National Council of Defense in a manifesto. Men unfit for active service are urged to register in order to release office men for duty at the front.

The document, which bears the signature of President Pilsudski, declares the struggle is a fight against Bolshevism rather than against Russia.

Another proclamation, addressed to the soldiers, says the decisive moment has arrived. It assures the soldiers that in case they are wounded their income will be continued by the government, and that provision will be made by the government for the families of those killed in battle.

WOMEN OFFER THEMSELVES.

Volunteers for active service in the army are offering themselves from every side. Among these are school and university teachers, students, boy scouts, civil servants and ministerial employees, whose occupations excuse them from military service. The students are enlisted in such numbers that the Warsaw universities have been closed.

Hundreds of girls and women have taken initial steps to join the army. Yesterday uniformed women soldiers, with women officers, paraded the streets singing, and for the first time Warsaw saw detachments of female recruits under the guidance of women officers marching to the barracks.

Many recruits were strong girls in short skirts and shirt waists with braided hair hanging down their backs. The sight of female recruits aroused enthusiasm everywhere along the principal streets. Mixed with the girl recruits, were women of from 25 to 30 years who swung parasols, purses and market packages in arms which soon will carry rifles.

The women's battalions will be used chiefly for guard duty in garrisons and food depots and as train escorts, thus relieving men for the front lines.

The Socialist Party Central Committee today issued the following proclamation:

"When the Polish troops were advancing we demanded peace, but now we ought to defend ourselves firmly. We appeal to the soldiers to fulfill their promise to the country against the offenders. The government, however, ought to give guarantees that it desires peace, declare to the world that Poland desires a just peace, and address to the soviet government proposals for peace negotiations."

BRITISH STATEMENT.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, July 8.—Russian Bolshevik forces have smashed their way forward on the southern flank of the Polish front, and soviet military authorities claim success near Staro-Konstantinov, toward which town they are driving the Poles, according to a Bolshevik statement received here by wireless.

Soviet forces have reached Lititchov, twenty-four miles east of Proskirov, and have occupied Mohilev-Dolsk. Heavy fighting is going on between the Bolsheviki and Gen. Wrangel's forces on the southern front, the statement says.

A Central News dispatch from Berlin, dated Wednesday, reports that preparations are proceeding for a revolution in Brunswick. The extreme radicals, it is declared, are working feverishly on plans for a general strike at the week-end, and a new revolutionary committee is said to have arranged for a big mass meeting within a day or two, to consider the question of drastic action.

TO DEPORT ALIENS.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, July 8.—Lifting of the trade embargo against Russia by the United States, with the consequent resumption of commercial sailings to Russian ports, is expected by officials of the Department of Labor to facilitate the deportation of undesirable aliens. Approximately six hundred Russian Communists and Anarchists, in addition to three hundred aliens from states contiguous to Russia, now are awaiting deportation.

Since the departure of the soviet ark Buford plans for further deportations to Russia have been retarded on account of the impossibility to arrange for the transportation of aliens on commercial liners to Russian ports.

Decreasing production and impaired credits in soviet Russia will, officials believe, make impossible any material increase in commerce, notwithstanding removal by the State Department of restrictions on trade.

SPEECHES MISLEADING.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

AMSTERDAM, July 8.—The Tageblatt of Berlin, commenting on the conference at Spa between representatives of the Allied powers and Germany, says:

"The speech of Gessler (German Minister of Defense) led to the misunderstanding that he would not be willing to execute the treaty, while the speech of Fehrenbach (German Chancellor) made the impression upon Premier Lloyd George that the Chancellor would fill up time with promises. The British Premier intends to go straight to the point and the Germans must accommodate themselves to this and work methodically."

The Freiheit, the organ of the Independent Socialists, says: "The attitude of the German government is constantly endangering the negotiations."

HASKELL QUITS POST.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 7.—Col. William N. Haskell, the American officer who has been high commissioner of the Allies to Armenia since July, 1919, has resigned. His resignation will become effective when the British evacuate Batum.

The British, who apparently are preparing to leave Batum before July 18, have blown up all the fortifications on the theory that Batum should be a free port and open town in Georgian territory.

The Bolshevik embassy in Tiflis, consisting of forty-eight persons, provided with many expensive automobiles, has requisitioned the best houses in Tiflis. The embassy is actively engaged in propaganda work.

PLOT OF ODD ANGLES, SAY CHICAGO POLICE.

SHOOTING OF SOLDIER'S WIFE AND STRANGER LEADS TO SPECULATIONS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, July 8.—A robbery plot in connection with the shooting of the wife of Lieut. Carl Wanderer and a strange man in the vestibule of the Wanderer home on the night of June 21, was a new theory advanced by police tonight following their interrogation of the lieutenant. They declared they had discovered that Mrs. Wanderer had withdrawn $1500 from a bank two days previous to the shooting. The money, they added, was later found in the Wanderer home.

Police said that Wanderer had told them he had planned to reenter the army. Police added that they were working on the theory that the lieutenant "might have decided to frame up a robbery of his wife and get the money." The police said that "it is impossible the stranger had been employed by Wanderer to commit the robbery and that in the darkened vestibule he fired by mistake. Then, after he shot Mrs. Wanderer, her husband was forced to shoot him to cover up the conspiracy."

Wanderer, according to the police, admitted that both guns used in the shooting were his property.

HARDING GREETS MEN EMPLOYED ON "STAR."

REPUBLICAN PRESIDENTIAL NOMINEE WANTS TO "MAKE UP" SOME DAY.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

MARION, July 8.—While away from his office today, Senator Harding stopped at the Marion Star, of which he is publisher, in order to shake hands with "the boys." Among those to greet him was Lew Miller, 75 years old, a printer, who has been employed in the Star's composing room since the Senator purchased the paper thirty-six years ago.

"Some day when I have some leisure," Senator Harding later confided to the newspaper correspondents, "I am going down and 'make up' the paper. I enjoy doing that. I like to go down to the make-up room in the hurry up hour. I love the excitement of it."

The Senator also inquired whether any of the newspaper men had ever "made up" a newspaper and challenged any to compete with him.

A telegram expressing appreciation over the statement made public yesterday by Senator Johnson, Republican, of California, announcing his support of the Republican ticket, today was sent by Senator Harding to the California Senator. It was not made public, however, the Senator leaving that matter to the California Senator if he saw fit to do so.

ANTI-JAP MOVEMENT PROTESTED IN NIPPON.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

HONOLULU (T. H.) July 8.—A resolution protesting against the anti-Japanese movement in California was passed yesterday at a mass meeting in the prefecture of Hiroshima, Japan, according to a Tokio cable to Nippu Jiji, a Japanese newspaper here. A copy of the resolution was sent to the American Charge d'Affaires with the request that he transmit it to Washington.

The resolution declares the economic development of Japanese residents in California is unjustly blocked by the anti-Japanese actions.

RELEASE FUNDS FOR FLOOD CONTROL WORK

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, July 8.—The government's appropriation of $500,000 for continuing flood control work on the lower Sacramento River has been matched by the State of California.

Gov. Stephens has notified the State Reclamation Board he has directed State Treasurer Richardson to draw a warrant against the State treasury for half a million dollars in order to place the State in a position to take full advantage of the government's offer.

ANTISALOON NEMESIS CONFRONTS CANDIDATES

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WESTERVILLE (O.) July 8.—The attitude of the Anti-Saloon League of America, in the coming campaign will be decided in Columbus, on July 22, at a meeting of the organization's executive committee, according to announcement made here today. The league has not yet issued any statement with reference to its attitude toward the candidacies of Gov. Cox and Senator Harding.

SHIPPING AT HAVANA HELD UP BY STRIKE.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, July 8.—Possible measures for alleviating the congestion of shipping at Havana, reported as serious because of recent longshoremen's strikes, will be considered at a conference of representatives of American trade and shipping interests called today by Secretary Alexander to meet here Friday.

Approximately 125 ships are reported awaiting discharge of receipt of cargo at Havana.

MAKING IT SAFE FOR DEMOCRATS

Negroes Who Vote Ticket Right Are Not Lynched.

G.O.P. Blacks Disappear, Senators Are Told.

Wild Use of Money in Georgia Campaign Alleged.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

CHICAGO, July 8.—Negroes who have voted the Republican ticket in Georgia have "disappeared and never been heard of again," Henry Lincoln Johnson, negro Republican national committeeman, told the Senate Committee investigating campaign expenditures today.

The committee was questioning Johnson about lynchings in the South. "They don't lynch men for belonging to the Republican party, do they?" asked Senator Kenyon.

"Oh, yes, they do," Johnson replied. "Many a negro voting the Republican ticket has disappeared and no tidings have ever been heard of him."

Referring to other causes of lynchings, Johnson asserted the great trouble was that white men were allowed to attack negro girls without punishment. He cited alleged instances of white soldiers attacking negro girls during the war, and said the soldiers, though discovered, went unpunished.

WILD USE OF MONEY.

In Dublin, during the pre-war convention campaign, there was "wild use of money," the witness asserted. "I spent only $150 there," he explained, "but the other fellows spent more than $2000."

"The other fellows," he said, "were representatives of Maj.-Gen. Leonard Wood."

Asked if Wood supporters "bought delegates," Johnson said he didn't know, but "they did pass out plenty of jack."

Clare L. Grier, former postmaster of Augusta, was the "pay-off man" for the Wood people, he said, adding that Grier worked under direct orders from Frank Hitchcock, former Postmaster-General in the Roosevelt Cabinet.

VOTES ARE COSTLY.

Democrats paid from $5 to $8000 for votes in Georgia this year and "generally spent more money than the Republicans," Johnson told the committee. He declared he would "need about $50,000 to combat some Democratic conditions there."

The steam roller in the Republican National Convention was an "institution of benevolence" compared with the Democratic "steam roller in Georgia," Johnson said, adding that conditions there were controlled by the administration.

Senator Kenyon suddenly turned to the Palmer campaign in Georgia, asking Johnson if officials of the Department of Justice took part in the Attorney-General's campaign there.

"Hooper L. Alexander of Atlanta was the leader," Johnson said.

Other questions concerning activities of the Department of Justice in Georgia brought no definite information.

CHARGES DENIED.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 8.—Edward F. Goltra, Democratic national committeeman of Missouri, and Joseph T. Davis, both of St. Louis, mentioned in connection with an invitation in Chicago and St. Louis by the Senate Committee investigating preconvention campaign expenses of Atty.-Gen. Palmer, today denied knowledge of or participation in any campaign irregularities.

Goltra characterized the charges of irregularities as "ridiculous." Both Davis and Goltra announced their willingness to testify before the committee.

"I took an interest in the Palmer campaign but was in no way a part of the campaign management," Davis said.

PHELAN'S NOMINATION PAPERS ARE PREPARED

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 8.—Announcement that papers placing him in nomination to succeed himself were being prepared, was made for U. S. Senator James D. Phelan by his secretary here today. Senator Phelan is a Democrat and will seek re-election on that ticket.

No formal declaration of the Senator's candidacy would be made, it was announced, other than the filing of the papers.

DEMOCRAT DELEGATE HIT BY STREET CAR.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 8.—Col. J. S. Padgett, vice-chairman of the South Carolina delegation to the Democratic National Convention, is suffering from concussion of the brain and probably a fractured skull as a result of being hit by a street car, hospital authorities reported today.

Col. Padgett's home is in Waterboro, S. C. He was to have returned there today.

A Home in Walnut Park. This Quaint Spanish Style of Architecture Has Been Embodied in the Many Adobe Houses Recently Built in This Attractive Tree-Covered Subdivision.

Adobe

—for Permanence
—for Real Economy

Adobe material is just as permanent as brick or tile—and costs you less than half as much. A house recently constructed of adobe in Inglewood went through the earthquake without the slightest injury, while brick structures on all sides of it were destroyed or severely damaged. The houses of modernized adobe construction in Walnut Park have aroused an interest far beyond expectations. They have been copied in all parts of Southern California. The adobe walls shut out the summer heat and the winter cold. The interiors of these homes offer every modern convenience and reflect much careful thought in arrangement and beautification. They can be bought on easy monthly terms like rent. Join us on our next free excursion and see these homes that have caused such wide-spread comment.

Bus Leaves 522½ South Hill Street, today at 10:30 A. M. (First Door North of B. & M. Cafeteria, Opposite Pershing Square.) Free Luncheon Specially Prepared—Delicious Home Cooking. Other Excursions Saturday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Walnut Park, the home of "modernized adobe," is one of the most beautiful residence places in or suburban to Los Angeles. To enter Walnut Park, with its wealth of green trees and lawns and fragrant flowers, is like taking a refreshing dip in the surf on a hot summer's day. There are also many cosy frame dwellings in the attractive colonial style in Walnut Park—a few still available on terms like rent. Large homesites with full-bearing income-producing walnut trees for $800. Easiest terms. Walnut Park is located on 5c yellow car lines and on fine Boulevards at the city's southern edge. City conveniences, but no city taxes. Come with us, or, if you prefer, take Huntington Park car going east on Seventh Street—or drive south to Slauson Ave., east to Long Beach Boulevard, then south to the tract. Walnut Park is backed by such representative men as

FOR SALE—

A FINE OLD HOME.

Once in a while, even in Hollywood, we are able to offer a rare bargain in fine homes. This is one of these bargains. We are the personal agents for the owners of a very beautiful estate located in the heart of Hollywood, on Prospect hill. An acre piece, averaging 140x250 ft., under perfection of cultivation, with fine old 3-room modern bungalow, rustic seats and winding shaded paths—a very finely built old-fashioned home of Spanish type of architecture; 12 large rooms, also rooms in garage; 3 baths. This is an opportunity to buy a rare $10,000 home at a price far below its real property before. Do your own remodeling on this fine home and own a property which is worth $75,000 to $100,000. Phone are reasonable the owners must sell and go away. We are offering this property at $35,000. There is room for two more homes of this character which the owner will sell for $12,000, should you require more land. Forward, HOLLYWOOD BLVD. It places you in the exclusive residence district. It places the "owner is going away" because he says he can't afford to live in this $35,000 home which he did build for himself.

FAVOR ALL JUDGES.

Hundred and Twelve Votes Were Cast for All Incumbents.

The fact that 112 votes were cast in favor of the re-election of all the present judges in the poll taken by the Los Angeles Bar Association was yesterday called to the attention of Attorney Guy Crump, and he states that in fairness to the judges and all concerned, these 112 should be included in the total in favor of each incumbent. This number is in addition to the 830 votes tabulated on the question of how many and which of the incumbents should be elected, says Mr. Crump's statement.

In the cases of four judges—Reeve, Monroe, Jackson and Taft—more votes opposing their return were cast than favoring it. However, the addition of the 112 ballots gives a favorable majority to the first three named.

State Road Bond Initiative Petitions Put Out.

Thirty Thousand Signatures Needed in This County.

Commerce Board Aids Move for Highway Funds.

Definite action on the State road bond initiative was started yesterday when 150 workers were placed throughout the county to obtain the signatures necessary to place the proposed law on the ballot. Los Angeles county alone must furnish 30,000 signatures before next Wednesday and everyone interested in the welfare of the State is urged by the Chamber of Commerce to sign the petition, which provides for relief in the State highway construction situation. The Automobile Club of Southern California, chambers of commerce and civic organizations, are working with the petitions.

INTEREST RELIEF.

If State road work is discontinued the $6,000,000 appropriated by the government for the purpose will be forfeited. Passage of the proposed law will relieve Los Angeles county of $96,000 annual interest on bonds after July 1, 1921. Only vital construction work will be done and the money derived from the bond sales will be utilized to the best possible advantage.

The money needed to carry out State highway construction program has not been forthcoming, owing to the low rate of interest on the $40,000,000 bond issue, voted nearly a year ago, which has held back their sale, and to relieve this situation all civic organizations of the county have united in an effort to have a higher rate of interest legalized. The Chamber of Commerce has officially favored a raise not to exceed 6 per cent so that these bonds may compete with other securities.

The delay in road construction is a matter of grave concern to growers in various localities who must depend largely upon Los Angeles as a market for their early fruits and vegetables.

PROTEST DELAY.

Sharp complaints have recently reached the Chamber of Commerce from residents of Coachella Valley concerning the bad condition of the Ocean-to-Ocean Highway. Orders placed three weeks ago by Los Angeles citizens for Coachella Valley onions have only just been filled, owing to bad road conditions The first truckload of the onions met with a mishap on the way and had to be dumped in the desert. Two other trucks made the trip to Los Angeles, but could not carry to full capacity.

Protests against further delay in road work also are being made by ranchers of Imperial Valley. The ranchers of Imperial Valley. The El recent meeting unanimously moved to urge the State Highway Commission to complete the paved road between Yuma and Los Angeles at the earliest possible date.

THREE GOVERNORS ARRIVE FROM NORTH.

Thorough belief in party unity and complete satisfaction over the choice of candidates and over the platform at the Democratic convention was expressed here last night by several governors and other Bourbon leaders, who arrived from San Francisco. Gov. Richie of Maryland, Gov. Hobby of Texas and Gov. Campbell of Arizona and Cone Johnson, leading Democrat of Texas, were among the visitors.

"Good ticket, splendid platform, fine convention," is the way they described the situation. Gov. Hobby was exceptionally optimistic. He stated that he looks for a big Democratic victory in the fall and expressed his satisfaction over the platform and the candidate. All of the visitors were more enthusiastic over hte platform than over the candidates, however.

Yesterday Gov. Richie visited the moving picture studios with Mayor Snyder. Today Gov. Smith of New York will arrive with a large party.

BOOTLEGGING CHARGE MADE IN LAND SUIT.

Charging that Erwin Dingle and George Collins between June 15 and 18 permitted liquor to be taken onto leased property in Laurel Canyon and sold there, the Laurel Canyon Land Company, owner of the property, yesterday filed in the Superior Court a suit in claim and delivery. Damages of $500 and possession of the land are asked. The plaintiff states that the property was leased for the purpose of conducting a restaurant and hotel.

The company recently complained to the Board of Supervisors that noise and automobile congestion near the Dingle and Collins place were objectionable to various people in the canyon.

RIPLEY WILL FILED IN CHICAGO COURTS.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

CHICAGO, July 8.—The estate of Edward Payson Ripley, late president of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway, is valued at $720,000, according to an inventory filed in probate court today.

Personal property valued at $600,000, and the balance in real estate in California and other States, is included.

Large Number to Make Returns.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, July 8. — The Bureau of Internal Revenue estimated tonight that 325,000 capital stock tax returns would be made on or before July 31. Every corporation in the United States is required to make a return.

The bureau suggested that checks for the amounts due be submitted with the returns to lessen liability for penalty.

One Killed in Motor Explosion.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CLEVELAND, July 8.—An explosion at the Jordan Motor Car Company's plant here today resulted in the instant death of one man, injury to three others and caused property damage estimated at nearly $100,000. Production will be at a standstill for at least two weeks, Edward S. Jordan, president, announced.

KISSES FOLLOW HIS ACQUITTAL.

Capt. Potter Found Not Guilty of Shooting Wife.

Women Jurors Felicitate Last Osculatory-Wise.

Arouses Him, Then Regrets It; Leave Arm in Arm.

Capt. Raymond C. Potter was acquitted by a jury in Judge Craig's court yesterday after a deliberation of six hours of the charge of making a murderous attack upon his wife, Vivian H. Potter, on the evening of December 28, last, when Mrs. Potter was returning from Venice in a Pacific Electric car in company with a man friend. The couple were reconciled before the case that has just been concluded. At the first hearing, where the jury disagreed, the wife testified against her husband, but at the second trial she cleared her mind, saying she did not know who shot her.

The jury had some trouble in getting the case yesterday. Mrs. Lillie Phillips of 1338 Lawrence street, a juror, delayed the opening of the court thirty-five minutes. The juror was missing when the proceedings on the day began. An attempt was made to reach her by telephone, but there was no reply. Then a deputy sheriff was hastily sent to the home in an automobile to bring the missing woman. The officer had hardly disappeared on his quest when Mrs. Phillips arrived, saying she could not get a car. Judge Craig reprimanded her and the others were ordered in the box tittered.

Then were eight women on the jury and the body voted nine for acquittal and three for conviction on the first ballot. It then shifted four to eight for acquittal and then unanimous for acquittal.

As the jury was dismissed all the women jurors pressed about Mrs. Potter and kissed her.

Capt. Potter and his wife left the courtroom arm in arm. They said they would profit by their experience.

WOULD CUT CRIME LIST BY LIGHTING UP.

Electric lights are needed inside of the tunnels under Fern Drive and Avenue 43 in the Rose Hill district, according to a complaint from Samuel W. Wheeler of 637 Amethyst street, which was read to the Council yesterday. Mr. Wheeler declared that the dark subways for pedestrians which were built as a result of the extension of Huntington Drive, have caused crimes to be committed there. The Council directed immediate action by the City Engineer to illuminate the tunnels.

DIVORCE IS WON, LOST IN A JIFFY.

Says Mate Cannot Support Her, Then Seeks Alimony; Gets Nothing at All.

Mrs. Laura K. Fisk nearly had a divorce, yesterday in Judge Crail's court, from Edwin T. Fisk, a Broadway real estate operator, but in the end the decree was denied.

Mrs. Fisk testified that her husband had deserted her, and that, as neither parent was able to support a 13-year-old daughter, she had allowed the girl to go with Mr. Fisk or his brother. She said her husband was also unable to support her.

At this juncture the court indicated that he would award her a divorce decree.

But when Mrs. Fisk asked for $100 a month alimony, the court, on the wife's own testimony regarding her husband's inability to support her denied the request. On the request of Attorneys Williams and Williams, the wife's attorneys, the case was then reopened and Mrs. Fisk testified that her husband has a large income from his business and owns an estate of $25,000.

The court thereupon said he had made a mistake in saying the divorce might be granted. He denied the decree.

The Fisks were married July 9, 1904, and separated in October, 1918.

MANY SALVATIONISTS AT FUNERAL OF CHIEF.

SERVICES AT CEMETERY FOR EXECUTIVE FOLLOWED BY MEMORIAL MEETING.

Salvation Army leaders from all parts of California were present yesterday at the funeral services held at Inglewood Cemetery at the burial of the late Lieut.-Col. Henry C. Lee, who for the last five years has been chief executive for the Salvationists in this State. Col. Lee, who is survived by his widow and a daughter, had been in Salvation Army work for thirty-seven years. He died Monday at Banning, where he was spending a sick furlough.

Col. A. Brewer, who now succeeds to command in California, conducted the burial service and also the large memorial meeting which was held last night at 121 Wilmington street. He was assisted by Salvation Army officers from all parts of the State, including Col. and Mrs. Dubbin, Mrs. Brewer, Brig. Reed and Brig. Jordan of San Francisco, Col. S. Rees, Col. B. B. Cox, Brig. and Mrs. Boyd, Brig. Gooding, Maj. Coggeshall, Maj. Galley and Col. T. Wood of Tonga.

Messages of condolence, which were received from many parts of the world, included a telegram from Commander E. C. Booth from London, Eng.

FISH PRICE WAR HITS HUNDREDS.

Purse Seine Boatmen Strike, Make Many Others Idle.

Ask "Impossible" Figure for Tuna, Canners Declare.

Police Force Strengthened as Riot is Feared.

Leaving hundreds of fishermen idle, other hundreds of men and women cannery workers without employment, and crippling the largest industry at the harbor, the purse seine boatmen are on strike at the Los Angeles water front.

The trouble is over the price the canners are to pay for tuna. They offered a top price of $125 a ton for blue fin tuna delivered at the cannery. The purse seine boat owners demanded $160. This is an impossible price, declare the canners. They say that blue fin would not sell at the price they would have to fix on the case lot if they had to pay the fishermen's demand.

A labor-union angle was injected into the controversy when the boat pullers, who belong to the International Fishermen's Union, informed the boat owners they would not go out if the launches unless the canners gave the top price.

POLICE ON WATCH.

Many purse seine boat owners owe money to the canneries. Their launches cost anywhere from $2000 to $10,000. Many of the fishermen have shares in the boats.

In anticipation of trouble, Capt. Spellman, in command of the harbor police, has put more men on the night shift and has plainclothesmen patroling the fish harbor district.

So far there has been no open violence, the police say, but a riot may break out at any time, canners say.

Only a feeble attempt to break the strike has thus far been made. One independent boat put to sea for the announced purpose of seining tuna. A number of other boats put after her and soon the strike-breaking craft returned to port without any fish.

GREAT LOSS FEARED.

Just how to break the strike when the owners of the boats themselves cannot put to sea without their pullers, no one seems to know. A meeting held yesterday between representatives of the Van Camp Sea Food Company and the owners of a score of boats that fish exclusively for that concern resulted in nothing definite.

As July is the banner month for tuna fishing, and as the packing industry has grown to enormous proportions, business men in the harbor section say that the continuance of the strike will result in great loss.

Many advocate putting the whole matter up to the Federal authorities to see if the deadlock cannot be broken. Others say that an agreement is in the making and that by next week the purse seine fishing craft will be up the channel after the bluefin tuna, which are reported running in large schools.

Technical Point Blocks Program for Dual Jury.

By reason of a judicial technicality not being observed when a panel for a new Federal court grand jury was drawn last week to report July 15, U. S. District Judge Trippet yesterday made an order vacating the action heretofore taken in that respect. The sixty-five men notified to appear next Thursday will be told not to attend as originally intended, but another drawing for a grand jury will be taken the coming week, the date for its convening being as yet undetermined.

It is the desire of U. S. Atty. O'Connor to have two grand juries, the present body to remain in session until the present investigation into the high cost of living and the local gasoline situation is concluded the new body to take up current cases. All of the evidence secured by the agents of the Department of Justice along the lines indicated has been given to the present body, and it is considered good policy not to be compelled to do the same work over again with a new one.

The grand jury was in session yesterday afternoon, but no report was made to the court. Testimony on both the question of profiteering and some phases of the gasoline situation were gone into by some of the witnesses. The railway freight men will be called before the body today to tell what they know about the lessening of the supply of gasoline and the boosting of the place, happening simultaneously. Special Asst. Atty.-Gen. Payne will be in charge of this feature of the proceedings today.

DIVINE SAFE ABROAD.

Rev. George Davidson Cables Mother of Arrival in London.

Rev. George Davidson, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church has arrived in London safely, according to a cable received last night by his mother, Mrs. M. F. Davidson.

Dr. Davidson went to England to attend the Lambeth Conference there. The Lambeth Conference is a meeting of all English-speaking bishops in this country as well as in England and her possessions, and meets once in eleven years in the Lambeth Palace, London. From London, he expects to go on to Geneva, Switzerland, to attend the Czecho-Slovak conferences. Dr. Davidson left Los Angeles June 16 and expects to return about the middle of September.

SPECIAL PRIVILEGE PLAN HIT.

Business Men Oppose Law to Legalize Taxi Stands on Streets.

Protesting against any amendment to the present traffic ordinance which would legalize taxicab stands in the congested district of the city, Secretary George M. Babcock of the Business Men's Co-operative Association and Alfred E. Adams of the Retail Dry Goods Merchants' Association yesterday afternoon appeared before the Board of Public Utilities at a hearing in the Council chamber at the City Hall. President Harry Wright of the Auto Livery Owners' Association, Vernon Goodwin of the Alexandria, W. H. McManus and owners of "for hire" automobiles and sight-seeing busses spoke in favor of permitting by ordinance a continuation of the present plan of allowing public automobiles to stand at designated places in the downtown section.

The representatives of the merchants declared that the amendment asked by the taxi owners was in the nature of granting them a special privelege of selling their merchandise on the public streets and was a discrimination against owners of private automobiles, who are limited to forty-five-minute parking, and against merchants who are not permitted to sell their wares in the streets. The taxi men replied that taxicabs are a public necessity, and declared that every large city in the United States as recognizes them and provides stands where machines may wait for trade.

The board took the matter under advisement, and will later embody its recommendations in a report to the Council, which has the power to amend the traffic ordinance if it desires.

Service Council World Aid Those Discharged from Hospital.

Under the auspices of the Council of Community Service a campaign has been launched to provide clothing for patients discharged from the County Hospital. The council reports that an average of thirty-seven men and women leave the hospital every week without adequate clothing to meet the conditions of life.

By telephoning the Council of Community Service headquarters at the City Hall—phones 60211 or Main 9060—hospital automobiles will call for clothing or garments may be left at any of the following centers: Boyle Heights branch of the Public Library; rooms 215, 219 Coulter Building, 213 South Broadway; 1609 Second avenue, 882 East Forty-second street, 1802 Toberman street, 311 North Avenue 66, Women's Auxiliary, American Legion, Post No. 5, eighth floor, Broadway Department Store, 120 Temple street, 1012 North Ardmore street, and Vermont Square branch library, 1201 West Forty-eighth street.

LEGION RITUAL USED.

New Burial Service Read Here First time at Captain's Funeral.

The funeral of Capt. C. DeForest Howry, who died Monday as the result of an automobile accident, was held from the Peck & Chase funeral parlors yesterday afternoon and was the first funeral in Los Angeles at which the recently adopted ritual of the American Legion was used. Capt. Howry was dressed in uniform, the casket was draped with the flag and that part of the service was conducted by Rev. Louis C. Bodelon, chaplain of Victory Post No. 54, American Legion. Leo D. Daze, commander of the post; Benjamin Bogárdus, secretary, and Harry C. Boehme, Martin J. Koppel, Hamish B. Eddie, Burgess H. Humason, August W. Smith, Monte A. Stokes, Harry G. Keiper and A. C. Houghton were the escort of honor. After the service Mr. Keiper blew taps on the bugle, while the Legionnaires stood at attention. Mr. Beyo of the Christian Science church also spoke and Mrs. L. J. Selby sang. The body was cremated.

TROUBLES MULTIPLY.

Bankruptcy Petitioner now Charged with Stealing Potatoes.

E. B. McCormick, a former garden truck dealer of Pasadena, who recently filed a petition in bankruptcy in the United States District Court, was arraigned before Judge Craig yesterday on the charge of stealing 736 sacks of potatoes, valued at $5333, the property of the Crown Transfer and Storage Company and the National Bank of Pasadena, and he was given until July 19 to enter his plea. In default of $2000 bond he was committed to the County Jail. McCormick was indicted by the county grand jury.

DRAWN BY GIRLS' CLUB.

Wife of Oil King's Son Interested in Hollywood Organization.

Although it was not generally known, one of the main purposes of the visit of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., to Los Angeles Wednesday was to visit the Hollywood Studio Club and a large part of that afternoon was given over by the distinguished visitors to an unheralded call there. Mrs. Rockefeller is a member of the Y.W.C.A. national board, under the auspices of which the Hollywood Studio Club is now being conducted, and her personal interest in this organization led to the visit, in which she was accompanied by Mr. Rockefeller and their children, as well as other members of the party.

SEEKS TO FIGHT DUEL OVER WIFE

Jealous Army Captain Sends Challenge to Major.

Irene Rich, Dustin Farnum's Lead, Wins Divorce.

Burning Love Letters Given Publicity in Court.

How Capt. Charles Henry Rich, later a lieutenant-colonel of infantry, virtually challenged Maj. J. W. Hanner, at that time in charge of a department of Letterman General Hospital, at the Presidio, San Francisco, was disclosed yesterday in letters introduced in evidence in Judge Shenk's court in the divorce suit of Mrs. Irene Rich against Capt. Rich. The court granted a divorce decree to Mrs. Rich, who is a cinema actress, playing leading roles with Dustin Farnum and Will Rogers, after she and her mother, Mrs. Emma Luther, testified to what they called an "obsession" of Capt. Rich's that his wife did not love him.

Burning love letters, written by Capt. Rich while he was stationed at Scofield Barracks, Hawaii, to Mrs. Rich, who was confined at Letterman General Hospital, were made exhibits in the case. Wedged in between them was a letter written by Capt. Rich to Maj. Hanner, accusing the latter of paying too much attention to Mrs. Rich, and asking for an appointed place to meet the major. Another letter, written in reply by Maj. Hanner, denounces the captain's letter as "bluster, Billingsgate and threats," unfounded and uncalled for, except by the captain's own obsession of wrong-doing that did not exist. Maj. Hanner also replied that he would be ready at any time the captain called upon him.

Evidence did not bring out anything regarding the meeting of the two officers, though Mrs. Luther and Mrs. Rich testified that Capt. Rich cabled his wife, then ill in the hospital, to meet him on board ship when he arrived at San Francisco in 1916 by going out to the ship on a tugboat and climbing a rope ladder to the deck.

"It was unjust to expect her to climb a rope ladder in her condition," testified Mrs. Luther, the mother.

Shortly before the couple separated, on December 6, 1916, Mrs. Luther testified, Capt. Rich stormed and cursed his wife, saying, "I will not share my kisses with any man." She said he did not charge his wife with improper conduct. Mrs. Luther testified that Capt. Rich informed numerous army acquaintances that "Irene and I are not living together any more; it is a case of another man."

Mrs. Luther said Maj. Hanner merely showed Mrs. Rich the attention a surgeon would to a woman in her condition at that time.

Interrogated by Roy V. Rhodes, her attorney, Mrs. Rich said she does not know exactly where her husband now is, but believes he is stationed in New York. She said he was a graduate of West Point and was highly esteemed in army circles. She said he has resumed his captaincy, but will again become a lieutenant-colonel.

The couple were married on January 9, 1915, at Portland, and separated on December 6, 1916. A court at Honolulu allowed Mrs. Rich $125 a month alimony, but by consent this was reduced to $50 a month. Mrs. Rich formerly lived with her husband at Fort George Wright, Spokane, and previously had lived at Buffalo, N. Y.

Mrs. Rich won considerable praise about a year ago when she rescued Nick Cogley, a motion picture actor, after he fell into the San Lorenzo River, near Santa Cruz.

RECONCILIATION ON DIVORCE SUIT HEELS.

PROMINENT ITALIAN AND WIFE "MAKE UP" AFTER HE ASKS LEGAL SEPARATION.

Less than a month after he filed suit for a divorce John Giovanazzi, business man and prominent member of the local Italian colony, arrived at a better understanding with his mate, and it was learned yesterday that they had decided to resume their marital relations.

When he filed suit for divorce, June 10, through Attorney Guy Eddie, Mr. Giovanazzi declared in his complaint that his wife had been guilty of cruelty. For six weeks they had not lived together, but yesterday both of them visited the office of Attorney Eddie and told him that they had patched up their troubles and were going to try married life again.

Attorney Eddie said last night that he supposed a motion to withdraw the complaint would be, in order, although, according to his statement, he has not been requested by Mr. Giovanazzi to drop the suit. The Giovanazzis could not be reached.

WIDOW ASKS FORTUNE.

Suing Sons for Heritage, Tells of Track Gambling Losses.

Telling of the loss of a fortune by betting at the race track, Mrs. Alice L. Lowenstein began yesterday in Judge Hewitt's court a fight to gain possession of $50,000 worth of property included in the estate of her late husband. She is suing Alfred Lowenstein, a stepson, and George Gaul, her son by a former marriage, to quiet title to the property. Mr. Gaul is not contesting the case. He is administrator of the estate.

Mrs. Lowenstein states the property in question was bought with money made from an investment of her share in a division of property with her husband. The trial will be continued today.

Gets Divorce from West Pointer.

Mrs. Irene Rich.

TRIAL'S STOPPED BY SCANDAL TESTIMONY.

POLICEMEN TELL OF RAID IN HOTEL; OSBORNE DIVORCE ACTION HALTS SHORT.

Fllowing surprise testimony by two members of the "purity squad" of the Long Beach police department, regarding a raid on a hotel room that they said was occupied by Leon T. Osborne and Miss Edythe Sterling, motion-picture actress, trial of the divorce suit brought by Mrs. Edythe Osborne was suddenly adjourned yesterday in Judge Stephens's court.

Mrs. Osborne is suing for a divorce and for the custody of Marie Osborne, 8-year-film star, and for one other child. The officers, Garrett Clendenning and John D. Walmot, testified that they traced Mr. Osborne to a hotel room and found him there attired in a well-known brand of underwear. They said Miss Sterling was there also. No arrest was made, they testified.

Following this testimony a conference was held between opposing counsel and by agreement the case was continued until today. This conference led to a rumor that some sort of a settlement had been reached by the attorneys rgarding the case.

Another Faker Flashes Pistol; Takes Cash.

Mrs. E. J. Watrey of 1943 Forty-first Drive reported to the police yesterday morning that a man who came to the back door of her home and announced that he had come to read the gas meter had held her up at the point of a gun and robbed her of $20 which she was compelled to take from a writing desk. As soon as she had given him the money, she said he fled from the house and made his getaway in a speedster.

A man answering the description which Mrs. Watrey gave to Detectives Hamlin and Alvarado, who investigated, was later reported to have cut his way through the back door of the residence of Mrs. Peter Phill at 1420 Manchester street and ransacked the place of clothing and jewelry to the extent of $500. Michael Wagner, brother-in-law of Mrs. Phill, told the police that he had seen the burglar leaving in a speedster.

Shifts Made in "Camel" Squad; Handley Accepts.

Changes in the prohibition enforcement officers were announced yesterday.

Arthur O. Kriete is to be given the job of chief deputy prohibition director, succeeding John L. Considine, who was named some time ago as supervising agent of the five Western States, including California. The news was brought to the city by Lorin A. Handley, who was recently named as prohibition director for Southern California and has concluded to accept. Mr. Considine is now in Washington attending a meeting of prohibition agents from all over the country called by Director Kramer.

It is understood that Ralph Groves, son of Register Groves of the local Land Office, will succeed Mr. Kriete as prohibition agent, who has been in charge of the work since January 16. The job pays $2750 a year.

Federal Prohibition Director Handley, who gets $5000 a year, will soon open offices in the International Bank Building. It is understood that Messrs. Kriete and Groves will operate from the same place.

Pleads to Guard Mother's Grave in Killing Case.

Boyd W. Thorne, 2151 Harvard Boulevard, yesterday protested to the District Attorney's office that he would rather have a charge of manslaughter against Emily A. Smock, growing out of the death of his mother, Mrs. Tzora Thorne, dismissed than have the mother's body exhumed. The case will be heard today before Justice Hinshaw with Dep. Dist.-Atty. Fitts prosecuting and Griffith Jones as defense counsel. Mrs. Smock is accused of having driven her car at a speed of more than thirty miles an hour past a standing street car, last June 27, knocking Mrs. Thorne down, and causing injuries which are supposed to have brought about death.

Mr. Thorne swore to a complaint against Mrs. Smock, after his mother had been buried at Rosedale Cemetery. When he learned it would be necessary to exhume the body he protested.

It was stated by the prosecution that after the State's testimony is in the body will be exhumed, if necessary, regardless of Mr. Thorne's wishes.

FIGURES SHOW YELLOW MENACE

Japanese Birth Rate Rising, Health Report Shows.

Nipponese in a Half Century Will Outnumber Whites.

Now Control Vast Acreage and Important Industries.

Declaring that the Japanese menace is especially acute in Los Angeles county and that, among other disastrous indications, the Japanese birth rate has increased 9 per cent in the last five years, while the white birth rate has decreased 14 per cent in the same time, Supervisor Bean yesterday made public the results of the recent survey of the Japanese situation in this county.

The survey was made at Supervisor Bean's suggestion by the County Board of Health. It shows, Mr. Bean declares, that if the same birth rate progress and retrogression are maintained by the Japanese and whites respectively for fifty-two years, half of the babies born in the State will be Japanese.

"During the last five years," said Mr. Bean, "nearly 2500 Japanese children were born in the uninorporated districts of the county. The average number of births each year was about 450. The percentage of Japanese to the total births has risen from 19 per cent in 1915 to 28 per cent in 1919, a total gain of 9 per cent. During this same period the white births declined from 66 per cent of the total to 52 per cent, or a decline of 14 per cent. Some statements have been made that the Japanese babies die at an alarming rate. This is not so. The figures show that only a slightly higher death rate prevails among Japanese infants than among white ones. They are, indeed, a very hardy race.

"The birth rate, which means the number of births per 1000 population, varies for different years from sixty-four to sixty-eight per thousand. That this race is very prolific may be seen when we compare the white birth rate of sixteen per 1000 to that of sixty-four for the Japanese. From mathematical calculations if the situation should continue the same as now exists for fifty-two years unchecked, half of the babies born in the State of California will be Japanese.

"From an economic standpoint, the Japanese now control about 40,000 acres of the very best soil in the San Gabriel and other fertile valleys in the county. They handle 85 per cent of the vegetable products, about 90 per cent of the flaning industry and to a large extent dominate certain special crops, such as potatoes, strawberries and other garden truck."

ASKS FOR CHILDREN.

Charging that Mrs. Clara T. Mendoza keeps their two children, aged 4 and 2, in improper surroundings, Fred Mendoza yesterday filed suit in the Superior Court, asking for custody of the children.

The People and Their Daily Troubles

DOROTHY DIX TALKS

Are You Good Company for Yourself?

BY DOROTHY DIX.

"Gee," said a small boy to me the other day, "but I'd hate to be my Aunt Maria and always have to live with myself."

And I thought of Aunt Maria and many another one like her, gloomy and pessimistic, warped in soul and suspicious of disposition, always chewing over the cud of bitter thoughts, and I pitied them for the company they must keep.

For the one human being on earth from whom there is no possibility of escape is ourself. We can avoid our enemies. We can flee from our disagreeable friends and acquaintances. We can put many miles between ourselves and depressing members of our families. We can divorce our husbands and wives when we can no longer endure them, but there is no way of freeing ourselves from ourselves. Our personality is an Old Man of the Sea, fastened upon our backs, from which no magic can deliver us. We are doomed to bear ourselves company from the cradle to the grave.

How unfortunate, then, the lot of those whose ego is not a pleasant person with whom to live! How important to cultivate those graces of mind and heart that will secure us congenial companionship in ourselves, and enable us to be never lonely alone than when alone!

Think of what a horror it must be to have to live with yourself if you are grumpy and grouchy and filled with a deep dark suspicion of your fellow creatures! Think of what it means never to see the world except through green and bilious eyes, never to taste life except to find it gall and wormwood on your lips!

Consider the poverty of those who believe in nothing that is good and sweet; who receive no love because they give none; who miss friendship because they trust no one; who have nothing but their own hard, cruel thoughts for company!

Wouldn't you hate to be a grouch, and have to live with yourself?

Or, think what it must be to have to spend year in, and year out, with a melancholy, pessimistic individual, who believes the worst of everything, and never sees anything but despair, and failure, and the blackness of midnight everywhere!

Think of what it must be never to rejoice in the sunshine, never to bubble over with joy and laughter, never to thrill with hope, never to vision success dancing just before you down your pathway, but always to go with bent head, in sackcloth and ashes, expecting the dangling sword over your head to fall!

Wouldn't you loathe having to live with yourself if you were a pessimist?

Or, think what it would be to be one of those who are filled with envy and jealousy, and who eat their hearts out in bitter repining because someone else has more of the good things of life than they!

Think of a woman who hates all other women who are younger and more beautiful than she, or who are more admired by men, or have finer establishments, or more gorgeous clothes. Think of a man who begrudges every other man his success! What bitterness, what heart-burnings, what futile pangs of rage tear at them like so many vultures, feasting on their very souls.

Wouldn't you hate to be one of those who must go through life chained to the green-eyed monster?

Think of a woman who is whining and complaining and dissatisfied and that nothing in the world ever suits—a woman whom God Almighty has not been able to please, and who finds the weather always too hot or too cold, or too wet or too dry—a woman whose husband and children should always have done the things they didn't do—a woman who frets at her servants, and berates her dressmakers and whose whole life is a turmoil over trifles!

Think of never knowing a minute's peace, and calm, or the joy of pure satisfaction in the society of someone dear to you, or the possession of some coveted article, or being in some desired spot!

Wouldn't you hate to be a worrier, and have to live with yourself, and get on your own nerves as badly as you get on other people's?

Think of the suspicious people who are always looking out for slights, and who see offense in every casual careless word and look and who brood over it until it obsesses them! Think of a morbid vanity that is always on the watch to see if just the due amount of respect is paid to it, and the adulation offered it that it thinks it deserves, and that suffers torments when a heedless world passes it by! Thing of a person, starving for praise, and whose only meat and drink is self-pity.

Wouldn't you hate to be a man or woman with an ingrowing egotism, and have to live with yourself?

Think of the stupid people who never read anything, who have never seen anything understandingly, who have no entertaining thoughts to keep them amused and diverted, who cannot spend hours—fascinating hours—in trying to Sherlock Holmes the minds of their acquaintances, so as to find out why they married the people they did, or chose the occupation they follow, or acted as they did under some given circumstances!

Think of those who cannot find the best part of life in books, who have no card of admission to the glorious fellowship of history and romance, who in their evil hours cannot find forgetfulness of all their troubles in the nepenthe of literature!

Wouldn't you hate to be one of those poverty-stricken creatures, with empty garrets for heads, who have to live with themselves?

It is worth considering, this subject of what sort of company we are going to be for ourselves during life. For we cannot shut the door upon ourself as we can upon other bores. We cannot say, "Not at home," as we do when the doleful pessimist or the gloomy grouch calls.

We have got to live with ourselves, so we do well to see that we have cheerful, agreeable and interesting people to have about the place.

Homes for the Homeless.

DENTON (Tex.) July 3.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The Catholic Tribune of Dubuque reprinted June 28 from your worthy paper an item headed "Homes for the Homeless." This title is catching. Honor to the Chicago Housing Corporation, which has already built 2000 homes for the homeless—and the glorious work is still going on. Will other cities soon do the same?

It is a patriotic act. When the poor have homes they cease to be restless and become devoted citizens. Their children will grow up not feeling as if they belong to a servile state. But more, it is an act which God will reward. "I was homeless and you took Me in; enter into your eternal home."

The press should encourage this noble movement which procures homes for the homeless. Surplus money can be spent in no better way.

GASOLINE ALLEY—MONOLOGUE BY WALT.

LETTERS TO "THE TIMES."

Vivisection's Opponents.

LOS ANGELES, July 4.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Frequent inquiry has been made as to the compensation accorded persons circulating petitions on the initiative, so often encountered on the street, the inference being that all is paid work. Some measures proposed for submission to a vote of the people—and notably that relating to the abolition of vivisection—have been ably and persistently advocated by volunteer workers, whose motives have had no monetary incentive, and whose interest in the cause of humanity no one can impugn.

More than 50,000 signatures, or 90 per cent of the total thus far taken in Los Angeles county alone, have been obtained by unpaid workers on the vivisection petition, and their generous efforts in behalf of this proposition cannot be attributed to a mercenary cause. Their work is the outgrowth of a widespread sentiment that such cruelties as accompany vivisection must not be tolerated in a civilized land.

It is unfortunate that many issues should be presented on the initiative that are ill-considered; but the truly worthy measures ought to receive the indorsement of the public and become incorporated into the fundamental law of the State, in as much as this is the means open for popular adoption, whatever our individual opinion of the initiative itself may be. It is a lamentable fact that needed legislation is not always to be had from the Legislature, despite the thousands of bills submitted for consideration in a single session; but while the law relating to the initiative and the referendum remains operative in California, it may be taken as a matter of course, that some ill-advised propositions may be offered for a popular vote. But let us distinguish between the chaff and the wheat, and adopt such as may appeal to us as worthy of our votes, such as that forbidding the practice of vivisection.

Car Routing Criticism.

LOS ANGELES, July 5.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Why is it necessary to compel such drastic changes in our street-car lines to eliminate congestion at one corner, Seventh street and Broadway? Patrons of the Western-avenue, Heliotrope-Drive and West Blvth-street lines are compelled to transfer to reach points north of Seventh street. Why not allow one line, preferably Western avenue, to route north at Seventh street on Spring street? People will cheerfully walk, if necessary, from Spring street to destination rather than transfer.

Also, if the car company will arrange to open the windows in the glass boxes at the center of the cars, allowing patrons a chance to breathe good air, less trouble will be found in inducing passengers to move forward from the crowded rear platforms during rush hours.

J. E. WALTON.

About Motoring Morons.

LOS ANGELES, July 6.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In reference to the editorial in Sunday's Times headed "Road Tragedies" I want to add a line regarding the cheapness with which life seems to be held by a large majority of motorists. Nine thousand traffic accidents in six months is a shameful toll for any city. All honor to the vigilantes who are striving to stop this fearful slaughter.

If every man, woman and child (for many of these speeding motors are driven by mere children in intelligence, if not in years) should stand in fear of being deprived of the chauffeur's license upon proof of lack of intelligence in its use, the streets would be safer for pedestrians and for those who drive sanely.

If every man and woman who now freely drives a car were examined before being given a license in order to establish the fact that he or she possesses adult intelligence, yet another safeguard would be added.

Many a car is driven by an adult in years whose intelligence is that of a 12-year-old child. He may understand the mechanism and management of the car, yet yields to the speed mania and lacks judgment in an emergency.

Test these morons and deny them the opportunity to slay and mangle.

Filipinos and Democracy.

LOS ANGELES, July 5.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I note a letter in your columns from a Filipino in regard to the independence of the Philippine Islands. If everyone knew better the facts relative to many of the Central American and west coast South American countries, I would need make no further comment than to say: "The answer to the small section of the Filipino people who are now making premature demands for the independence of the islands is before them in some of these American lands."

Also, I think Macaulay had not been forced to gaze upon as many countries trying to manage undigested democracy as I have. If he had, I doubt if he would ever have written the paragraph our Filipino friend quotes. There is nothing in this world I have seen yet quite so tragic or so hopeless as peoples trying to run democracies who have not, in many instances, learned the first principles of law and o... Swish, swash—break! The big waves come rolling in! Happy bathers jump the swells—ride the waves—are carried in like sea gulls. Exhilarating sport—real joy! And it's almost certain they're wearing the famous

Jantzen Bathing Suits

You can do all sorts of fancy water "stunts" in them which you would not undertake in an ordinary bathing suit. Their specially constructed elastic Jantzen stitch makes them fit snugly, comfortably, naturally. They never bind—never sag—because they're tailored in the Jantzen way. They have those little details of perfection which make their wearers look so well.

not, in many instances, learned even the first principles of law and order. It is questionable if that much is known by people who still wear only a hat and a "G string." And this is not in the least intended to reflect on the capacity of the Filipino for development. A day will some day be able to go to high school, which we all recognize, but he can hardly do so at the age of 8.

Further, I would point out that it is but the meagerest handful of the people of the Philippines who are making such demands. The rest of the people, who are still in the naked state, are making no such demands nor would they even know the meaning of the high-sounding phrases used in these demands. Those now being heard in this matter will instantly be recognized by a South American observer as being of the order that constitutes such a curse in all the countries down there—those who live on other's endless methods, who are too poor to work, who live by politics and chicanery, who will fight any form of personal effort to the last drop, and who accomplish nothing worth even real exploitation.

This may seem, to those unacquainted with the lands I refer to, as strong language. To those who know those countries, it will seem inadequately weak.

Swift & Company's Profit From all Sources

20 year average per dollar of sales	2½¢
1919 profit per lb. of all products	¼¢
1919 profit on invested capital	6⅜%
1919 profit from average family, buying only Swift products	$2.02

(less than a nickel a week)

THESE figures show the small effect that packers' profits have on either the price paid to the producer or the price paid by the consumer.

The packer is not responsible for high prices.

Swift & Company "turned over" its invested capital (capital stock and surplus) about six times in 1919.

This fact, coupled with our large volume of business, made it possible to operate on a profit of 1⅛ cents per dollar of sales.

Our books are audited by certified public accountants.

SOCIETY.

BY VIRGINIA WOODS.

At St. John's Church.

Miss Ruth Margaret Gordon was a lovely picture when she became the bride of Mr. Albert Mayes Busch at St. John's Church at noon on Wednesday. The ceremony was witnessed by relatives only.

The altar was like a big spring bouquet with pink roses, delphinium and lavender sweet peas.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Pusey Gordon of 611 South Ardmore avenue, who came here from the East a year ago. She is a graduate of Marlborough and is one of the most attractive young girls in town. Mr. Busch, who is a University of California man, is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hamilton Busch of 2715 Portland Place.

Miss Gordon wore a little French model of white organdie over flesh-colored satin. The organdie was trimmed with bands of Valenciennes lace and with garlands of pink satin roses and silver leaves. She wore a wedding veil and her bouquet was of Ophelia roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Letitia Reese was her maid of honor and wore orchid colored organdie and carried pink roses and lilies of the valley. A fraternity brother of Mr. Busch's was best man.

Mrs. Gordon, mother of the bride, was beautifully gowned in French blue chiffon, beaded, with which she wore an orchid colored picture hat and a corsage bouquet of orchids. Mrs. Busch, mother of the groom, was in figured chiffon and wore a lavender hat. Mrs. Van Buren Jarvis (Amy Busch,) sister of the groom, wore an embroidered lingerie frock over orchid taffeta and wore a picture hat. After the ceremony there was a buffet luncheon at the Gordon home. The young couple have been engaged several months, but had not announced it, because they expected not to be married until October. They will be at home in Los Angeles after a motor trip to Santa Barbara, Del Monte and Lake Tahoe.

Off to New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Laurence Doheny, who have been in San Francisco, arrived in town on Wednesday and left yesterday for New York, where they will remain indefinitely. During their stay they will entertain many house parties on board their yacht, the Casiana, and will also do a lot of entertaining at the Plaza Hotel, where they have handsome apartments.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Doheny, Jr., who were also in San Francisco, returned several days ago.

Home from Lake Tahoe.

Miss Dorothy Cooke, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. A. B. Cooke, has returned from Lake Tahoe, where for three weeks she was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Russell H. Ballard and Miss Harriet Ballard of this city. She recently returned from Mills College. She will be in Los Angeles most of the summer.

Distinguished Visitors.

Distinguished visitors to Los Angeles expected here today are former Gov. Thomas M. Campbell of Texas and Mrs. Campbell, and Hon. and Mrs. Cohn Johnson of Tyler, Tex., who are on their return home from the National Democratic Convention in San Francisco. They will be at the Hotel Clark and will remain a week or ten days.

Home from the East.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hervey Pettingell have returned from a six weeks' sojourn in the East. They attended the annual conference of the American Library Association at Colorado Springs, Colo., where he was made president of the trustees' section.

To Sail for Europe.

Mr. and Mrs. William May Garland are in New York, where they went to meet their sons, Marshall and Jack Garland, who have been in school—the former at Harvard University and the other at Hotchkiss School at Lakeville, Ct. Next week Mr. Garland and the boys will sail for Europe and will visit in England, Scotland, Switzerland, France and Italy, and will return in the autumn. During their absence Mrs. Garland will remain in the East visiting in New York, Atlantic City, Boston and other places of interest.

Receiving Congratulations.

Dr. and Mrs. Harvey Smith of 4961 Marathon Road are receiving congratulations from their friends on the birth of a son, James Franklin, born at the California Hospital July 3.

Home from Washington.

Mrs. Allie M. Harris arrived home yesterday from Fort George Wright, Wash., where for two weeks she visited her son-in-law and daughter, Lieut. and Mrs. William Almond Shely. Later she visited in Seattle and then went by boat to San Francisco in time for the closing session of the Democratic National Convention. Lieut. Shely, who is well known here and in San Diego, served as a captain during the war and next week will be given his premanent captaincy. He is in the regular army.

Personals.

Maj. Jefferson Davis was visiting friends here en route to his home in Coronado from San Francisco, where he went as a delegate to the National Democratic Convention.

Mrs. Hancock Banning is home from San Francisco, where she visited her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George Hugh Banning, and attended the Democratic convention.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Mines are to leave shortly for a trip to Montreal, Can., Mr. Mines's former home.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Klamp are at Lake Tahoe.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Kehrlein, formerly of this city, but now residing at the Oakland Hotel, Oakland, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Osborne, and later will go down to the Hotel Virginia at Long Beach.

Dr. and Mrs. Walter Jarvis Barlow are home from Santa Barbara, where they went last week-end and were guests at the Ambassador Hotel.

INCE ON WITNESS STAND.

Thomas H. Ince, motion-picture producer, spent yesterday on the witness stand in Judge Works's court, in the trial of the suit of J. Parker Read, a motion-picture director, against William S. Hart, motion-picture actor. Mr. Read is suing for $64,300 that he says is due on contracts closed for Mr. Hart and Mr. Ince. The case will be resumed today.

Cal-ora

What it is:

Cal-ora is the concentrated juice and pulp of ripe California oranges sweetened to a syrup with pure granulated sugar.

Diluted with six parts of ice water or carbonated water, it gives you a beverage of the same delightful freshness, fragrance and invigorating zestfulness as the juice of fresh-picked oranges.

Cal-ora is a home-drink. It is easily and quickly prepared—just add water and serve. What's more, it's economical. Ask your grocer or druggist for it—today.

THE CAL-ORA COMPANY
Broadway 7716
7th Floor, Fay Building Los Angeles

What it isn't

Cal-ora is not a watery, synthetic drink, nor is it a chemically flavored water.

It has no ugly after-taste and it does not offend those who dislike carbonated drinks. Properly speaking, it is not a drink, but concentrated true-fruit juice and sugar, from which a drink is quickly and easily made.

NOT A GOOD RISK.

If we were to have an armistice with Villa we would feel better if his pistols were locked up in a safe-deposit box in some neutral country. Even the Lloyds people charge a high rate for peace based on a Villa armistice.

SELLING SHORT.

Atty.-Gen. Palmer declared that he would start off in the San Francisco convention with more than 500 votes and he had the correspondents holding the belief that he would lead on the first ballot. His highest vote was 366, so it may be seen that a Palmer promise goes on a 50-50 basis, which means nothing at all. Therefore a pledge to reduce the cost of living and put the profiteers in jail is about the same as if one merely stood still and gazed at the blue expanse of heaven.

THE FAMINE.

There must be a shortage of gasoline. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., spent a day riding about the city of Los Angeles, but was handicapped in extending his trip because of the gasoline famine which prevailed at many of the service stations of the Standard Oil Company. Somebody will have to start out the senior Rockefeller with his gimlet, fountain pen or whatever it is he uses to bore for oil, else the young man will suspect the father of loafing on the job. When the heir of the Rockefellers is obliged to go thirsty for gasoline it looks ominous for the rest of us.

THE HUMAN DOORMAT.

Bro. Bryan refuses to be comforted. He declares that his heart is in the grave with a lost cause—said cause having been represented by a passion for naming Senator Owen for the Presidency. Owen made about as much impression in the convention as the opening of a bottle of pop at the battle of Verdun. The Nebraskan occupies a unique position in Democratic councils. The crowd likes to listen to him; they like to see him strip for a fight, but when they find out what he really wants they try to make it as nearly unanimous the other way as possible. If Bryan had insisted on the nomination of Cox the Buckeye couldn't have been named in a thousand years.

ANOTHER FELLAH.

Under the persistent impulse of white civilization many Mahometans in Egypt and other lands in the Far East are learning to drink wine. By mixing up with the sports of other countries the Egyptian is getting to be a regular Fellah. There are many millions of Mahometans in the world who never cared to touch wine, but now that they learn it is something that they talk of forbidding to the English and Americans they may reach for it with both hands. Old Mahomet would never touch it himself, because he knew while Tammany and Pittsburg were opening the stuff there wouldn't be enough to go around. But now that America is dry the poor Egyptian can get his without inflicting any unusual hardship on the Barbary Coast or the Goddess of Liberty.

RULE BRITANNIA.

The English papers are justifiably inclined to make sport of the efforts of some American politicians to shed their last drop of ink to make Ireland free—on paper. They have even taken to using the American vernacular in their comments thereon. One British journal refers to "a certain group of American politicians who make twisting the lion's tail a favorite amusement." The London Post, in commenting on the platform of the San Francisco convention, says: "We believe the Irish resolution does not cut very much ice as it stands." When an Englishman can thus carelessly speak of the ice-cutting he is not very much wrought up. Evidently the Britishers do not expect Mr. Cox to lead a desperate army of Cincinnatians in a bloody crusade overseas for the purpose of hoisting the green flag over Dublin Castle and placing Britannia in irons.

OHIO IS REPUBLICAN.

It is pointed out that, although Cox has been thrice made Governor of Ohio, he has never yet won on a straight up-and-down issue between Republicans and Democrats. It is true that he was first elected in 1912 by a plurality of more than 160,000; but in that campaign the Republicans and Progressives were miles apart and both had nominations in the field. In 1914 Cox was defeated for re-election by Frank B. Willis, Republican, by 30,000 votes. Two years later Cox was pulled through again by Wilson. The President had a plurality of almost 90,000, while the election of Cox was so close that the result was in doubt for some days. In the election of 1918 Cox defeated Willis by 12,000 votes, but in this campaign the liquor question became the dominant issue and the Republican organization in Cincinnati turned against Willis and supported Cox. In 1914 Harding received the popular vote for Senator, running 70,000 ahead of his ticket. On the record of past performances and on partisan issues Harding should win over Cox with ease in Ohio. The Republicans ought to carry the State by a plurality of at least 60,000 votes.

The Democrats required fifty-nine ballots to nominate Stephen A. Douglas and forty-six to name Woodrow Wilson the first time. So it can be seen that Cox, with his forty-four, is not the champion long-distance runner of his party.

THE PERIL IN POLAND.

Taking advantage of the lack of co-ordination among the nations of Southern and Western Europe, the Russian soviet armies have launched a new offensive which is slowly but surely crushing the valiant but greatly outnumbered forces of the new Polish republic. Because the nations that humbled the Central Empires have failed to constitute a workable and forceful League of Nations there is no organized body to go to the aid of bleeding Poland.

From its inception the Bolshevik regime has lived on plunder. The soviet armies devastate the country through which they pass, leaving the soil as barren as it was before civilization came. Their present expedition is in the nature of a raid of barbarians. They possess the weapons of modern civilization, but know nothing of its ideals. They carry the arms of man and the instinct of the brute.

Millions of men have been conscripted for the soviet armies. They outnumber the German hordes that were loosed in 1914 on France and Belgium. They lack the military training of the German troops and they are but imperfectly armed; but they are in position to crush by sheer force of numbers all the forces now opposing them. Paris is their objective. They aim to follow the route through Belgium and Flanders which Von Kluck chose six years back. One dispatch from Moscow says that Trotsky is minded to return the call which Napoleon made on Russia a little more than 100 years ago.

Such an offensive cannot be stopped by admonitions or by editorials. Organized force has been the argument of the Tartar, the Cossack and the Slav for 1000 years. The lust for plunder is in their blood. Western nations must be prepared to meet them with a superior force or to submit to their ravishment.

Germany is in no position to repel this invasion. She wasted her strength and her substance in the late war; and her people are now in a mood which will cause many of them to welcome the invaders. There is a serious danger that they will join with the soviet armies in a second attempt to crush France and Belgium. Five great nations are found standing like so many ostriches with their heads buried in the sand in order to avoid the view of the approaching armies. Each is hoping that the other will do something to stop them.

It was starvation that drove the Goths and the Vandals to the invasions of Italy. And it is hunger that is sending the soviet armies forth. Such raids are the most difficult to check. The soldiers in the ranks of Trotsky's armies know what awaits them at home. They know they are approaching the storehouses of Europe; and it will require a series of bloody defeats to quell the fever in their veins.

This offensive has been forming for more than a year in plain view of the nations lately allied against Germany and Austria. Its menace has not been underestimated, but there has been no action to form a defensive alliance. Organization of the League of Nations has been delayed, waiting for America to join; and for the first time in our history America has faltered in the face of a plain duty. Lenine and Trotzky know full well the part that America played in the late war. But they are emboldened by the belief that American troops will never again cross the seas to defend the soil of France and Belgium. If they were certain of finding the French and Belgian frontiers defended by American troops their offensive would not have been aimed in that direction; but they have been emboldened by the failure of this country to ratify the peace treaty and they have embarked on a new campaign to sovietise Western Europe.

Such an offensive was as certain to come as the returning summer. The soviet government can exist only as a fighting machine. Lenine's position is similar to that of Napoleon. He could retain the throne of France only by maintaining a constant state of warfare; and he continued fighting until a league was formed strong enough to crush him. Lenine and Trotzky made a weak attempt to turn the insurgent working populations of the Russian provinces to industry; but they soon found that their soviet government could not exist under conditions of peace; so they have taken up the sword to retain their own dominion.

By what forces is this latest Bolshevik raid to be repelled? Italy has had enough of fighting. France has regained her feet, but still walks with faltering step. Great Britain is passing through an industrial crisis. Her present government has coddled the labor unions and toyed with State Socialism until it has lost the firm control it once exercised. United, these countries could still repel the Russian advance; but they have been drifting rapidly apart. Conflicting industrial and commercial interests have weakened the bonds that held them together during the dark years of the World War. At the time when a League of Nations is vitally necessary to drive the soviet armies back within their own borders no effective League exists. The League without America calls to mind an automobile without an engine.

It may be that the strength of the present Russian offensive has been exaggerated. But it is not possible that Poland unassisted will be equal to repel the Russian advance. The deeper it is permitted to pierce Central Europe the more formidable it will become. The flames in Central Europe have broken out afresh. By the time we are through with President Wilson's "solemn referendum" on the peace treaty another wing of the house of European civilization is likely to have been consumed. The condition recalls the time of volunteer fire departments, when a building was sometimes burned while rival tub's companies engaged in quarrels and fistic encounters to decide how best to combat the flames.

Whatever happens, the country will be safe in the hands of an Ohio editor. The newspaper men of the Buckeye State take to politics as naturally as a full-blown angel takes to a harp. We trust that Editor Harding of the Marion Star and Editor Cox of the Dayton Press preserve such amenities as are left in the profession in their remarks about one another.

Mrs. Wilson has given the velvet gown she wore at the Pan-American reception to the National Museum. That is the way it goes in this high-powered country. After a woman wears a dress once or twice they say it is only fit for the museum along with the mummy of Rhadames or Pharaoh.

His Old Man of the Sea.

THE SPAT AT SPA.

Compared with the Democratic convention at San Francisco the conference at Spa in Belgium is a mere spat. This description, of course, applies only to the methods of conducting the two meetings. The convention was a shirtsleeves affair; the Spa conference is being conducted quietly. Yet far more depends upon the outcome of the Belgium meeting than on the one at the Golden Gate. The Democrats chose a victim to offer up to the Republicans in November; the world's financial situation depends upon the decisions at Spa. The chief thing to be determined is the method of the vast reparation payments to be made by Germany for the war losses of the Allies. It is hoped in many quarters, also, that the total amount will be fixed. Other subjects to be considered are disarmament and what shall be done to those guilty of war crimes. But these are secondary to the financial question. Until that is disposed of there will be more or less uncertainty in European monetary circles and that condition of affairs reacts upon America. The Germans have protested against nearly everything in the Versailles Treaty; but their main idea is to get the financial burden lessened. France, the chief sufferer by the war, is inclined to hold them to the payment of the uttermost farthing. This feeling is not unnatural. But some of the other Allies wish to be more lenient. There will be interesting verbal exchanges between the two sides, but it is not unlikely that some concession will be made to Germany.

OLYMPIC GAMES.

The revival of the Olympic games was conceived in 1896 by a Frenchman "to prevent wars by cultivating confidence and friendship among nations through the games and athletes."

Perhaps there were not enough athletes imbued with the missionary spirit to work the miracle prior to August, 1914, but something certainly went wrong with the scheme.

The coming Olympic event in Belgium may assist in healing some old wounds and wiping out some rancor. Let us hope.

It is regarded as a sort of sacrilege to criticise or decry anything in the line of sport. Rudyard Kipling once got in bad by belittling British sport and sportsmen. Still, it must be confessed that the previous Olympic games held in England and Sweden did not necessarily make for that good feeling and happy competition for which the promoters had hoped. Each was obsessed by an undercurrent of criticism and contempt for the methods of the various countries' athletes; winners' ethics called forth embittered sarcasm; and many of the competitions became positively belligerent. Each country has its own idea of sport and its own pet ethics, and anything deviating from these arouses rancor. The Americans were tartly criticised for their "will to win," especially in England, where numerous sporting writers impugned their ethics. Prominent Englishmen had to come out with "interviews" lavishly complimenting the Americans to offset the feeling which ran very high at one time.

Theoretically, of course, mutual sports should be able to do all that is claimed for them. Maybe they will some day. But sportsmen who have been sent overseas with wild jubilation and backing, acclaimed as supermen by their fellows and exhorted to cover their country with glory by bringing home all the laurels, find it difficult to take defeat handsomely. The whole thing is too intense; too much vanity and publicity are attached to it. The competitors are not friends in a friendly game, but intense rivals for superiority and distinction.

The ferocity of competition which these sports engender becomes so much more acute in an international contest, where the athletes have different standards of living, where anxiety to win glory for the folks at home is keen in every visiting breast, and where so many are strangers to foreign ways. And jealousies are just as rife in sport as in any other department of life, as the managers of even local tournaments will bear witness. Notwithstanding all the faith to the contrary, athletes are all very human young men, harboring all the little frailties; and in an international contest they stand out under jealous critical eyes.

Perhaps the Olympic games could not minimize the hates of war, but it is probable that the war will have minimized the jealousies and carpings of the Olympic games. Many of the entrants this time will be men who have seen service, and all will know a good deal more about the conditions and ideals of other countries than they did before the war. And countries that have shared a sorrow are much more likely to become real friends than countries which have merely shared peace and prosperity.

ASKING FOR THE IMPOSSIBLE.

Surely the American Federation of Labor cannot be serious in its support of the campaign for a six-hour working day. The theory that the shorter the day the more jobs is one that cannot be maintained. The trouble with the world today is not lack of jobs, but lack of production, and stifling production is not going to cure anything.

The eight-hour day has made steady progress because experience has shown that in many, if not most, industries men will produce about as much in eight hours as they do in nine or ten hours. But there are limits to the possible reduction of working time, and no country has ever succeeded in sustaining itself on a six-hour basis, nor is there reason for believing that any country is likely to sustain itself on that basis.

What the Federation of Labor would do if it could bring about the six-hour day would be to stifle industry, decrease production, increase the cost of living, lower the standard of living and finally bring the whole economic structure to the verge of a complete collapse. There are certain laws that cannot be disregarded even by powerful organizations. There are certain facts in human existence that cannot be set aside by resolution. In asking for a six-hour day the Federation of Labor is asking for the impossible, unless all the known means of production are first revolutionized.—[New York World.

AN ELASTIC EXPORT.

While the war was changing the well-known map of Europe, tumbling thrones and creating empires, raising hob with the law of supply and demand and otherwise comporting itself like a cataclysmic tornado, it was serving the minor but important purpose of introducing American chewing gum to the elder nations—the contemplative, elastic, reverberant chicle that is the solace of the stenographer and the friendly quid of the tired business man. It required world strife to waken the elder nations to the desirability of this peculiarly American refreshment. If their legislative bodies speedily enact ordinances against the parking of passe gum gobs under cafe tables and theater seats and institute restrictions against discarding spent chews along the public ways the habit should be well received.—[Portland Oregonian.

Window Shopping.

She said the gowns were "simply fine,"
My little wife Marie,
When he went strolling down the row
Of windows fixed for fashion's show,
And clapped her hands in glee
(I only know the price-marks seemed
At me in manner wild and weird.)

She said the lingerie was "swell,"
My little wife, Marie,
How she enthused about the things
All full of dee-dads, lace and strings,
Set forth for all to see!
(I only know the price-marks seemed Like monsters grim of which I'd dreamed.)

She said the hats were "works of art,"
My little wife, Marie,
And raved about the shape and style
Of each beribboned velvet tile
From London and Paree.
(I only know the price-marks' sting Set my poor heart a-fluttering.)

SUMMER DAYS.

A summer sun now hands us one,
And paints our maps with freckles;
We cry, "Gee Whiz!" For cooling fizz
We blow our hard-earned shekels.
Though summer's bad and from the grad
We willingly would drive it,
Some simple rules not taught in schools
May help us to survive it.
The heat will flay that boneshead jay
Who's prone to be a glutton,
Who fiercely eats all kinds of meats,
Including pork and mutton.
The sane galoots who live on fruits
Endure the summer grandly;
The sun may fry the whole blamed sky and
They'll regard it blandly.
I cut out hams and feed on yams, which cool
My fevered bunions;
I sidestep cheese and from the trees
I pluck the fragrant onions.
Rich pies and cakes and chops and steaks
I find there is a curse on;
I eat no more than I can store with comfort in my person.
And so I live and smile and give
Sage counsel while I frolic,
While those who eat large slabs of meat
Are doubled up with colic.
I have eschewed all heating food,
I've sidestepped beer and skittles,
And all my tunes are based on prunes
And other wholesome vittles.

EDITORIAL OPINION.

When W. J. Bryan clamors to have the profiteers put in jail he forgets that he used to say the same thing about the trust magnates, but the only criminal conviction and jail sentence were obtained by President Taft, a Republican. Mr. Bryan led us to expect that a Democratic administration would put the magnates behind the bars by wholesale, but the Democrats have had full swing for seven years and they have not landed one. Even those who were convicted under the Taft administration slipped through their fingers. The peerless orator must have become so inebriated with his own eloquence that his memory does not function or he presumes on the forgetfulness of his audience. —[Portland Oregonian.

Woman suffragists, representing the so-called woman's party, have been heckling Senator Harding, just as they heckled Chairman Hays before the convention. These women—happily there are only a few of them—are so busy making a living by their impudence that they have never had time to learn the A B C's of American government. They seem to think it possible for a Presidential candidate or the chairman of a national committee to tell Governors and Legislatures what they must do and to have their orders obeyed. They pout and scold and declare it to be very strange, very odd and very unsatisfactory that Mr. Harding and Mr. Hays should profess their sympathy for the suffrage cause and still be unable to make sovereign States lie down and play dead when they crack the whip.—[Albany Knickerbocker Press.

Mr. Hoover sets a patriotic and unselfish example by not sulking in his tent, but by coming out nobly and announcing his intention to support the party as energetically as if he himself had been its chosen candidate. He shows by this that he puts the people's welfare above his personal ambition.—[Baltimore American.

Commerce and industry in this country are not in position to stand any more strikes on the railroads. They still suffer from the interruptions to traffic caused by the "unlawful" strike of the switchmen early this year. The railroads themselves are still blockaded with freight at important centers and are very far short of performing as efficient service as they gave before the switchmen walked out.

A material increase in the wages of railroad employees means, of course, an increase in freight and possibly in passenger rates. Of that the business men of the country have long been aware and to it few of them will object, for they very well realize that the former policy of the Interstate Commerce Commission of holding down rates in the face of advancing costs in all branches of railroad operation has resulted not only in almost ruining railroad credit, but in greatly lowering the capacity of the roads to furnish the transportation required by the country.—[Chicago News.

LIVING TO BE 100.

Real centenarians seldom have striven to be such. But aspirants to that class are always full of anxiety lest they break self-imposed rules and are generally contemptuous of the other fellow's schemes.

Two such men who once resided in Toronto used to amuse their friends by their criticisms of each other. One argued that his acquaintance could not possibly live to be 100 years old because he drank only one glass of water instead of two on rising. The other was equally positive about his rival. "He hasn't got a chance," he was wont to say. "Why? Because he uses salt on his potatoes. I've seen him doing it." Both died before they were 60 years old.

Longevity isn't everything. Trying to live cleanly and do good is better than striving to find a formula for 100 years of tenancy on earth.—[Toronto Globe.

The Farmer's Morning Nap.

Rural dwellers who have been made indignant by slurring references by city folk to the "farmer's morning nap" will appreciate this experience of an advertising man who motored through to the advertising convention in Indianapolis. A few miles outside Indianapolis he had bad luck. His car skidded into the ditch and he had to wait till daylight to get someone to pull him out.

At 3:30 a.m. he went to a near-by farmhouse, knocked at the door and the farmer's wife answered the call. The advertising man asked: "Could I get your husband to pull my car out of the ditch?"

"Well, that's too bad," she replied. "You should have got here before breakfast. He took the horses over half an hour ago and is down the road two miles there and plowin' by now." — [Albany Knickerbocker Press.

How It Affected Him.

For noncommittal brevity of speech commend us, if you please to the Yankee lord of the soil. One such, who was recently making a visit to the city was knocked down in the street by an automobile.

A sympathizing crowd instantly surrounded him, with condolence and questions.

"Are you hurt, my friend?" kindly asked a gentleman who was first among the rescuers, as he helped the sufferer to his feet and brushed the mud and dust from his clothes.

"Well," came the cautious reply, "it ain't done me no good."—[Unidentified.

The Obstacle.

"From now on," sternly said Squire Ramsbottom, the well-known jurist of Petunia, "I am going to conduct the business of this office strictly according to law and common sense."

"But, looky here, Squire!" returned Constable Sam T. Slackputter. "You can't run it in two different ways at once. You've either got to conduct it according to law or according to sense, one or tuther, but not both. It can't be did!"—[Kansas City Star.

Atty.-Gen. Palmer did a fine job in business when he dissolved the "packers' trust. Meat was never so high.

Columbus, O., will be the political center of the United States next fall. That town always was in the limelight.

The campaign poets are simply at it. Here is one: "One who knows the trick of barding worries and regarding Harding."

There is a mighty lot of pleasure in having a dollar, for with it one has the idea that you can buy anything you desire for the money, if you want to.

With Gov. Cox, one of the wets, and of the wets, standing in a picture that straddles the whole liquor question there ought to be a hint for the clever cartoonist.

It is announced that President Wilson will take the stump for the Democratic national ticket. Gov. Cox is going to have his hands early in the campaign.

It has been figured out that the next ice age of the world will be ground in about 10,000 years. It will arrive coincident with the election of Gov. Cox to the Presidency.

The Pacific fleet is about to go on its annual target practice. Shades of Secretary Daniels is not aboard in the navy. That honor is reserved to the opposition press and Admiral Sims.

Now that both national conventions are over, what is the matter with the politicians tackling the problem of the garden or accepting a job in some Middle West wheat field. They ought to be good at something.

As the campaign progresses a great many still alarms will be turned in by the Democratic fire holders. They will want to put the political fire department at any little whip-stitch, as our grandmother used to say.

The average editor has always been of the opinion that he knew just what ails the country and how we all should do to be saved. One of the guild will have an opportunity to practice some of his precepts after next March.

The question for the people to decide this fall, after all the talk and the shouting dies, is whether they are going to stand by the present administration. That is something that the Democratic speakers are not going to be allowed to forget.

It will not be surprising if changes are made in the next session of Congress to increase the salaries of members of both the Senate and the House. They say they cannot live on the $7500 a year given them by Uncle Sam. Some Congressmen are worth more than $7500 a year, others are not.

The potato peelers are on a strike in Chicago, demanding a raise in wages of $10 a day. What is the matter with boiling them with their jackets on? And, say, do you remember when that used to be the style of preparing them for dinner in the long ago? How often they were to slice for breakfast the next morning!

Senator Harding has made up his mind not to have a word to say about Republican political campaigns in any of the States. An appeal was made to him to take sides in the fight among Missouri Republicans over National Committeeman Lee L. Babler. He replied: "It is a fixed policy to not interfere in any matter affecting the State. The State is the unit that should be preserved from outside interference. There lies the path of party safety.

COUNCILMEN TO SEE, THEN ACT.

Proposed Addition to Zone Will be Inspected.

"Isn't Residential District," Says W. C. Shelton.

Arraign Doctor on Charge of Violating "Moot" Law.

Members of the Council yesterday decided to personally view the district at Hollywood in the vicinity of La Brea and Hawthorne streets before voting on a proposed amendment to the zoning ordinance of the city which would declare the district to be residence zone No. 8 and prohibit the operation there of stores and other business establishments.

Property owners of the district petitioned the Council to have a residence zone established and the City Attorney was authorized to present the necessary amendment to the existing ordinance. When the ordinance came before the Council yesterday for action the meeting-room was filled with property owners and residents, some of whom are for the proposed new zone and others are against it. The proponents of the plan were headed by Attorney Edward Winterer, while the opponents had as their counsel and chief spokesman Attorney W. C. Shelton.

MANY THERE NOW.

"If the members of the Council will view this neighborhood," said Mr. Shelton, "they will see that there are many business establishments now in the district, and that it is not, as claimed, a strictly residential district. To pass this ordinance, therefore, would be an injustice, and we ask that the Councilmen see for themselves the situation existing there before taking action."

Under the terms of the zoning ordinance, all business establishments now operating inside the district may continue undisturbed by new competition until March 1, 1925.

Mr. Winterer and property owners who spoke declared that the creation of the zone is necessary to preserve the neighborhood as a high-class residential district.

Action on the creation of the proposed new zone was postponed for one week and in the meantime the members of the Council will go to Hollywood and inspect the district.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY.

Dr. Arthur G. Tibbitts was arraigned yesterday afternoon before Judge Frederickson, charged with violating the zoning ordinance of the city by constructing store buildings at the southeast corner of Sixth and Berendo streets, which is in residence zone No. 5, inside of which only residences, flats, apartment-houses and dwellings are permitted. Dr. Tibbitts pleaded not guilty and was released on $15 bail, which he furnished. He was represented in court by Attorney W. H. Dehm of Domingues, Dehm & Cohen, and on account of the absence from the city of Attorney Milton M. Cohen of the firm the hearing of the case was continued until 2:30 p.m. July 23.

The trial of Dr. Tibbitts will be a hard-fought one, as the Wilshire Improvement Association and individual property owners throughout the city, who hold the city zoning ordinances to be unconstitutional are prepared to carry the case to the highest courts. If the courts rule that the city has not the right to discriminate between merchants by excluding them from certain sections of the city, then the entire zoning legislation passed by the Council will be wiped out.

GOES EAST FOR TRIAL.

Extradition Papers Signed for Man Held in Los Angeles Jail.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SACRAMENTO, July 8.—Extradition papers were issued today by Gov. Stephens against Arthur Nicoll, under arrest in Los Angeles and wanted in Little Rock, Ark., on a charge of forgery. The papers were issued after Nicoll had cancelled his request for a hearing, which was to have been held today.

According to Sheriff Taylor of Little Rock, who is en route to Los Angeles to get Nicoll, the accused is charged with having forged promissory notes to the extent of $40,000 and to have used the money to invest in cotton. Taylor also declared Nicoll married a wealthy society girl of Little Rock during his escapades. Nicoll was a second lieutenant with the Eightieth Division during the war. Sheriff Taylor said he intended to stop in San Francisco on business before proceeding to Los Angeles to get his prisoner.

AFTER OUTING FUND.

Kings Daughters Want to Send Two Score Children to Beach.

Supporters of the Kings Daughters Day Nursery at 132 North Clarence street are soliciting donations to a fund to be used to send the forty children now being cared for at the nursery to Manhattan Beach for a three-week vacation.

The Kings Daughters Day Nursery cares for the young children of working women, but has no vacation fund on hand to take the youngsters away from the city during the heat of summer.

Mrs. George P. Lewis, 1352 West Thirtieth street, has charge of the work of raising the vacation fund.

JUDAH'S COMMERCIAL BOARD COUNCILLOR.

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States gave out from Washington yesterday a statement that it had through error announced the appointment of E. G. Judah of this city as councillor representing the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce in the national body. The announcement should have been, it was stated, that Mr. Judah had been appointed councillor of the Commercial Board, Inc., of Los Angeles. Robert N. Bulla is councillor for the local Chamber of Commerce.

GOODYEAR PLANT HAS ITS OWN NEWSPAPER.

A new newspaper was successfully launched in Los Angeles yesterday when the first issue of the California edition of the Goodyear Wingfoot Clan made its appearance at the big tire plant at Ascot Park.

The new factory publication, which for the present will be four pages in size and will appear weekly, is bright and snappy in appearance, with excellent illustrations and cartoons on factory events and other happenings in which Goodyear products and "Goodyearites" are involved. Everything from the latest victory of the company baseball team to the latest addition to the family of one of the flying squadron members is told.

The first issue includes news of plans for the factory picnic to be held Sunday at Seal Beach and an editorial by Clifton Slusser, factory superintendent.

LOCKE IS SPEAKER.

Church Federation Elects Officers Following His Address.

Dr. Charles Edward Locke, the new Methodist bishop of the Philippines, delivered the principal address yesterday at a joint luncheon of the southern division of the Anti-Saloon League and the Church Federation of Los Angeles at the City Club.

Twelve years of activity in this community were briefly reviewed by Bishop Locke in a reminiscent vein. He touched upon his early experiences with the Federation and of his activity in the league, highly complimenting those who have carried on the great work in both organizations during the past decade.

At the close of the meeting, Dr. Hugh K. Walker, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, was elected president of the Church Federation to succeed Dr. W. S. Dysinger, whose term has expired. The other new officers are Rev. G. Bromley Oxnam and Rev. M. Howard Fagan, vice-presidents; Dr. S. P. Montgomery, executive secretary; Charles A. Baskerville, secretary; A. Larson, treasurer.

Two Verdicts in Five Minutes as Juries Speed Up.

Three jury cases were heard yesterday in Judge Myers's court and two verdicts were returned within five minutes of each other.

In the case of W. H. Pennington against Boyd J. Lester, for damages claimed for being evicted from an apartment at Long Beach, the jury gave the plaintiff $61 damages.

Within five minutes the jury in the suit of William M. Garland against B. J. Lvoboda for rent allowed the plaintiff $823.33.

In the meantime a jury was drawn for the case of Isadore Friend against S. P. Moore for $10,342 for the death of her husband, who was struck down and killed. It was charged, by Mr. Moore's automobile. This case will be resumed today.

TO GIVE ENTERTAINMENT.

An entertainment will be given by the recently organized Ladies Order of Owls in Red Men's Hall, 237½ South Hill street, tomorrow evening.

ARE WE SOON TO BECOME A RACE OF BALD-HEADED MEN?

PROF. JOHN H. AUSTIN

Bacteriologist, Hair and Scalp Specialist of Chicago, Who Now Has Offices at Hamburger's, Talks Most Interestingly About the Hair.

He says baldness is increasing rapidly among men and points out some of the reasons. Prof. Austin is probably right in saying that only about one man in every hundred ever thinks about his hair at all, except to comb it two or three times a day. If it falls out he looks anxiously at the falling hair and then promptly forgets it until the next time he uses a comb.

A man will give the utmost attention to his teeth, because he knows that when trouble arises he will have more trouble and probably lose his teeth if he doesn't go to a dentist promptly. But his hair doesn't ache, it just gradually dies and when it is nearly gone, and the roots are dead, he anxiously tries a dozen different remedies at once and then resigns himself to baldness.

Prof. Austin says the use of dandruff cures, mange cures and hair tonics is like taking medicines without knowing what you are trying to cure. The particular trouble with which your scalp is afflicted must be known before it can be intelligently treated.

Prof. Austin examines the roots of your hair with a powerful microscope. He finds out just what is the trouble with YOUR HAIR, and then he tells you what to do for the trouble.

RUNAWAY HORSE STIRS PASADENA

Justice Johnson, Who Nominated Cox, in Crown City.

Red Cross Society Organizes Relief Committees.

Capt. Cutler, Recently Injured, Returns Home.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, July 8.—Pasadena had a real old-fashioned runaway today. Real horse and rig and excitement and everything.

Hardly anybody knew there was a horse left in Pasadena until young Cornwall Olson's critter suddenly decided at the corner of North Raymond avenue and Washington street that it was his lunch time.

Cornwall was delivering directories for the telephone company at the time, but at 12:30 o'clock his horse lost interest in this delightful work. The horse bethought him of the hay in mow and the delectable nosebag in Telephone alley. So the horse ran away. Cornwall couldn't stop him and rather than desert the ship he clung to the conning turret of the rig.

The horse, accompanied by the rig and Cornwall, ran away for two miles—down Raymond avenue to Holly street, down Holly street to Telephone alley and pell mell down the alley. The citizenry became much excited and, for once, fear clutched at the brazen hearts of motorists. Autos went squawking out of Dobbin's way.

The horse and rig collided with a pole in Telephone alley, neatly spilling the directories at the company's back door. Young Olson was unhurt and the horse still skittish. He ran on to Colorado street before he stopped.

NOMINATED GOV. COX.

Justice James G. Johnson of the Supreme Court of Ohio, who placed Gov. Cox in nomination at the Democratic convention in San Francisco, is in Pasadena, the house guest of W. H. Whiteside, 527 South Orange Grove avenue. Judge Johnson and Gov. Cox are lifelong friends.

Judge Johnson is hopeful of the election of Gov. Cox. "I believe Gov. Cox will carry Ohio," said the Judge. "He is in closer touch with the State than Senator Harding."

While Judge Johnson is an ardent Cox advocate, he said of Senator Harding, the Republican nominee: "Of Senator Harding I can say only the kindest things. He is clean, able, ambitious. If he is elected President, or if Gov. Cox is elected, the people need not fear."

EMERGENCY AID BODY.

Should sudden disaster or catastrophe befall Pasadena the Pasadena Red Cross is ready. The Pasadena chapter has just completed the organization of its emergency personnel, active citizens interested in the Red Cross having been appointed to a score of permanent emergency relief committees. William H. Vedder, president of the chapter, is chairman of the committees.

BURGLAR HAS FALL.

A broken clothesline found dangling from the skylight in the sporting goods store of Reed & Miller this morning showed how a burglar, some time last night, gained entrance; also, that he had a fall. But the burglar was undaunted by this accident. He stole ten new revolvers and other goods, and escaped.

INJURED ON TRIP.

Mrs. W. G. Cutler and a party of friends went to Bishop by automobile today to bring back Capt. W. G. Cutler, United States Navy, retired, who was injured late yesterday when his automobile went off the road on a grade near Bishop. Capt. Cutler was taken to Bishop and will be brought back here by his family Saturday. His hurts are not fatal and he is steadily improving. He and Mrs. Cutler live at 450 South Grand avenue.

SEEK PRESIDENT.

Candidates at Harbor Refuse to Head Chamber Directorate.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LOS ANGELES HARBOR, July 8. Directors of the Harbor Chamber of Commerce are hunting for a man who will accept the presidency of that organization. On a straw ballot taken by the directors today, three names were put up, F. G. Phillips, John A. Elliott and Ray Mitchell, who has served as president for the past year. All three gave decided negatives when asked if they would serve if elected.

As a last resort the directors named a nominating committee which will prevail upon some member of the board to accept the office.

Playground and Recreation Center to be Opened at Harbor.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LOS ANGELES HARBOR, July 8.—B. S. Price, has arrived in the Harbor district to assume charge of the playground activities at the Fifth-street school. In this industrial section, teachers declare the problem of keeping the boys out of mischief during the long vacation is very acute.

A community recreation association is in the forming here with the co-operation of fraternal orders, civic bodies, the churches and schools. Their plan is to have a community center with a director to organize teams and broaden out from the usual playground plan.

Diamonds Worth Thousands Stolen in Santa Monica District.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA MONICA, July 8.—Diamonds to the value of $1200 were stolen in Santa Monica today from Mrs. C. B. McCouscor and Mrs. W. M. Parks of Ashland avenue. It is believed that a prowler is in that district, and police are sending out a dragnet for him.

One diamond valued at $900 was taken from Mrs. McCouscor, and three rings with stones amounting to $300 apiece were stolen from Mrs. Parks.

REPUBLICANS MEET.

LONG BEACH, July 8.—A meeting of Republicans from all over the Seventieth Assembly District was held at the auditorium annex tonight for the purpose of selecting delegates to a convention in Pasadena July 14, where it is said indorsement will be voted for one single candidate for the Republican nomination for Congressman from the Ninth District.

TWO VETERANS DIE.

Residents of Sawtelle Both Victims of Tragic Endings.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SAWTELLE, July 8.—Two sudden deaths of residents of the Soldiers' Home here, within one week, has been the cause of considerable discussion. Louis M. Fralick, 81 years of age, a former member of this branch, died at a shack occupied by him at Westgate. According to information received, following the holding of an inquest the old soldier died of asphyxiation, probably from a gas stove which was left turned on while the old man slept. Before lying down to sleep, the soldier, it is said, slashed both of his wrists with a razor. The dead man was a native of New York and saw service during the Civil War with the First Michigan Engineers, and, also in Co. K, Fifty-first Ohio Cavalry. He had no relatives. Funeral services will be held at the Home, Friday morning, interment will be at National Cemetery.

The other death was that of Stephen O'Leary, 74 years of age, who died at the Home hospital Wednesday, from injuries received when he was struck by an automobile at Fourth street and Santa Monica Boulevard in Sawtelle. The funeral will be held tomorrow. The dead man served in the Navy. He is survived by a brother in Baltimore, Md.

SECRETARY MAY QUIT.

LOS ANGELES HARBOR, July 8.—The somewhat trite but ever-painful H.C.L. has attacked the Chamber of Commerce secretaryship here. At the directors' meeting today Secretary I. G. Lewis declared that he has several offers of better jobs than the executive one of the chamber, which pays $225 a month. He asked for a three months' leave of absence to look after private business.

SAN DIEGO OFFICIALS LOOK FOR AUTO THIEF.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN DIEGO, July 8.—San Diego police have been asked to be on the lookout here and at Tia Juana for a bunco artist who worked his game in Los Angeles, stole an automobile in which to make his getaway and may be headed for Mexico. Description from Los Angeles Sheriff's office, says:

"He looks like a theatrical man or professional prize fighter" and wears a gray suit, glasses with tortoise shell rims, a long knit tie with stickpin mounted with diamond cluster. He also is said to have had $1400 to $2000 and two women with him. The Los Angeles authorities ask the local force to hold man, car and money.

COBB SAYS TANLAC PUT HIM ON HIS FEET

"I Was Simply Down and Out Physically," States Popular Pressman, "but Tanlac Went Right After My Trouble."

"I was simply down and out physically, but Tanlac has put me on my feet in better shape than I have been for years," declared Clarence E. Cobb, a pressman on the Los Angeles Times, a veteran of the World War and a popular fraternal order man, living at 235 North Bixel street, Los Angeles, Cal., recently.

"For nearly three years I had a constant trouble from a badly disordered stomach. My appetite left me almost entirely and what I ate did not digest properly. After meals gas formed on my stomach, bloating me up terribly and making me uncomfortable for hours. I was nervous and shaky and couldn't sleep well at night. I grew weaker constantly, and finally got into such a bad fix that much of the time I was unable to work. I suffered while still in this condition, I had pneumonia, which almost finished me. I tried everything I could hear of, as others would recommend, but couldn't find anything that did any good.

"At the suggestion of a friend who had been helped by it, I got a bottle of Tanlac. It was surely surprising how quickly it began to show me out, for I improved from the first. I have now used bottles, and I can say my health is restored. I now have such a fine appetite I can hardly get enough to eat, everything that is set before me and am never bothered with gas or any other sign of indigestion. My nerves are steady and I sleep soundly every night, am regularly every day and can do my press with as much vigor as before I got sick. I don't hesitate to say Tanlac is the best medicine I have ever come across."

Tanlac is sold in Los Angeles and San Diego by Owl Drug Stores.—[Advertisement.

To Banish Wrinkles and Freshen Up Quickly

After a strenuous day outdoors, when winds, heat and exhaustion have combined to take away one's freshness and caused the skin to wrinkle and sag—or after a tedious or fretful day indoors—one often has urgent need for some quick rejuvenator. Maybe there's a dance on for the evening, or some other social event. How is the world can one make herself presentable, looking as she does? It's quite easy.

Just get an ounce of powdered saxolite and a half pint witch hazel at the nearest drug store, mix the two and bathe the face in the solution for two or three minutes. Then look into your mirror and behold the wonderful transformation! Wrinkles have vanished, loose, tired muscles have been rested and "firmed up," marks of fatigue have flown, and you look so much brighter and younger you can hardly believe your eyes. No one need hesitate to try this, the witch hazel and saxolite being so perfectly harmless.—[Advertisement.

ARE WE SOON TO BECOME A RACE OF BALD-HEADED MEN?

PROF. JOHN H. AUSTIN

Bacteriologist, Hair and Scalp Specialist of Chicago, Who Now Has Offices at Hamburger's, Talks Most Interestingly About the Hair.

He says baldness is increasing rapidly among men and points out some of the reasons. Prof. Austin is probably right in saying that only about one man in every hundred ever thinks about his hair at all, except to comb it two or three times a day. If it falls out he looks anxiously at the falling hair and then promptly forgets it until the next time he uses a comb.

A man will give the utmost attention to his teeth, because he knows that when trouble arises he will have more trouble and probably lose his teeth if he doesn't go to a dentist promptly. But his hair doesn't ache, it just gradually dies and when it is nearly gone, and the roots are dead, he anxiously tries a dozen different remedies at once and then resigns himself to baldness.

Prof. Austin says the use of dandruff cures, mange cures and hair tonics is like taking medicines without knowing what you are trying to cure. The particular trouble with which your scalp is afflicted must be known before it can be intelligently treated.

Prof. Austin examines the roots of your hair with a powerful microscope. He finds out just what is the trouble with YOUR HAIR, and then he tells you what to do for the trouble.

RUNAWAY HORSE STIRS PASADENA

Justice Johnson, Who Nominated Cox, in Crown City.

Red Cross Society Organizes Relief Committees.

Capt. Cutler, Recently Injured, Returns Home.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, July 8.—Pasadena had a real old-fashioned runaway today. Real horse and rig and excitement and everything.

Hardly anybody knew there was a horse left in Pasadena until young Cornwall Olson's critter suddenly decided at the corner of North Raymond avenue and Washington street that it was his lunch time.

Cornwall was delivering directories for the telephone company at the time, but at 12:30 o'clock his horse lost interest in this delightful work. The horse bethought him of the hay in mow and the delectable nosebag in Telephone alley. So the horse ran away. Cornwall couldn't stop him and rather than desert the ship he clung to the conning turret of the rig.

The horse, accompanied by the rig and Cornwall, ran away for two miles—down Raymond avenue to Holly street, down Holly street to Telephone alley and pell mell down the alley. The citizenry became much excited and, for once, fear clutched at the brazen hearts of motorists. Autos went squawking out of Dobbin's way.

The horse and rig collided with a pole in Telephone alley, neatly spilling the directories at the company's back door. Young Olson was unhurt and the horse still skittish. He ran on to Colorado street before he stopped.

NOMINATED GOV. COX.

Justice James G. Johnson of the Supreme Court of Ohio, who placed Gov. Cox in nomination at the Democratic convention in San Francisco, is in Pasadena, the house guest of W. H. Whiteside, 527 South Orange Grove avenue. Judge Johnson and Gov. Cox are lifelong friends.

Judge Johnson is hopeful of the election of Gov. Cox. "I believe Gov. Cox will carry Ohio," said the judge. "He is in closer touch with the State than Senator Harding."

While Judge Johnson is an ardent Cox advocate, he said of Senator Harding, the Republican nominee: "Of Senator Harding I can say only the kindest things. He is clean, able, ambitious. If he is elected President, or if Gov. Cox is elected, the people need not fear."

EMERGENCY AID BODY.

Should sudden disaster or catastrophe befall Pasadena, the Pasadena Red Cross is ready. The Pasadena chapter has just completed the organization of its emergency personnel, active citizens interested in the Red Cross having been appointed to a score of permanent emergency relief committees. William H. Vedder, president of the chapter, is chairman of the committees.

BURGLAR HAS FALL.

A broken clothesline found dangling from the skylight in the sporting goods store of Reed & Miller this morning showed how a burglar, some time last night, gained entrance; also, that he had a fall. But the burglar was undaunted by this accident. He stole ten new revolvers and other goods, and escaped.

INJURED ON TRIP.

Mrs. W. G. Cutler and a party of friends went to Bishop by automobile today to bring back Capt. W. G. Cutler, United States Navy, retired, who was injured late yesterday when his automobile went off the road on a grade near Bishop. Capt. Cutler was taken to Bishop and will be brought back here by his family Saturday. His hurts are not fatal and he is steadily improving. He and Mrs. Cutler live at 450 South Grand avenue.

SEEK PRESIDENT.

Candidates at Harbor Refuse to Head Chamber Directorate.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LOS ANGELES HARBOR, July 8. Directors of the Harbor Chamber of Commerce are hunting for a man who will accept the presidency of that organization. On a straw ballot taken by the directors today, three names were put up, F. G. Phillips, John A. Elliott and Ray Mitchell, who has served as president for the past year. All three gave decided negatives when asked if they would serve if elected.

As a last resort the directors named a nominating committee which will prevail upon some member of the board to accept the office.

Playground and Recreation Center to be Opened at Harbor.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LOS ANGELES HARBOR, July 8.—B. S. Price, has arrived in the Harbor district to assume charge of the playground activities at the Fifth-street school. In this industrial section, teachers declare the problem of keeping the boys out of mischief during the long vacation is very acute.

A community recreation association is in the forming here with the co-operation of fraternal orders, civic bodies, the churches and schools. Their plan is to have a community center with a director to organize teams and broaden out from the usual playground plan.

Diamonds Worth Thousands Stolen in Santa Monica District.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA MONICA, July 8.—Diamonds to the value of $1200 were stolen in Santa Monica today from Mrs. C. B. McCouscor and Mrs. W. M. Parks of Ashland avenue. It is believed that a prowler is in that district, and police are sending out a dragnet for him.

One diamond valued at $600 was taken from Mrs. McCouscor, and three rings with stones amounting to $200 apiece were stolen from Mrs. Parks.

REPUBLICANS MEET.

LONG BEACH, July 8.—A meeting of Republicans from all over the Seventieth Assembly District was held at the auditorium annex tonight for the purpose of selecting delegates to a convention in Pasadena July 14, where it is said indorsement will be voted for one single candidate for the Republican nomination for Congressman from the Ninth District.

TWO VETERANS DIE.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SAWTELLE, July 8.—Two sudden deaths of residents of the Soldiers' Home here, within one week, has been the cause of considerable discussion. Louis M. Fralick, 81 years of age, a former member of this branch, died at a shack occupied by him at Westgate. According to information received, following the holding of an inquest the old soldier died of asphyxiation, probably from a gas stove which was left turned on while the old man slept. Before lying down to sleep, the soldier, it is said, slashed both of his wrists with a razor. The dead man was a native of New York and saw service during the Civil War with the First Michigan Engineers, and, also in Co. K, Fifty-first Ohio Cavalry. He had no relatives. Funeral services will be held at the Home, Friday morning, interment will be at National Cemetery.

The other death was that of Stephen O'Leary, 74 years of age, who died at the Home hospital Wednesday, from injuries received when he was struck by an automobile at Fourth street and Santa Monica Boulevard in Sawtelle. The funeral will be held tomorrow. The dead man served in the Navy. He is survived by a brother in Baltimore, Md.

SECRETARY MAY QUIT.

LOS ANGELES HARBOR, July 8.—The somewhat trite but ever-painful H.C.L. has attacked the Chamber of Commerce secretaryship here. At the directors' meeting today Secretary I. G. Lewis declared that he has several offers of better jobs than the executive one of the chamber, which pays $225 a month. He asked for a three months' leave of absence to look after private business.

SAN DIEGO OFFICIALS LOOK FOR AUTO THIEF.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN DIEGO, July 8.—San Diego police have been asked to be on the lookout here and at Tia Juana for a bunco artist who worked his game in Los Angeles, stole an automobile in which to make his getaway and may be headed for Mexico. Description from Los Angeles Sheriff's office, says:

"He looks like a theatrical man or professional prize fighter" and wears a gray suit, glasses with tortoise shell rims, a long knit tie with stickpin mounted with diamond cluster. He also is said to have had $1400 to $2000 and two women with him. The Los Angeles authorities ask the local force to hold man, car and money.

COBB SAYS TANLAC PUT HIM ON HIS FEET

"I Was Simply Down and Out Physically," States Popular Pressman, "but Tanlac Went Right After My Trouble."

"I was simply down and out physically, but Tanlac has put me on my feet in better shape than I have been for years," declared Clarence E. Cobb, a pressman on the Los Angeles Times, a veteran of the World War and a popular fraternal order man, living at 225 North Bixel street, Los Angeles, Cal., recently.

"For nearly three years I had a constant trouble from a badly disordered stomach. My appetite left me almost entirely and what I ate did not digest properly. After meals gas formed on my stomach, bloating me up terribly and making me uncomfortable for hours. I was nervous and shaky and couldn't sleep well at night. I grew weaker constantly, and finally got into such a bad fix that much of the time I was unable to work. I was also while still in this run-down condition, I had pneumonia, which almost finished me. After trying everything I could think of and others would recommend, I couldn't find anything that did any good.

"At the suggestion of a friend who had been helped by Tanlac, I got a bottle of Tanlac. I was surely surprised at how quickly it began to help me right out, for I improved almost from the first. I have now taken four bottles, and I can truthfully say my health is restored completely. I have such a fine appetite now that I can hardly get enough to eat, and everything that is put before me I relish, and am never bothered with indigestion or any other sign of stomach trouble. My nerves are steady and I sleep soundly every night, and am regularly every day and on the job at my press with as much energy as before I got sick. I don't hesitate to say Tanlac is the best medicine I have ever come across."

Tanlac is sold in Los Angeles by Pasadena and San Diego by Owl Drug Stores.—[Advertisement.

To Banish Wrinkles and Freshen Up Quickly

After a strenuous day outdoors, when winds, heat and exhaustion have combined to take away one's freshness and caused the skin to wrinkle and sag—or after a tedious or fretful day indoors—one often has urgent need for some quick rejuvenator. Maybe there's a dance on for the evening, or some other social event. How is the world can one make herself presentable, looking as she does? It's quite easy.

Just get an ounce of powdered saxolite and a half pint witch hazel at the nearest drug store, mix the two and bathe the face in the solution for two or three minutes. Then look into your mirror and behold the wonderful transformation! Wrinkles have vanished, loose, tired muscles have been rested and "firmed up," marks of fatigue have flown, and you look so much brighter and younger you can hardly believe your eyes. No one need hesitate to try this, the witch hazel and saxolite being so perfectly harmless.—[Advertisement.

JAFFE PLAYS DRAW AGAINST MARSHALL.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ATLANTIC CITY (N. J.) July 8. Charles Jaffe of New York played a draw game with Frank J. Marshall, United States champion, in the second round of the masters chess tournament here today. The game went sixty-eight moves. It was Marshall's second game.

George G. Neidich of Cornell University defeated S. T. Sharp of Philadelphia. Sharp and E. S. Jackson of Philadelphia and Neidich and Stasch Mlotkowski of Los Angeles adjourned their games.

NEW YORK WALLOPED BY CHICAGO CUBS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, July 8.—Toney was batted freely and Chicago defeated New York, 8 to 5, in the first game of the series. Twombly's home run in the sixth inning, which sent two runners in ahead of him, clinched the game for the locals. The score:

MIDDLE WEST NEWS IN BRIEF.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

INDIANAPOLIS, July 8.—The Indiana Supreme Court has affirmed the decision of the Marion County Superior Court nullifying the provisions of the horizontal rise of the State Tax Board. Approximately $750,000,000 is affected by the decision.

The twenty-fourth annual meeting of the Indiana State Bar Association is being held in Indianapolis at the Country Club.

The State Purchasing Committee failed again to receive any bids for the supply of coal to State institutions and the supply in the bins continues to diminish.

Questionnaires have been sent to Indiana coal dealers by Stanley Wyckoff, fair price commissioner, in an effort to determine exactly what the present coal situation is.

OMAHA.

OMAHA, July 8.—A biz turbine in the street railway power plant broke yesterday and street car service will be curtailed for ten days.

Andrew Traynor, veteran Union Pacific employee, president of the Union Pacific Pensioners' Association, is dead following an operation.

Public school teachers must accept warrants until next May. The school fund is broke and cash will not be available until next year.

Attorney John W. Parish died Tuesday night from the effects of a carbuncle on his neck. Later his father-in-law, J. Hurlburt, died in the same house.

MILWAUKEE.

MILWAUKEE, July 8.—Frederick L. Baumbach, well-known chemist, who disappeared, was located yesterday on a farm near Kewaskum.

Peter J. Koehler was elected president of the City Service Commission. He starts his third term.

Loyal Durand was chosen president of the school board to succeed Theodore P. Esser. Durand is a well-known insurance man and took his place on the board last December.

John T. Hoga, transport expert of the Wisconsin Railway Commission since 1908, died suddenly in Madison yesterday.

George A. Micheson, prominent resident of Marinette, and head of the Micheson Lumber Company there, shot himself, death being instantaneous. He was in poor health for a long time.

ST. PAUL.

ST. PAUL, July 8.—The Nonpartisan League, defeated in its attempt to obtain control of the Republican organization at the recent Minnesota primaries, yesterday voted to enter the general elections in November as the Farmer Labor party. Dr. Hendrick Shipstead, defeated candidate for Governor, will head the new ticket.

The 1920 northwest wheat crop will be 250,000,000 bushels, more than double the yield of last year, according to a statement issued by S. E. G. Quamm, president of the St. Paul Federal Land Bank, and based on a survey of crop conditions made by the bank. In the States of Minnesota, North and South Dakota and Montana, the total wheat crop last year was 122,905,000 bushels, while the crop in North Dakota alone this year, at the present outlook, Mr. Quamm said, will be more than 100,000,000 bushels.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Doty and daughter Diana, Portland avenue, left last night for New York and will sail July 15, on the Imperator, for an extended trip abroad.

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Floete and their son, Franklin Floete, Jr., who spent the winter months in California, sail this week for Europe.

DES MOINES.

DES MOINES, July 8.—For the second time in the last month a grand jury refused to indict A. R. Graves for shooting Clarence Devault when he found him sitting in an automobile with Mrs. Graves.

Will Hennick and George Heazon of Nevada were seriously injured when their automobile plunged off a high embankment.

Mayor Frank E. Fite of Eldon is missing. $50 is $16,000 which the Mayor had secured from Eldon banks. Further complications developed when Mrs. Jessie Champ, housekeeper for the Mayor, disappeared. Fite told his wife he was going to Detroit to purchase an automobile. His feed store has been attached by the banks.

Ike Gushard and Thomas Powers of Waterloo, city firemen, were badly injured when two fire trucks collided.

DETROIT.

DETROIT, July 8.—N. B. Schnelker, head of the purchasing department of the Buick Motor Company of Flint, was instantly killed yesterday when his automobile upset in a ditch near Fenton.

Police and deputy sheriffs are searching in Detroit for Sheriff Ray Baker of Lancer county, whose automobile was found Tuesday night standing on Alfred street. Baker came to Detroit on official business last Saturday and has not been heard from since.

DENOUNCES POLITICS IN MODERN CHURCHES.

BIBLE INSTITUTE SPEAKER IS BITTER AGAINST DEMANDS FOR "SCHOLARSHIP."

Dr. French E. Oliver, speaking to nearly a thousand people last night at the summer conference and Bible school now in session at the Bible Institute Auditorium, said:

"Boose advocates, ward heelers and convention directors are in the kindergarten class compared to the seasoned ecclesiastical politicians. The men who operate through their position in the church to further their unholy aims and secure personal success, drag the church into a type of infamy almost beyond belief.

"Many pastorates now belong in the political class, and men must have a pull with the higher-ups to land the loaves and fishes involved.

"Sound doctrine is despised and rejected by the gang operating the machine. The effort of the destructive critics, modernists, apostates and rationalists, is to make it impossible for the old-fashioned preacher, who proclaims the whole gospel, to get into an 'influential' pulpit. They demand that the stamp of so-called 'scholarship' (which savors of rank infidelity) shall be placed upon the popular preacher."

Speakers today will be at 10 a.m.: "The Girl Problem," Miss Scott; "Telling Bible Stories," Mrs. Dennis; "A Summons to the Supreme Court," by Dr. Oliver continuing his exposition of the Book of Galatians.

TAKE COLORADOANS TO FACE MURDER CHARGE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, July 8.—Leo M. Williams and Ralph Gaffney were returned to Cripple Creek, Colo., tonight, in custody of Sheriff Henry von Phul, to answer a charge pending there in connection with the death of two men following a street fight.

Williams and Gaffney escaped from jail at Cripple Creek several weeks ago. Gaffney was recaptured recently and Williams was taken into custody on a ranch near here today by local officers. Both men waived extradition.

PLEAS PROVE FUTILE; SLAYER MUST HANG.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SANTA FE, July 8.—Elbert W. Blancett's long fight for his life, in which he was aided by the pleas of his mother, ended in failure today. Gov. Larrazolo refused his attorney's petition for a ninety-day reprieve.

Blancett will be hanged at sunrise tomorrow morning in the Santa Fe jail yard for the murder of Clyde Armour of Sioux City, Iowa.

Investigating Jap Question.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, July 8.—The Congressional committee on immigration and naturalization will extend its investigation into the Japanese problem in this State to Sacramento.

Arrangements have been made with Gov. Stephens for a conference here tomorrow. The committee will be presented with a printed copy of the report recently made by the State Board of Control taking data on the Japanese settlement, labor [illegible] problems.

STROUD BLANKS ANGELIC HOST.

"HAD 'EM BUFFALOED."

Stroud was in the box for the northerners and he surely had Killefer's pennant strugglers bisoned from soda to hock. All the Celestials glombed off him in the way of clean hits; was a measly quartette, and these were strung out like mile posts. If the Angels heretofore had ever dealt in base hits they were surely down to birdseed yesterday. We think our nifty Seraphs will come back strong today, however, as we have resolved to go into a heart-to-heart session with Yen Sang, the Celestial deity of good luck. He has been pretty good to us on several occasions and we shall do our best to endeavor to impress upon him that we need him very much today.

The Utes tore loose in the third inning and put one over the rubber in a jiffy, on singles by Maggert and Johnson. Then came the awful third—something like this: Rumler blasted a homer to the center-field fence on one of Brown's slow ones. Sheely biffed one through second for a single. Mulligan tilted one to McAuley, who made a clean-cut stop, but pegged the pill over Killefer's head. Sheely limped to third and Mulligan was safe at second when Red heaved the ball into No Man's Land. Hood rifled a daisy cutter to center, scoring Sheely and Mulligan. Byler and Stroud were easy outs.

ANGELS' CHANCE.

The Angels had a good chance to score a run or two in the third inning had it not been for the fact that Statz was suddenly stricken with sleeping sickness while at third. Ellis started this canto with a two-base poke to left center. Statz shot a terrific liner at Krug, which that worthy dropped. Brown made a mess of a bunt, with the result that Stroud tossed Rube out to Mulligan. Killefer sacrificed, Stroud to Sheely. Statz was on third and Brown at second when the former ventured a little too far beyond the deadline. Quick as a flash foxy Byler lined the ball to Mulligan and Statz was Rip Van Winkled so far off the bag that he stood still in rattled amazement and allowed Mulligan to touch him out most courteously.

The Angels as usual swung one of their ninth inning rallies and thus for a spell fanned the bugs into a peppercorn thrill. Killifer sent a liner to Hood that looked good for three bases, but Hood made a dandy catch and sent Red to the dugout. McAuley rapped a hot one at Mulligan, who threw low to Sheely and the last named to the surprise of all present bobbled it. Old Jupiter laughed himself into a fit of hiccoughs when Karl Crandall belted a beauty to left for a single.

UP TO WAHOO.

Zeider sent a scorcher toward Hood, but that killjoy was Johnny at the rat hole again for he speared it with consummate ease. It was now up to Sam Crawford, but Stroud would take no chance, so he fed Samuel with slants just where Wahoo doesn't like them and the best our matchless right fielder could do was to invade the beautiful blue sky again to Master Hood.

The piece de resistance yesterday, however, was the playing of three outfields by one man. This man was no other than our old friend, Harl Maggert, and we wish to say right here that were Dr. Osler alive today and saw Shack perform yesterday, old saw-bones would hike home and commit suicide. Maggert played center, right and left and once threatened to come in on Krug and grab a pop to the second sacker. He was all over the field and really grew horses, frequently crying out at the top of his voice, "I've got it." If Maggert repeats on his work of yesterday, Hood and Rumler might just as well remain downtown at the hotel as far as their usefulness in the outfield is concerned. The score:

...Two Cups of SUGAR FREE

HOW often do you use sugar when you eat ripe fruit? Very seldom.

Then, if you could combine sufficient fruits with ordinary cereals the food would need very little sweetening.

This would save you, perhaps, a cup of sugar for every package of cereal eaten.

That is the reason Fruited Wheat and Fruited Oats are so economical. Practically all the natural fruit sugar of luscious fruits are retained under scientific manufacture.

Have you noticed how Fruited Cereals often hang together? This is the fruit sugar. It proves their superior quality. Besides, it is proof of nutritious food values. Natural sugars enter the circulation quicker than in any other form.

You cannot afford to overlook these wonderful, economical health foods—a combination of DATES, FIGS, RAISINS and other choice fruits with whole grains.

Don't forget, too, we supply most of the sugar—FREE.

FLASHES.

WILLARD MACK WEDS.

MARRIED FOURTH TIME; BRIDE IS FILM PLAYER.

By Grace Kingsley.

Reckon that day lost whose low descending sun brings no news of license bought and lady won. The sequence and meter of this may be bad, but you get the meaning. One has to sacrifice something if one is to get poetry. But to come right down to the serious business of press-agenting Eros, the very latest wedding is that of Willard Mack; almost equally well known as playwright and husband, to Barbara Castleton in New York. The ceremony took place very quietly about a fortnight ago, and an obliging player lately from New York brings me the news.

Mr. Mack has a way of picking beautiful and famous wives. I've forgotten who the first one was, but Marjorie Rambeau was the second, Pauline Frederick was the third and his current wife, unless something has gone wrong between them after all this whole long fortnight, is Barbara Castleton. Miss Castleton is well known in pictures.

Fortune Telling Note.

And, speaking of marriages, it does seem now that it is just possible Lew Cody may remarry his former wife, Dorothy Dalton, now in New York. The two are seen much together whenever Mr. Cody goes East. If Mr. Cody does step off once more with Miss Dalton, it ought to be lucky, because the third time is the charm, and it will be the third time he has married Miss Dalton. (Query: Did Mr. Cody see Miss Dalton in "Aphrodite?")

Speaking of Miss Dalton's matrimonial ventures, did you know that Frank Darien, formerly of the Morosco Theater here, was her first husband?

Bushman and Bayne Soon.

When Frank Egan produces Paul Dickey's latest play, "The Rainbow Bridge," at the Little Theater, he will have Francis X. Bushman and Beverley Bayne in the leading roles. Mr. Bushman and Miss Bayne are to arrive here from New York within a fortnight. The pair have just finished their tour in "The Master Thief."

Brer Gasselli Says—

Norman Kerry is on the water wagon. No, not compulsorily. Lots of his friends have cellars. He says, "Come in, the water's fine!" but Charlie Chaplin noticed he had his fingers crossed!

And, speaking of the water, Mildred Davis is patronizing the navy! Who is that handsome naval officer she's been dancing with at the Alex.?

Have You Mated?

Talking about the picture stars and the Alexandria, have you any mate in your home? No, no—not spouse! I mean, have you contracted the habit of drinking the new beverage known as mate, lately imported from South America, to which the picture stars are fast becoming addicts, it is said. The name is pronounced as if spelled "Mattie."

No, mate is not a strong drink. It is a sort of tea, but it's full of pep, and if you haven't mated, you don't know what a thrill you're missing.

Ollie Morosco Leaves.

Oliver Morosco has gone back to New York, but only on a quick business trip. He will return almost immediately to supervise the course of his three simultaneous productions, Maude Fulton's "The Humming Bird," at the Little Theater; "The Clean Daggers" at the Morosco, and Anna Nichols's "Seven Miles to Arden" at the Mason. Frank Egan has them in charge and will continue as coproducer when Morosco returns.

Richard Dix Bulletin.

Walking down Broadway, whom should I meet, looking as natural as a drink of water, but Richard Dix. He appeared awfully smart and New Yorky, but said that, despite one's superior sartorial opportunities in the East, he was tickled to death to be back home. He said he even had his same old room at the Abbey Hotel where he lived in the old Morosco days. The same two pictures are on the walls that he used to look at when he was saying over and over to himself: "Here is a cat, here is a cat," etc.

Since leaving us flat many months ago, Mr. Dix has played five leading roles in New York productions.

"And I went away to get out of studying!" exclaimed Dix. "The joke of it is, they've put on only four plays at the Morosco in all the time I was gone."

While Mr. Dix has the offer of the best role in his life, in a new Katherine Chisholm Cushing play to be produced in Gotham in October, he wants so much to stay in the West that he may accept one two big picture offers. There is also a likelihood he may appear in at least one Morosco production. Anyhow, he promises to let you know just what he intends to do through this column.

As to the state of Mr. Dix's heart, it's still free, girls. Or rather, it's free again. It seems there was a girl in New York—"such a girl!" sighs Dickie. "But she went and married a nice, clean old man with plenty of money."

Smart Florence Deshon.

It does seem as if anbody as pretty as Florence Deshon really doesn't need to have so many brains as she possesses. Her latest achievement is the writing of a play which is to be tried out at the Hollywood Community Theater some time this fall. The tentative title is "Always Tell a Lie."

De Haven to Produce.

Carter De Haven is to go into the picture-production business, following "Twin Beds." He has the making of at least one feature in view.

New Realart Star.

The rising of Realart stars above the horizon is beginning to look like Fourth of July fireworks. The latest to be announced is Justine Johnstone, formerly of the Follies, and labeled the most beautiful girl in America by various well-known authorities.

During the war Miss Johnstone became famous as the young lady of all the young ladies in the Follies to whom the American flag was most becoming. Her "Columbia" was a hit and really helped press-agent our country to the Broadway Johnnies.

Miss Johnstone's first starring feature will be "Blackbirds," adapted from the stage play by the late Henry James Smith. The new star is to make her first productions in the East, but is later to come to the western studio.

Mrs. Drew in New Role.

Mrs. Sidney Drew is to leave comedy flat and go in for dramatic productions, according to word just received. Also she is contemplating coming West to make these productions. At present she is at her camp in the Adirondacks, where, sheltered by big trees from the summer heat, she is adapting come well-known novels which she hopes to put on the screen later.

She'll Really Fly.

That Mary Miles Minter really intends to fly is evidenced by the fact that yesterday she went downtown and drove all the sport dealers crazy by looking distractingly cute in the aviation costumes she tried on. Miss Minter is scheduled to begin flying lessons the middle of this month. She's going on to the bitter end, even unto the tail spins, and win a pilot's license.

Stuart Paton's First.

When Stuart Paton begins work as the director of Universal's new star, Eva Novak, it will be on a picturization of Edgar Wallace's novel, "Kate Plus Ten." Paton lately completed "The Hope Diamond Mystery" for Kosmik, with Grace Darmond in the lead.

Laemmle Sails.

According to telegraphic advices yesterday at Universal City, Carl Laemmle, president, must even now be on the w.k. bounding main, headed toward London.

That Universal intends to invade the German field was made known when Laemmle announced he intended to establish several new branch offices in Russia, Germany and Austria. He will also look into the proposition of establishing a producing company in England or France.

Daily Meow.

When Julius Stern heard about Westminster Abbey, he at once advised Carl Laemmle to build a picture theater next door, using the abbey as an added attraction.

Louise Dresser Soon.

A joyous note just received from Louise Dresser, playing the Orpheum circuit, is to the effect that when she will reach this city, during the week of the 19th, she will once more have a chance to enjoy home life. Her husband, Jack Gardner, is playing in pictures here, dwelling in peace and happiness with his mother-in-law, Miss Dresser's mother, out in Glendale.

As Miss Dresser's tour ends locally, she expects to remain until November, when she will return to New York to begin rehearsals in a new play, which A. H. Woods has in preparation.

According to Miss Dresser, who has in charge the western management of the Nellie Revell benefit subscriptions, it appears that some of the biggest names in New York will appear on the program. All the prominent managers of the metropolis are lending their aid and a list of subscribers is to be published in New York. Her present address is the Orpheum Theater, San Francisco.

Bert Tann to Wed.

Announcement of another marriage in the film world, to take place in August, was made yesterday. It became known that Bert Tann, Douglas McLean's cameraman, is to wed Frances Mikaell, a well-known Los Angeles girl. The pair are to take a unique honeymoon journey, viz, a horseback trip to San Francisco and then to the Yosemite.

Robert Gordon's Plans.

Of course, nobody as good looking and clever as Robert Gordon will remain free from work very long. Now the prospects are that Gordon, whose contract with J. Stuart Blackton has just expired, will become a star under direction of Jerome Storm, who until recently made the Charles Ray pictures.

However, Mr. Storm is to direct a feminine star for one of the large producing organizations before taking the helm of his own company, but he intends eventually to organize the Jerome Storm Players.

Thought It Would Do.

Harry Carey tells this one regarding a recent trip he made to the Courthouse when some of Carey's Mexican cowpunchers applied for naturalization papers.

"Have you read the Declaration of Independence?" asked the judge.

"No, senor," the candidate answered.

"Have you read the Constitution of the United States?"

"No, senor."

"Then," asked the judge sternly, "what have you read?"

For a moment the Mexican hesitated, then he answered:

"I have de red shirt, senor, with buttons of pearl."

"DANGEROUS :: TO :: MEN?" :: YES!

RADIOS.

DANCING TO FORE.

NOTED TERPSICHORES TO VISIT NEXT SEASON.

By Edwin Schallert.

If anybody thinks that the vogue of dancing is passing why he'll have to reverse his cogitation in a hurry to keep up with the animated program planned for next season. Mlle. Terpsichore is apparently going to be a featured belle in theatrical circles. Let alone the activity in local dance productions, which are gaining constantly great importance in entertainment, and beside the promised new productions on vaudeville circuits, like Marion Morgan's oriental dance drama, some brilliant special stars are announced for visits.

Principal among the first magnitude planets, is Anna Pavlowa, always the supreme favorite, who is to tour under the auspices of Impressario Fortune Gallo. She will have her own company and orchestra, which has been appearing with her in London and elsewhere in England.

It is nearly four years since Pavlowa, last made a tour of the country, and she has visited South America and Europe in the interim. Among the ballets and divertisements she will present are her celebrated "Swan" dance; "The Dragon Fly," "The Bacchanale," Coppelia," "Puppen-fee," "Chopiniana," and others.

Prior to his departure for the East yesterday, Manager L. E. Behymer also made arrangements for the return of Maud Allen, who was seen here last season, and who is at present in South America enjoying a vogue. Among those who accompanied her on this tour was Alfred Wallenstein, the 'cellist, who has been achieving great favor with the public in the Latin-American countries.

Another distinctly original dance artist is the American Lada. She will be assisted by a trio, violinist, 'cellist and pianist. Her programs range from the picturesque folk dances of the European continent to brilliant modern bits of interpretation. Her draperies, costumes, lighting, etc., are all distinctive.

Adolf Bolm will furnish another novelty in his appearance with the Barrere Little Symphony. He is scheduled to visit the Coast in April

May Return to Stage.

Ruth Renick, who is appearing as leading woman in Douglas Fairbanks's "The Mollycoddle," at Grauman's Rialto, may play a leading role in one of the forthcoming Morosco productions. Miss Renick is at present working in the George Melford picture, "The Jucklins," at Famous Players-Lasky studio. She has received several promising picture offers lately, and will decide among these and the engagement proffered her by Frank Egan, on the completion of her present film work. Miss Renick was formerly a member of the stock company at the Majestic.

Betty Lays Down Law.

Betty Blythe is looking for a permanent lover. Sounds like this was going to mean a scandal in the Scardon family, doesn't it? But Miss Blythe's search is only concerned with the films. She wants a leading man who will be suitable to play opposite her. And he must be a veritable giant, according to specifications laid down by Miss Betty. Six feet three, in the height specified, and the applicant must be athletic in accordance with his footage. He must be of the rugged masculine type, and able to swim, ride horseback, drive a car, dance and look intelligent. With much emphasis on the last-named point, according to the exacting leading woman.

Prerelease Showing.

Announcement is made by the Kinema that there will be a prerelease showing of Anita Stewart's First National picture, "The Yellow Typhoon," beginning next Saturday. The story is based on Harold MacGrath's novel, and has a wide variety of settings, from Paris to Shanghai and back again.

It is announced with equal vigor by the theater that the feature will be accompanied by the first demonstration of Managing Director Jack Callicott's recently-perfected varicolored light-diffusing projection. By means of a specially-constructed lens, different hued lights will be thrown on the screen during the run of the feature. It is declared that the effect will be quite distinct from that used in Griffith's "Broken Blossoms," however, as there will be a greater diffusion of the light.

Farce Next on List.

The Owen Davis melodrama, "At 9:45," is to give place to a farce comedy, "No More Blondes," by Otto Harbach, Sunday night at the Majestic Theater.

Morey May Come West.

Harry Morey, the Vitagraph star, is expected soon to join his brethren in this locality. And there are so many of them that Tony Moreno is planning a reunion banquet for the stars who worked together in the early days at the Vitagraph studio in Brooklyn. Many of these people are no longer connected with the Smith company, but are prominent in other picture concerns.

On California Program.

Some special productions of importance are announced for early showing at the California Theater, among them Arnold Bennett's "Milestones," the picturization of Clyde Fitch's "The Truth," Katherine Burt's "The Branding Iron," Gouverneur Morris's "The Penalty," Eleanor Gates's "Cupid, the Cowpuncher," and Basil King's "Earthbound."

Blue Going East.

On completing his part in George Melford's production, "The Jucklins," Monte Blue, the Paramount leading man, will leave immediately for New York to play an important role in "The Kentuckians," which is to be directed by Charles Maigne.

In the many pictures that he has done for the Famous Players-Lasky, Mr. Blue has proved himself an exceptional artist of wholesome and buoyant quality and possessing an engaging smile.

Rouses Delicate Sentiment.

Emma Dunn declares that she received more letters about her work as Angie in Rachel Crothers's stage production of "Old Lady 31," which has been adapted for the screen and is to be shown at the Victory, than in all the rest of her career. Most of the letters were from middle-aged men, says Miss Dunn. The character of the gentle heroine of "Old Lady 31" appeals to the men, the star believes, because they see in it the qualities for which they love their own mothers.

"Leopard Skin Gown"—Woof!

Louise Glaum has designed a "Leopard Skin Evening Gown," to be used in her present production of Stewart Edward White's story, "The Leopard Woman."

Roberts in Special.

Theodore Roberts, veteran character actor, will be a member of the cast of Cecil De Mille's next special production, playing opposite Kathlyn Williams. It was announced yesterday at the Lasky studio. He and Miss Williams will support Ann Forrest and Forrest Stanley, both recent additions to the De Mille forces.

Theodore Roberts's work in a number of recent Cecil B. De Mille productions has been a contributing element to their success. He recently completed what is said to have been a notable screen characterization in Mr. De Mille's as yet unreleased special, "Something to Think About."

Says They Won't Close.

Rumors to the effect that the Wilber Opera Company would close for a week prior to presenting the "Follies of Los Angeles" were denied last night by C. W. Everett, manager of the organization. He states that the new bill will begin per schedule Monday night.

Mix Picture Showing.

Tom Mix's production, "The Terror," is continuing at the Symphony Theater. This feature will remain on view until Sunday, when it will make way for George Walsh's new photoplay, "The Dead Line." Through an error, advertisements in a local newspaper indicated that the bill had already been changed, which is not the case.

New Cutie Beautiful Pleases.

Helen Ferguson, who plays the leading feminine role in the picturization of "Burning Daylight" at the Alhambra, will be leading woman in Earle Williams's next Vitagraph feature, "The Romance Promoters." Miss Ferguson formerly played with Vitagraph in the East. At present she is finishing a picture opposite William Russell.

ETHEL NOT SUPERSTITIOUS.

Superstition has no claim upon Ethel Clayton, star of "The Ladder of Lies," coming to Clune's Broadway, and despite the warnings of fortune tellers, psychics and crystal seers, that she would never cross the Atlantic, she recently started on the first lap of an European journey. She plans to spend considerable time in London, where she will visit the scenes made immortal by her favorite author, Charles Dickens, and where she will also film an English picture.

"RIDERS OF DAWN" APPEALS.

"Riders of the Dawn" will be continued for a second week at Tally's Broadway. The photoplay is based on one of Zane Grey's novels and Benjamin B. Hampton as producer, and Jack Conway as director, have succeeded in making the picture as vivid as the novel. The burning of wheat fields and a warehouse containing the grain by "agitators," and the timely entrance of "The Riders," who not only save the valuable crop, but capture and punish the miscreants, are two of the tense situations.

INVITES REVENUE OFFICERS.

John B. Elliott, collector of the port, and John P. Carter, Collector of Internal Revenue, with their respective staffs of revenue officers are to be guests of honor at a special performance of "The Red Lane," a drama of smuggling activities, at the Superba this coming week. Frank Mayo, is the star and impersonates a young revenue officer who engages in a number of conflicts with border runners. Mayo was accorded every courtesy by the local revenue representatives at the time the picture was being made and he is returning the compliment by inviting them as his personal guests to see the photoplay.

"HOOT" GIBSON'S CONTRACT.

"Hoot" Gibson, who has been making two-reel western dramas for Universal, has just signed a new five-year contract with the same company, providing for his appearance in feature productions as well as in the shorter subjects. Gibson's smile, his dare-devilry and his dramatic ability have won him a large clientele among patrons of the virile photoplay.

SCHOOL BOARD HEARS ECHOES OF PAY WAR.

"LAST WORD" LETTER AND ONE FORMAL CONTRACT REFUSAL ARE READ AT MEETING.

An echo of the high school-teachers-school board war was heard yesterday at the Board of Education meeting when two letters were received, one from the teaching body and the other from an individual teacher.

The first letter, the text of which was printed in The Times Wednesday, was read to the board. It was the "last word" of the teachers and told the educational body that additional action may be expected in the future. The other letter was from Miss Elsie Whitman, a teacher at Jefferson High School and one of the leaders in the recent fight, which stated that rather than work under the present board and feel the way she does, she would resign. Her unsigned contract was returned with the letter. The resignation and turned over to the Teachers' and Schools' Committee for action.

The letters brought Member D. K. Edwards to his feet. He stated that he feels the letters do not express the feeling of the teaching body and that the majority of the teachers have only been following the leaders. He commended Miss Whitman on her action in resigning, stating that if she can not work in the schools in a satisfied and contented state of mind, it is better that she leave. He said that others might do the same as they can not do justice to the children and feel unkindly toward the teaching system. Mr. Edwards said the majority of the teachers are satisfied with the pay.

Melville Dozier, another member, stated that he believes that some effort should be made to heal the breach. He said that both sides should forget the differences and that an equitable adjustment should be reached as soon as is possible. Mr. Edwards replied that the board has entered into no public discussion of the subject and he commended it for such action.

As all the contracts have not yet been turned in to the board, it appeared yesterday that there may be some shortage in the teaching force. Many of the teachers have withheld their contracts without notifying the board as to their reason and this has led to the belief that others besides Miss Whitman have decided to quit. The board members say there will be enough teachers to run the schools, however.

IN FEAR OF DISEASE, MOTHER KILLS CHILD.

Fear that her 4-year-old baby girl would contract an incurable disease was uppermost in the mind of Mrs. Orphelia Anderson when she gave the child a dose of morphine and killed her, the woman said yesterday in Judge Reeve's court. She was committed to Patton asylum. At the same time Judge Reeve dismissed a charge of murder upon motion of Dep. Dist.-Atty. Dennison.

Asked by the court why she killed the child, the mother replied that the little girl crawled into her lap one night and repeatedly coughed, and she felt "God wanted me to send her to Him."

THANKS AND MILDLY REBUKES TERM JURY.

U. S. Dist. Judge Trippet yesterday dismissed the trial jury in his department for the term. The new body will be impaneled next week. In excusing them from service the court stated there had been no miscarriage of justice in their conclusions, but that in one case, which he did not indicate, the verdict returned was not the one that appealed to him.

W. G. Furrey, speaking for his colleagues, returned the thanks of the body to the court for the kindness and consideration extended to the trial jury during the January term.

FLEE FAR WITH STOLEN MOTOR.

Three Men Arrested in Oregon for Theft of Los Angeles Machine.

Eddie Nafius, 22, Sam Collins, 19, and Bob Lincoln, alias Ralph Brandt, 23, were arrested at Portland, Or., yesterday by the auto theft Bureau of that city and are being held for the Los Angeles authorities on charges of larceny of an automobile.

The members of the trio were caught by the policemen trying to sell a windshield and headlights from a machine.

It is charged that the car was stolen from L. Asher, 741 South Olive street, Los Angeles, and driven to Oak Grove, Or., where it was being torn to pieces and sold, the police say

AX IS TAKEN TO PORT CONTRACT.

Proposed Salt Lake Railway Pact Held Up by City.

Changes Ordered by Special Committee of Council.

Many Shoals Seen in Terms of Harbor Lands Deal.

As it stands now, the proposed contract between the city and the Salt Lake Railroad, by which the corporation would be given certain harbor lands in exchange for the slicing off of its Terminal Island waterfront to permit the widening of the main channel, is opposed by the special committee of the City Council to which the matter was referred.

Yesterday afternoon the committee instructed Harbor Engineer Griffin to prepare, in conjunction with the City Attorney, certain changes in and additions to the contract. When these alterations have been approved by the committee, they will be submitted to the Council with the recommendation that they be incorporated in the agreement.

"The committee," said Chairman Fleming," is a unit in being opposed to the contract as it now stands, and proposes changes to make the financial obligation of the city under the arrangement absolutely definite.

"For one thing, the contract should fix a definite maximum amount which the city is to spend for sheds, docks, etc., to be built for the Salt Lake road to replace those destroyed by the channel widening. As the members of the committee believe that these improvements to the harbor should be permanent, and made of concrete, their maximum cost should be fixed in the contract. Under Maj. Griffin's tentative cost estimates, the maximum for this type of construction will be about $1,700,000.

"The time limit fixed now in the contract is fifteen months for completion by the city of the first 1000 feet of new wharf, and two years for the remainder of the 3200 feet required. Maj. Griffin and the members of the committee believe that this time is entirely too short and that this provision may lead the city to defend costly lawsuits. Exempting the lands given to the Salt Lake from taxation is another matter which is not entirely satisfactory, and changes will probably be suggested. Finally, the contract should state definitely that the new docks, sheds, wharf and waterfront improvements shall be operated under the authority of the Harbor Commission.

TO PUSH PLAZA TERMINAL PLAN.

Business Men's Association Maps Vigorous Campaign.

Project Fought by Sinister Forces, Members State.

Want no Dodging on Matter of Grade Crossings.

That sinister forces are at work to defeat the Plaza Union Terminal project and give certain railroad interests in the community control of transportation in this city, is the declaration of members of the Business Men's Co-operative Association, which yesterday mapped out a vigorous campaign to be conducted in the interest of the Plaza terminal plan.

W. H. Workman, Jr., declares that all plans opposed to the plaza project have a tendency to dodge the issue of eliminating grade crossings, and leave no outlets to the east except First and Seventh streets. He insists that such a program would seriously menace property interests in Boyle Heights.

"Rather than close thoroughfares to the east, we should seek more outlets," says Mr. Workman. "The idea of constructing an elevated railway to accommodate any transportation system in the city is unthinkable. We don't want to clutter up the city with such things, and we must take a long look ahead and make preparations for the development of a great city."

The campaign plan as outlined at a meeting of the association calls for the establishment of a speakers' bureau and the carrying on of a brisk drive to crystallize public opinion in favor of the Plaza terminal proposition and against the idea of continuing the Alameda-street grade crossings.

It is the opinion of Mr. Workman that the streets of Los Angeles will become more and more congested as time goes on, if the State Railroad Commission's recommendations regarding a union terminal are rejected and the Pacific Electric and Southern Pacific railways are permitted to retain their passenger stations in their present locations. He points out that the Arcade Station now closes up the east end of Fifth street and that the Pacific Electric pours millions of passengers a year into a congested business district when they could be spread over a larger area by bringing them into the city via the Plaza.

DAILY TRADE TALK.

Imports Show a Great Increase; Bond Market Stronger; Beans.

BY CHAPIN HALD.

With imports into the United States aggregating $5,000,000,000 in the fiscal year just ended as against $1,894,000,000 in the year immediately preceding the war, a question naturally arises as to the class of materials in which this increase occurs. One answer could be stated in a single word, "luxuries," but happily another answer can be given in two words, of a more satisfactory character, "manufacturing materials," which aggregate over $2,000,000,000 in 1920 against $635,000,000 in 1914.

Luxuries do, however, says a statement by The National City Bank of New York, show tremendous increases in the fiscal year 1920 as compared with the fiscal year 1914, which ended just before the outbreak of the war. These increases are in many cases very striking. Take the single group, "diamonds and other precious stones." The total of the entire group for the year 1920 is in round terms, $120,000,000 against $34,000,000 in 1914. Diamonds alone total $95,000,000 as against $25,000,000 in 1914, pearls about $13,000,000 as against $4,000,000 in 1914.

Laces and embroideries are another item in which the 1920 total shows a tremendous gain over that of 1914, the grand total of laces and embroideries, including those of silk, fibers, and cotton, having aggregated in 1920 $120,000,000 against about $30,000,000 in 1914, the bulk of this increase occurring in cotton laces. Furs show even a greater gain, the total for 1920 being $130,000,000 against $14,000,000 in 1914.

Silk, no longer considered a luxury, shows astonishing gains both as to manufactures and raw silk, to be used by our own manufacturers. The total value of raw silk imported in the fiscal year 1920, is, in round terms, $450,000,000, silk manufactures, $100,000,000, and artificial silk $10,000,000, making $560,000,000 worth of raw and manufactured silks imported in the fiscal year 1920 against $135,000,000 worth imported in 1914. Of raw silk, the imports of 1920 were, as above indicated, $450,000,000 as against $100,000,000 in 1914. of silk manufactures, $100,0000,000 against $35,000,000 in 1914, and of artificial silk $10,000,000 against $4,000,000 in 1914.

Tobacco imports in all forms show for 1920 about $90,000,000 as against $40,000,000 in 1914. Goatskins, used chiefly in the manufacture of shoes and gloves, show for 1920 a total value of approximately $125,000,000 as against $22,000,000 in 1914; fruits and nuts $125,000,000 as against $33,000,000 in 1914; olive oil $15,000,000 against $3,000,000 in 1914. Our coffee, tea and cocoa bill for 1920 aggregates $430,000,000 in the countries of production against $150,000,000 in 1914.

Sugar, while not of course to be classed as a luxury, is another of the articles showing the enormous increase in the imports of 1920, with a total of about $750,000,000, including that brought from our own islands, against $150,000,000 in 1914.

While it is not claimed, says the bank's statement, that all of the above-named articles are properly included in the luxuries class, it is remarkable to what extent these big increases do occur in actual luxuries. On the other hand, the increase in manufacturing material also shows a tremendous gain, since the grand total of raw material for use in manufacturing shows for 1920 over $2,000,000,000 against $823,000,000 in 1914.

Of course, a considerable share of the above increase is due to the higher price of the articles enumerated, but in large part to actual increases in quantity.

MUNICIPAL BONDS IN JUNE.

Municipal bond sales in June reached a slightly larger total than in May, but show a marked reduction over the months of March and April of this year and June, 1919. During the last two months, says The Daily Bond Buyer of New York, the demand for bonds has fallen off to such an extent that hundreds of counties, cities and towns have failed in their efforts to float bonds aggregating many millions of dollars.

Accompanying this contraction in the volume of successful financing, there has been a severe decline in market values which have carried municipal bonds below the lowest price level reached in a generation. State and city bonds are now selling at prices which offer an income return of from 6 per cent to over 6 per cent, according to the character of the State or municipality, and, in the opinion of bond experts, they are now scraping bottom.

The following table, shows the sales of State and municipal bonds for June, and for the six months period ending June 30, for the last ten years:

Year.	June.	Six months.
1920	$ 47,778,008	$333,492,785
1919	52,063,125	208,372,092
1918	20,527,800	138,009,527

LATEST NEWS OF FOOD PRICES.

Food Stuff Tends Upward. Seven Out of Thirteen Staples Advance.

A survey of retail food prices in Los Angeles for the past month, as compared with the preceding month, shows that in a list of thirteen staple commodities, seven have advanced in price and six have remained unchanged. None of the commodities listed has shown a downward tendency. The sharpest advance during the past month has been made by butter, eggs and cheese. Butter went up 8 cents per pound, and cheese made an advance of 4 cents per pound. Sugar has advanced 1 cent per pound, bread is 1 cent per loaf higher, raisins have gone up 2 cents per pound, and ham has advanced 1 cent per pound. Lard, coffee, beans, bacon and flour remain unchanged.

AS SEEN BY OTHERS.

The danger of a nation-wide railroad strike which has been impending for some weeks seems to have been averted by the promise of the Railroad Labor Board that a decision on the demands of railroad employees for wage increases will be made on or before July 20. Whatever the award, it will be retroactive to May 1. There is in circulation a rumor that the decision of the board will be for an increase in wages and that the increases will be on a graduated scale averaging about 22 per cent. It is understood that the lowest increase will be a flat 20 per cent to the better paid classes of labor. The rate will increase as the class of labor decreases, according to this report, the greatest increase being about 27 per cent. The announcement of the Labor Board that it would soon make public its decision was in response to a telegram from President Wilson calling attention to the fact that the transportation situation was growing more difficult hourly, and urging a tentative or even partial settlement in the event no final conclusions had been reached—[Guaranty Trust Company.

BEANS AND ADVERTISING.

Beans and advertising go hand in hand. This has been a hard lesson for the growers to learn, but they finally have acquired it, and California beans, their merits as food, illustrated by mouth-watering dishes, will soon be as familiar to magazine readers throughout the country as Sun Kist oranges.

One of the chief reasons for

PRODUCE MARKET WEAK UNDER DULL BUYING.

CUCUMBERS, SUMMER SQUASH SLUMP; CANTALOUPES ARE WEAKER.

Fruits and vegetables were in dull demand on the local produce market yesterday, and the trend of the market was downward for many of the leading lines. Buying was limited, and the country shortage was absorbed slowly by the trade with the result that the farmers were forced to lower their prices toward the close in order to dispose of their offerings. Arrivals of cantaloupes from the Imperial Valley increased sharply yesterday, and prices dropped about 25 cents per crate for this commodity, best stock selling at $3 per crate, as compared with $3.25 per crate of the preceding day. Fancy grades were in dull demand at prices as low as $2.50 each for the fancy grades. Cucumbers and summer squash were very weak. Supplies of local cucumbers were heavy and the demand was limited, with the result that best stock was selling as low as 25 cents per lug, a decline of 10 cents per lug box. Poorer grades were bringing 25 cents per lug. Summer squash slumped from 60 to 80 cents per crate, the prices of the preceding day, to 25 and 35 cents per crate, a break of 45 cents per crate for good stock.

Peaches were slightly weaker, although the decline for this commodity was moderate, and the offerings were of generally better quality. String beans continued weak under heavy arrivals, selling at 4 cents per pound for the best grades, as compared with 7 cents per pound of the preceding day.

The only lines to show an upward trend during the session yesterday were apricots and strawberries, both of which were scarce and higher. Apricots made an advance of 20 cents per lug for the fancy stock, while strawberries, which were in good demand, moved up 25 cents per crate for all grades. In the shipping market prices remained firm and practically unchanged for all varieties of produce.

Pacific Gas & Electric Co.'s Dependable Earnings

The Pacific Gas and Electric Company has been authorized by the California Railroad Commission to increase its rates for electricity by the addition of a 15% surcharge, applying from July 10, 1920, to April 10, 1921. The emergency rate will produce additional revenue of $2,200,000, which will enable the company to meet expenses due to the water shortage without encroaching upon the net earnings needed for maintenance, interest and dividends.

Thus once again have the people of California pursued the policy written into the Constitution of the State in 1912, which has for its intent the encouraging of capital into an industry the expansion of which is vital to the prosperity of the State.

This is a practical application of the principle outlined by Edward O. Edgerton, President of the California Railroad Commission, when he said in a speech before the California Bankers' Association:

"It is my conception that the relation of the public utilities to the public may be stated in this way: The primary consideration—the fundamental consideration—in the operation of the public utility companies is that they be operated in the public interest.

"Properly considered, this means that adequate compensation must go to those who have invested in these utilities. * * *

Because it is of tremendous public interest that these great institutions be financially sound, and they cannot be financially sound except adequate revenues be produced to carry them forward."

And again in the same speech:

"When we realize, broadly speaking, that every human being in California almost hourly and daily relies upon some public utility service, it must be realized that these services must continue; that they cannot be liquidated out of existence and that therefore the investor can contemplate that he is investing in a business which of necessity is permanent. And it seems to me he may fairly contemplate that the security for his investment is greater than the security in any other private activity."

We have sold during the past year $5,000,000 Pacific Gas and Electric Company 6 per cent First Preferred Stock, and, with associates, $10,000,000 Pacific Gas and Electric Company 7 per cent Convertible Collateral Trust Gold Notes.

We are at all times ready to quote a market and supply information on any Pacific Gas and Electric Company securities.

Bond Market

BY C. F. SEIDEL,
Manager Bond Department, Los Angeles Trust and Savings Bank.

Prohibition and the bond market seem far apart. That the effects of the former on the latter should be felt does not seem possible at first glance. Nevertheless, this condition does exist today. In the first place the spread of prohibition is causing an ever increasing demand for sugar consumption. It would not be surprising if a production figure of considerably more than 20,000,000 tons will be necessary within a few years to inaugurate and maintain a free and full supply of sugar for all localities in the world such as obtained in pre-war times. The estimated world production of both cane and beet sugar for the crop year 1919-1920 is 12,261,000 tons.

* * * * * * * * *

In the second place, the increased demand for sugar, due largely to prohibition and to decreased production in war-torn European countries, is causing sugar producers to make every effort to increase the supply. To do this the producers must have additional working capital with which to extend their plants and acreage. To supply these funds many sugar producers, with room for growth, are issuing bonds, the proceeds going toward carrying out the needed growth. Thus it can be seen quite readily that the reaction from prohibition has a marked influence on the bond market, in so far as bonds issued by this type industrial organization is concerned, at least.

* * * * * * * * *

An illustration is the $8,000,000 issue of the Utah-Idaho Sugar Company's First Mortgage Serial 7 per cent Gold Bonds, a portion of which is available at the Bond Department of The Los Angeles Trust and Savings Bank, at prices, according to maturities, yielding approximately 7¾ per cent. The purpose of this issue is to provide additional working capital required by the growth of the company's business and to refund indebtedness of approximately $5,000,000 created by the purchase of plants at Brigham City and Delta, Utah, and White Hall, Mont., the latter now being moved to Honeyville, Utah.

* * * * * * * * *

The Utah-Idaho Sugar Co. is one of the largest producers of beet sugar in the United States, its present production of from 1,500,000 to 2,000,000 bags per annum representing about 10 per cent of the total beet sugar production of the country. The company owns and operates fifteen sugar factories in Utah, Idaho and Washington, each factory manufacturing and refining the best quality of granulated beet sugar. These plants have an aggregate cutting capacity of more than 11,000 tons of beets per day. The net profits of the Utah-Idaho Sugar Company, after liberal charges for maintenance and depreciation and after all Federal taxes, for the four years ending February 28, 1920, averaged $3,123,943 per annum.

* * * * * * * * *

"From published sugar statistics by Willet & Gray, recognized as the best authority on the subject, it is clear that the present, acute sugar shortage is due to the fact that there is not sugar enough in the world to supply the demand," states C. W. Nibley, General Manager of The Utah-Idaho Sugar Company, "and that this condition must of necessity continue in greater or less degree for some years to come until the world again reaches normal production. It is the intention of this company to increase its production aggressively and consistently but at all times conservatively and within its resources.

* * * * * * * * *

Here, then, is presented a bond investment opportunity. The present issue of bonds of the Utah-Idaho Sugar Company are secured by a closed first mortgage on all the land, buildings, machinery and equipment of the company, except farm lands which are exempted to facilitate transfer or lease to farmers. The mortgage covers the fifteen sugar factories mentioned above and as additional security the company covenants that during the life of these bonds it will maintain current assets as defined in the mortgage equal to at least 100 per cent of all liabilities, including the principal amount of this issue at the time outstanding. The company's financial statement of February 28 last, adjusted to include this issue of bonds, with proceeds applied to reduction of indebtedness then current shows a net working capital of $6,781,028 and total net assets of $32,776,424 applicable to this issue. The maximum interest requirement on the present issue is $560,000 per annum.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, July 8.—The stock market was fairly active and strong again today, although falling somewhat below yesterday's expansive operations, both in volume and variety of dealings. Movements of leaders were influenced to a greater degree by intermittent profit taking.

Pools dominated the trading, this being clearly demonstrated by the further prominence of selected stocks, as against the irregular trend of representative shares, but there were indications of renewed absorption of rails, especially the junior speculative issues. Sales amounted to 775,000 shares.

The success of the Swiss loan stimulated interest in the forthcoming offering by a banking syndicate of $60,000,000 of Armour & Co., ten-year, 7 per cent convertible notes, formal announcement of which was made after the close of the market.

There was again a visible dearth of time funds, but call money continued to ease on an enlarged supply. The opening quotation of 7 per cent, which held throughout the session, was the lowest in many weeks.

Changes in the foreign remittance market were nominal, the British rate easing with similar tendencies in the more important continental rates. Dealers reported a moderate inquiry for rubles (currency bills) presumably in consequence of the lifting of the trade embargo on soviet Russia. The Bank of England statement showed a substantial recovery of liability reserves.

Convertible railway issues and Cuba 5's, the latter at an advance of two points, featured the firm bond market, although Liberty issues were again irregular. Total sales, (par value) aggregated $11,775,000.

Old United States 4's rose 3-4 on call. Others unchanged.

UTAH-IDAHO SUGAR COMPANY
First Mortgage Serial 7% Gold Bonds

Dated July 1, 1920 — Due Serially July 1, 1921, to July 1, 1930, Inclusive

Coupon Bonds in denominations of $1000 and $500. Redeemable at 101 and accrued interest on any interest date upon 60 days' notice. Interest payable without deduction for Federal Income Taxes now or hereafter deductible at the source not in excess of 2 per cent.

The Utah-Idaho Sugar Company is one of the largest producers of beet sugar in the United States, its present production representing about 10% of the total beet sugar production of the country. The business has been in successful operation since 1891.

SECURITY

These bonds will be secured by closed first mortgage on all of the land, buildings, machinery and equipment of the Company (except farm lands, exempted to facilitate transfer or lease to farmers, if desired), subject only to a purchase money obligation of $600,000 on the factory at Delta, Utah.

The mortgage will cover fifteen sugar factories located in Utah, Idaho and Washington, all engaged in manufacturing and refining granulated beet sugar. These properties have been appraised by the Dyer Company, Engineers, as of June, 1920, at $20,642,000.

ASSETS AND EARNINGS

The Company's financial statement of February 28, 1920, as certified to by Ernst & Ernst, Certified Public Accountants, adjusted to include this issue, with proceeds applied to reduction of indebtedness then current, shows net working capital of $8,781,028 and total net assets of $22,756,434 applicable to this issue of $8,000,000 First Mortgage Bonds.

Net profits as audited by Ernst & Ernst, Certified Public Accountants, after liberal charges for maintenance and depreciation, and after all Federal taxes for the four years ending February 29, 1920, averaged $3,122,943 per annum. The maximum interest requirement on this issue is $560,000 per annum.

JULY COTTON PRICES MAKE SHARP DECLINE.

FAVORABLE WEATHER, HEAVY LIQUIDATION CAUSE 117 POINT BREAK.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, July 8.—The cotton market opened unusually active today with prices 16 to 18 points lower, except September, 25 to 30 month, which started 30 points higher. July was the weakest option. After the opening the trade remained active, with the market very irregular but on the whole showing a steadier undertone at a net decline of about 26 points.

Toward midday July became sensationally weak on liquidation breaking to 117 points below last night's closing. New-crop months on favorable weather and crop news, declined 47 to 60 points net lower.

The decline in new-crop months extended to 60 to 67 points but July held steady after the big midday break and prices showed rallies of several points later on covering.

SPOT COTTON.

NEW YORK, July 8.—The local market for spot cotton was quiet, down 50 points to 49.50 cents for middling upland; sales, nil.

Southern spot markets were: Galveston, 32.00 cents; New Orleans, 30.50 cents; Savannah, 40.75 cents; Augusta, 41 cents; Memphis, 40 cents; Houston, 38.75 cents; Little Rock, 40 cents.

Corn Drops to New Low Level Under Pressure.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, July 8.—A renewal of liquidation and bear pressure carried corn and oats prices off to new low levels on the present downturn. Support was lacking and numerous stop-loss orders were uncovered on the way down. Buying against bids was the main factor in checking the decline at the last. Closing trades were with net losses of 5¾@6¼ cents on corn, 1¼ cents on oats, 1¾@2 cents on rye and 5¾ cents on barley.

At the inside figures near-by deliveries of corn showed 18@26¾ cents under the high of June 21, while the December has dropped 19 cents from the outside price of June 30. The market was nearly demoralized early due to stop-loss order selling, very little trading being done in September at the opening above $1.38¾.

The July-September spread widened to 1¾ cents at the last and the cash gained slightly on the July, with sales of No. 2 yellow around 4 cents over the future.

Oats were weaker and lower with corn. Buying has been going on for the last three days and at the last the premium over September was 16¾ cents against 15¾ cents Thursday.

The range:

Corn—	Open.	High.	Low.	Close.

BARLEY TAKES SLUMP UNDER HEAVY SELLING

Barley opened firm on the local grain exchange yesterday, but the sentiment of the market was decidedly bearish, no support was offered to any of the instruments, and under pressure of heavy liquidations which developed toward the latter part of the call, prices slumped sharply, for all deliveries. Nearby shipments of barley were about $1 per ton weaker at the close, while the future months July, August and September deliveries dropped $1 per ton. Sales of all July were made at $2.77¾, all September at $2.78¾, and all August at $2.80. December barley broke $2 per ton, selling as low as $2.77¾, but reacted to a slightly stronger tone toward the close, and final sales were made as high as $3.85. A sale of ten-day barley was made at $2.78¾, and a car for twenty-days' shipment changed hands at $2.75. Sales of barley during the call amounted to 1600 tons.

Why Not Insure Your Investments?

You insure your home and your automobile against loss by fire. You insure against accident and sickness. You insure your life. Yet many people give slight consideration to a matter that is often more serious and far-reaching in its consequences than loss by fire or bodily injury. They fail to insure the validity of their investments—risking large sums of money, sometimes their all, on projects that may fail, and leave them "naught but grief and pain for promised joy."

Our Guaranteed First Mortgage Certificates are secured under California State Law by the tangible pledge of income-producing real estate—are backed by more than $15,000,000 in resources—principal and income of 6% guaranteed by this company, the largest of its kind outside of New York City. They are legal investments for Savings Banks. Issued in denominations of $100 to $200,000.

Earnings 5.83 Times the Annual Interest

The stability of well-secured convertible short-term notes has long made this form of investment a favorite with conservative investors. The five-year secured 7½% gold notes described below occupy a very favorable position both as regards assets and earnings, the audited earnings for 1919 being equal to 5.83 times the annual interest on these notes.

With such earnings, the 8% yield made possible by present conditions is decidedly unusual and the privilege of conversion into the preferred and common stock adds an opportunity for enhancement in the value of the principal as well.

Sinclair Consolidated Oil Corporation which has furnished us with the following information:

These $50,000,000 Secured Notes are the sole funded debt of the enterprise, excepting equipment notes and other items aggregating about $5,275,800, and against this there are total net assets of over $250,000,000, including the proceeds of the notes. The consolidated net earnings over a series of years make a consistent and convincing record, the audited statements showing an amount available for interest, depletion, etc., equal to 5.83 times the annual interest on these notes for the year 1919, and averaging over 5 times such interest for the past three years.

The notes have the benefit of a sinking fund provision at the rate of $2,000,000 every six months for the purchase of the notes at or below 100 and interest.

KRYPTOK
INVISIBLE BIFOCAL LENSES

How Often Do You Break Your Glasses?

Our replacement cards will save you approximately 75 per cent on new lenses. Let us explain this service to you.

I Found Them in "Kryptoks"

—while searching for near and far vision glasses without the disfiguring seam or hump which so pronouncedly indicates "old age"—I found the "eyes of youth."

—"Kryptoks" enable one to see both near and far without revealing any trace of the double vision lens; it being one solid, clear piece.

—if you use two pairs of glasses, or if you have the old-fashioned visible seam bifocals, it's time to change to the more youthful and useful "Kryptoks."

HUSBAND GIVES RIVAL FREEDOM.

Drops Charges Against Man Who Eloped With Wife.

Wire From New York Withdraws Larceny Accusation.

Pretty Woman Waits at Doors of Jail for Lover.

Released from custody on order of telegraphic advices received by Detective Captain Moffat from Police Commissioner Lahey of New York, Bernhard H. Krueger, a cosmetic manufacturer of New Rochelle, N. Y., who was arrested June 28 in an apartment at 743 South Burlington street in company with Mrs. Betty Ash, wife of Sidney Ash, a former business partner of Krueger's, walked from the City Jail yesterday arm in arm with the woman who said she left her husband because he was cruel and mistreated her.

"This is the beginning of a new life for both of us," Mrs. Ash exclaimed as she talked with the man against whom the charges of grand larceny, embezzlement and violation of the Mann Act had been dropped. "Mr. Krueger will return immediately to New York, and after he has straightened out his business affairs and this matter is all settled up we are going to have a home somewhere."

From the information contained in the telegraphic communications received by Capt. Moffat stating that the charges of grand larceny and embezzlement had been dropped, it was disclosed that the husband of Mrs. Ash had decided to withdraw prosecution of such charges against the man who came West with his wife and for whom his wife avows her love. No word was received at the detective department as to what action, if any, Mr. Ash will take when Krueger returns to New York.

The release of Krueger apparently ended an affair which involved the usual triangle out of which sprang the questions of home, children, romantic love, and, as Mrs. Ash declared shortly after her arrest with Krueger, a youthful misapprehension of the consequences of an early marriage. But according to the hopeful declarations of Mrs. Ash, made yesterday as she conversed with Krueger at the police station, it only marked the beginning.

"I am going to work in the cinema studios here at once," she said, "and as soon as possible I am going to have my children with me. When Mr. Krueger has arranged his affairs in the East we are going to forget the misfortunes of the past and take up our new life together in the proper way."

Mr. Krueger and Mrs. Ash talked freely of their love for each other during the time that Krueger was held at the City Jail, and asserted that Mr. Ash had mistreated his wife. Mr. Krueger now says that he will begin at once to arrange matters so that the future will bring happiness and security to Mrs. Ash.

When Krueger and Mrs. Ash were taken into custody, the man was charged at first with violation of the Mann Act, but when it was proven by the Federal authorities that Mrs. Ash had paid her own expenses on the trip west with Krueger, this charge was dropped.
